Legislative Journal.

Session 1943.

135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 27.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1943.

No. 54.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 5, 1943.

The Senate met at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time. The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D.D., offered the following prayer:

Unto Thee lift we up our eyes, O Thou who dwellest in the heavens, for from Thee cometh our life. As we look up may we have that faith that will make us venturesome and courageous, that will challenge us to heroic endeavor to overcome the forces of unrighteousness now so active in our world.

In the name of the Lord of Hosts we have set up our banners. In faith and courage may they be advanced until the insolent enemies of God and humanity be destroyed.

We believe that Thy kingdom in this world is to be established by God-conscious men and women. Make us conscious of Thy presence among us, guiding and strengthening our Nation through the zones of war to the place of victory over all our enemies.

We pray for President Roosevelt, Governor Martin and Lieutenant-Governor Bell. Put underneath them Thy everlasting arms, thus girding them for their tasks.

For the men and women in the service of their country, at home, and afar off on land and sea and in the air, we pray. Preserve their going-out and their coming-in from this time forth and even forevermore.

In the name of Christ, our Lord. Amen.

In the House of Representatives, March 9, 1943.

Whereas, The experience of every civilized country in the world as exemplified by the laws on their statute books governing the practice of pharmacy, including those on the statute books of all the states of our own country requires that a pharmacist shall have at least four years of professional training in a college of pharmacy to make him a safe person to be entrusted with the responsibility of handling the many dangerous drugs and medicines prescribed by physicians, such as strychnine, morphine, sulfanilamide, bichloride of mercury, serums and vaccines etc. and

Whereas, Members of the armed forces of the United States and especially those of them who are overseas at various fighting fronts, are entitled to receive, and it is the policy and desire of the people of the United States to furnish to them, the best treatment and most proficient services within the power and capacity of the people and especially to furnish proficient and skillful graduate pharmacists to safeguard the health and lives of its fighting men; and

Whereas, The compounding and dispensing of drugs and medicines is essentially a professional service requiring great skill, intimate knowledge and experience with drugs and medicines; and

HOUSE RESOLUTION TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I call from the table House Resolution No. 44, Printer's No. 375, entitled:

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO FURNISH TRANSPORTATION TO PHILIPPINES AFTER CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES TO MEN WHO FORMED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE

In the House of Representatives, March 17, 1943.

After the discovery of the Philippine Archipelago four hundred years ago by Ferdinand Magellan and until 1898 the islands were held and ruled by Spain.

Following the sinking of the Maine in February, 1898, the declaration of war against Spain and the taking of Manila by Admiral Dewey, the Spanish Government ceased therein and was succeeded by United States Military Rule.

In June, 1898, the Filipinos proclaimed their independence with Auginaldo as President, and within less than a year which was marked by increased hostility toward the United States, the Melolos Constitution was proclaimed declaring the Philippines a Republic.

On the night of February 4th, 1899, the inevitable conflict between the Americans and the Filipinos was precipitated and Auginaldo declared war on the United States resulting in a struggle which was not terminated until the capture of Auginaldo by General Frederick Funston, two years later.

Many of the American soldiers who participated in quelling the Philippine insurrection and bringing peace to the islands and their inhabitants and delivering them from starvation, are alive today and are deeply interested in the freedom of the natives and their full and complete independence, which under the terms of the Tydings-McDuffie Act is scheduled to occur in 1945.

The seizure of the islands by Japan will not interfere with the realization of that dream by the Filipinos, for before the day fixed in 1945 for their independence the Japs will have been driven from the Islands and the loyal natives will be better equipped than before to take their place among the free peoples of the world.

Nothing could better serve to mark this epochal event than to have the men who delivered those islands from slavery in 1899 return as Ambassadors of Good Will to the new nation for whose existence they will in great measure have been responsible; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to take such measures as may be necessary to furnish free transportation on United States warships or other vessels to and from the Philippines as soon after the cessation of present hostilities as is possible to all those men who formed a part of the expeditionary force that made possible the freedom of the Filipinos and the creation of the new Republic of the Philippines; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the President of the United States, the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States and move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. COX. I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, House Bill No. 929, appearing on page 12 of today's Calendar, is a bill which would set up a committee to study the problem of education. Is the gentleman from Delaware familiar with the bill?

Mr. HEYBURN. I recall that bill, Mr. President; yes, I am familiar with the bill.

Mr. COX. Will the gentleman from Delaware inform me whether the Republican caucus is going to support this bill?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will have to look up the bill and will consult with the gentleman from Allegheny later.

Mr. COX. The reason I asked that question, Mr. President, is because I am heartily in sympathy with what the bill is attempting to do. You will recall that early in the history of this legislative session I introduced a similar bill myself. As that bill has not moved from committee, I interrogated the gentleman from Delaware asking what he intended to do with that bill, and the gentleman from Delaware informed me the reason that bill stayed in committee was that under a new policy of the Senate such an investigation should be made by the Joint State Government Commission.

Now, Mr. President, I have in my hand a resolution which would call on the Joint State Government Commission to make this extensive study of our educational system in Pennsylvania. I do not want to introduce the resolution if the bill is going to pass.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I have no objection to the introduction of the resolution mentioned by the gentleman from Allegheny. However, I would suggest that it lay on the table in order that the members may read it. The resolution is probably rather lengthy from the looks of it from this distance.

Mr. COX. I hope that the gentleman from Delaware understands that I have no pride of authorship. The purpose of my resolution will be accomplished by House Bill No. 929. My reason for introducing this resolution is that if it is still the intent of the Republican side of the Senate to have this investigation made by the Joint State Government Commission, then I want to have the resolution on the table so that we can do that very thing.

This problem of after-the-war planning is such an important one that the educational system of Pennsylvania will play unquestionably a leading part in it.

We are in the closing days of the Senate and I would feel very badly if we left here without there being an investigation.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, it is not the intention to slight this very urgent matter and I suggest to the honorable member from Allegheny County that he discuss this matter with us.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, under the circumstances, as the gentleman from Delaware has suggested, I presume he will not care whether I introduce this resolution and have it lay on the table until we see what happens to House Bill No. 929.

Mr. HEYBURN. I have no objection.

RESOLUTIONS

RECOMMENDING THAT THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION CONDUCT AN INVESTIGATION OF THE SCHOOL SYSTEM OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Mr. COX offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows and laid on the table.

In the Senate, May 5, 1943.

Whereas, The importance of education to the future of the Commonwealth cannot be overestimated, nor can the need for careful and frequent studies of methods and facilities for the conduct of our public schools be overrated; and

Whereas, The Joint State Government Commission exists for the purpose of making investigations and studies and to gather information useful to the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate hereby recommends to the Joint State Government Commission that it conduct such studies and investigations as it shall deem proper pertaining to the education facilities and needs of the people of Pennsylvania, collate and digest the results of studies made by private research agencies which are willing to place the results of their research activities at the disposal of the General Assembly, secure all available information as to the present cost and functioning of the school system in this Commonwealth, determine what funds are required for the proper support of the public schools, recommend how the cost of such support should be divided between the Commonwealth and the school districts and the proper distribution of State funds among the several school districts having due regard for the abilities of the several school districts, to raise funds, determine the possibility and practicability of merging, dividing and reorganizing school districts, study existing distribution of higher educational institutions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, public and private, and the functions they perform together with the relation between their programs and the occupational and professional needs and trends within the Commonwealth, make recommendations for securing adequate provision for higher education as well as for education in the common schools, make recommendations regarding the discontinuance or alteration of functions and facilities of the State teachers colleges and the Cheyney Training School for Teachers, and make such other studies and compile such other material as may be deemed necessary for the information of the General Assembly in order to enable it to provide for the proper and equitable support of the educational facilities of the Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, during the past four months of our present legislative session we have been continuously quarreling over the merits and demerits of the respective Jaspán and Jones parole rippers. Out of that conflict of ideas came the apparent knowledge of the fact that members of this Legislature did not have the facts that they should have concerning the penal system of Pennsylvania.

Knowing that, I introduced a resolution setting up a commission to make a careful study of the whole system of penology in Pennsylvania. By interrogation of the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, I was told that the Joint State Government Commission, being the proper commission to make that study, my bill would die in committee.

That being the case I now ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution calling on the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of penology in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and I shall move its immediate adoption.

Mr. COX offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

RECOMMENDING THAT THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION MAKE AN INVESTIGATION OF THE PENNSYLVANIA PENAL SYSTEM

In the Senate, May 5, 1943.

Whereas, The welfare of the Commonwealth is dependent to a considerable extent upon the efficacy of its penal and correctional system, and it is important to this end that the administration of these functions be strengthened and placed upon the highest possible plane of achievement; and

Whereas, The Joint State Government Commission exists for the purpose of making investigations and studies and to gather information useful to the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate hereby recommends to the Joint State Government Commission that it make a careful, thorough and impartial study of the whole question of crime prevention, incarceration, reform, probation, parole and pardon, as administered in this Commonwealth and in other states and territories of the United States and in foreign countries and report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and its recommendations as to such changes, revisions and improvements as it may find to be necessary or desirable to correct any imperfections, insufficiencies and defects in the laws, and to correct any abuses and evils in any matter in connection with any phase of the general subject of such inquiry.

SUSPENSION OF RULE 39

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Mr. COLEMAN. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. HEYBURN. I have no objection to the resolution, excepting it does seem to me it is rather broad in that it directs the Joint State Government Commission to study parole as administered in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and other states—that is all right—but here is something else, the resolution directs that a study be made in the territories of the United States and in foreign countries. Mr. President, such an investigation would take about twenty-five or thirty years; if the wording “foreign countries” is not too serious, if the gentleman from Allegheny does not intend that seriously, all right, but if he does intend it seriously, I am afraid the Joint State Government Commission would not live long enough to complete the study.

Mr. COX. I might say, Mr. President, that the person who drew the resolution for me had literary ambitions and it certainly is not my intention that this investigation should go that far afield.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to amend the resolution to eliminate that feature.

Mr. COX. I do not believe it makes any difference, Mr. President, as the Joint State Government Commission certainly would use good discretion and judgment. However, Mr. President, I am willing to have those words stricken out.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would suggest that the following words be stricken from the resolution: “and in territories of the United States and in foreign countries.”

Mr. COX. Very well, Mr. President, I so amend the resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution as amended?

It was agreed to.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I cast my vote for this resolution with the hope, as I have expressed on previous occasions, that the Joint State Government Commission will be this time headed by a man who will be able to guide it and one who will be scientifically trained.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, it will not be necessary to go into long debate or discussion on the merits of this bill, inasmuch as last night we passed a companion bill dealing with the hours of work for female labor. The conditions of this bill are similar except in one respect which may be of interest to the Senate.

For the first time, Mr. President, and I say this advisedly, for the very first time in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we legalize working on the Sabbath Day. I just wonder how many men here who have opposed legislation dealing with recreation for the soldiers, dealing with recreation for the war workers on the Sabbath Day, allowing them some time for enjoyment and recreation from their strenuous duties in war plants and also offering soldiers home on leaves some place to go—you opposed that legislation on the strength of the argument we would be opening up the Sabbath Day for commercial interests, and yet for the very first time in the history of Pennsylvania we now legalize work of all kinds or any kind that would be deemed of interest to the war effort, directly or indirectly, to be performed on the Sabbath Day.

I just want to say that the other arguments I made on the companion bill also hold true with respect to this bill. I ask my colleagues to vote "no".

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WOODRING offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 2, page 2, lines 23 and 24 by striking out the words, "immediately upon its final enactment" and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "on the first Tuesday of May, 1945."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WOODRING. I ask for a roll call on the amendments but before the question is put I would like to be heard on them.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Northampton will proceed.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, this amendment is offered to House Bill No. 722, which is one of four bills, all pertaining to the same subject matter; the subject matter is, in homely words, the four ripper bills dealing with the office of Auditor General.

I am not here to protect any individual, I am not here to attempt to justify the acts of any individual, but I do want to point out to the members of this Senate that a certain individual was elected in 1940 by the vote of the people of Pennsylvania to the office of Auditor General.

In that office he was entitled to certain compensation, he was entitled to certain emoluments and he was laden with certain responsibilities. The Constitution of Pennsylvania prohibits the reduction of any salary or emolument of any person holding public office during the term for which he was elected.

I do not suggest to the members of this Senate that this bill will, therefore, be unconstitutional, but I point out as a matter of precedence that our forefathers, our framers of the constitution, men like Senators Woodward and Henry I. Wilson, who were here long before I was here, have subscribed time and time again to the thought that when the people speak through the right of franchise and when they elect a man to office, he is entitled to that office and all that office holds forth for him; he is entitled to share and carry the responsibilities of that office during the term for which he was elected.

Mr. President, I say that we are doing the wrong thing if we do not vote in favor of this amendment because I say that by so doing we are putting our judgment, the judgment of fifty people, above the judgments and the experience and the expressions of all the people of Pennsylvania.

I say further, Mr. President and members of the Senate, that to put through these four bills in the form that they are in now, including the amendment just adopted this evening, is to put the financial position of the state of Pennsylvania in a very serious condition. I say that for this reason: the office of the Auditor General presently has about six hundred employees spending their entire time in investigations and appraisal of decedents' estates. Those people are trained people, they are experts in their field, they know their work by reason of learning and by reason of experience.

We are in a war today and you men know, better than I, that it is not easy to go out and secure the services of six hundred trained and trustworthy individuals. If those jobs are going to be grabbed out from under the control of the Auditor General at this time and placed over in the Department of Revenue, it is going to mean, first of all, the almost impossible task of replacing them, because any man who is worth his salt today already has a position that is far better than these positions which you will dangle before them, and secondly, even if you can secure the proper type of men to take the places of present employees, it will be a matter of six months or more before those men are learned in their positions and before they can go out and do an honest job, and what will that mean to the fiscal condition of the state of Pennsylvania? It will mean, instead of bringing in delinquent taxes, as were brought in last year, in volumes never before known in the state of Pennsylvania, instead of doing that, instead of keeping up on current inheritance taxes, our state is going to pile up more and more delinquency in the collection of inheritance taxes and we are going to have less and less money in our treasury, which is so badly needed when we are talking about increasing salaries of teachers and all the other necessary expenses of our state government.

For those reasons, Mr. President and members of the Senate, and for those reasons alone—not for the protection of the Auditor General, not for the protection of Clair Ross; I tell you frankly and publicly he does not mean a thing to me, I know him less well than I know most of you on the other side; he has never done anything for me and I am not going to ask him to do anything for me, but for the state of Pennsylvania, for the fiscal position of the state of Pennsylvania, I say you are doing a very unfair thing and a very unwise thing, if you do not postpone the effective date of these four bills until 1945, and I suggest that you all vote for this amendment.

Mr. HALUSKA. I find no fault with my Republican colleagues supporting their program—that is as it should be—but this bill is no part of their program. When I think of this bill I can not help but go back to my boyhood days, when I was a young tot, seven or eight years of age, on a baseball team, because there I was taught to give and take and true sportsmanship developed within me throughout my young boyhood days, and I know many of the men in this Senate played the same game and they were taught the same as I was.

I always found in a baseball game, when a young boy, we would take sides, we would play to win, we would play sincerely and truly and squarely. As I grew older and the game became more competitive, I engaged in better baseball games than before, then I found we had umpires, men who decided right from wrong, and before every ball game the umpires and the opposing managers would meet on the baseball diamond and set forth the rules of the ball game and, Mr. President, never throughout my career from my boyhood days have I known of any umpire changing any decision during the course of a ball game. True enough oft times we found we were wrong, we made new rules at every game, but I say again never has it been known to me in amateur baseball or professional baseball that an umpire changed a rule during the course of a ball game.

In the same sense we find here today a bill changing the rules throughout the middle of the ball game. The people of this Commonwealth went to the polls and elected Governor Martin as their Governor, they saw fit to elect him, they believed in him and they hope he shall carry out his program.

In the same manner, Mr. President, when the citizens went to the polls and elected Clair Ross as their Auditor General, they believed in him and hoped that he would carry out his program.

Now I find this administration, much to my surprise and amazement, trying to change the rules in the middle of the game. I can not see how any man with any sporting blood whatsoever can stand here and change the rules now in his own behalf.

If you men believe that those jobs are now held in the wrong department, change them—I will go along with you; I find no fault with changing them—if you believe they should be in the Department of Revenue, let us place them there, but let us make it effective after the election of the next Auditor General, who might be a Democrat or who might be a Republican, I do not care; if you think it best that the Department of Revenue should have those jobs, place them in that department, but I say if you have any sportsmanship you will not change the ball game throughout its course.

I concur in the amendment offered by my colleague from Northumberland, Senator Woodring, and I trust that now you shall display your sportsmanship and vote for this amendment, making that bill effective in 1945, at the beginning of the term of the next Auditor General.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, the hour is late and I shall not prolong the debate, but I think the best way to answer the arguments advanced by the gentleman on the other side is to read a few words from the Legislative Journal, Session of 1935, page 421, an address by His Excellency, the ex-governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, George H. Earle, and here is one of his recommendations:

"The transfer of the collection of mercantile licenses and inheritance taxes from the Auditor General's office to the Department of Revenue, which will result in increased revenue amounting to $3,950,000."

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, in those days we had ambitious men in the Democratic Party and the Democratic Party was in control of the Senate and the House. We had just been in power for a short time, and this same proposition came up, but the good sense of all Democrats in the House and the Senate turned it down.

Here we have today in Pennsylvania a party that has probably 25,000 on the pay roll—there must be about 25,000 people on the pay roll in Pennsylvania controlled by Republicans. This same party has apportioned every legislative district in Pennsylvania, every state senatorial district and every congressional district. The Republican Party has been in power in Pennsylvania most all the time for the last fifty years; this Republican Party controls most of the municipalities in this state, with all their local employes. I have always been taught to be fair and I believe it pays to be fair between individuals and between parties.

I have heard our present Governor say several times that he believes in two strong parties in this state, but I know that greed and lust for power is a dangerous thing, and I am very proud that my party, when we had a chance to do the very same thing, had the good grace and the fairness not to do it.

I ask that these bills, or this bill in particular, go over in order until tomorrow.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I shall reserve my arguments on this bill until it comes up for third reading, as I know it will.

However, I just want to remind the Majority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Delaware, that at the time about which he read concerning the Earle Administration, he was a member of the Democratic caucus and joined with myself and my colleagues in defeating the proposal of the then Governor, George H. Earle. He was opposed to it then as a Democratic member of the Senate, as he sat with us in caucus, which was all right, because we hope some day he will be back again with us, because we like him.

Mr. President, I just wanted to remind the Senate that when he was a Democrat, although the Governor asked for this very same thing, he voted against the then Governor's wishes.

Mr. WOODRING. I am going to be very brief in answer to the statements made by my good friend from Delaware, Senator Heyburn. I hope that his remarks about what happened in 1935—if that was the year, under the then Governor Earle—I hope those remarks were not directed in connection with my remarks when I presented an amendment to this bill.

I presented the amendment seriously and in a non-partisan manner. I do not know whether the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, happens to read the Pittsburgh Press or not, if he does, he might have read, during the course of this session that a writer of political articles, when he tried to tie labels on Democratic Senators, Mr. Guffey and Mr. Lawrence and some other alleged political leaders in the state, he labeled me as a "stray Democrat" and I have endeavored to live up to that reputation throughout this session, I have endeavored to consider legislation for the good of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and all of its people, and it was solely in that spirit that I presented this amendment.

I do not care whether the Republicans take these jobs or not. The Republicans have the power in the state, and if they want those jobs, under our present system I say they are entitled to them, but I merely try to point out, in a very fair manner, that it is an unwise thing to do at this time, and that is the only purpose and the only context of my amendment to postpone the effective date of this bill until the term of the present Auditor General comes to an end. I hope that by that time we will have perhaps won this war or perhaps be a little bit closer to a victorious closing of it, and that the employment situation will be eased up so that in the Department of Revenue they will be able to go out and secure proper types of persons to take over these very important positions.

Mr. President, if the majority side is not ready to vote favorably on my amendment tonight, I would like to join in the request of my collegues from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, that these bills go over in order until tomorrow, in order to give the members of the majority side opportunity to think about this phase of these very important bills.

Mr. HEYBURN. While it does not mean anything, Mr. President, but to keep the record straight, in 1935 I was down on the farm milking cows, I was not a member of the Senate. The gentleman from Westmoreland was pretty badly mixed up.

While it means nothing, I was elected to the Senate on a fusion ticket. I ran on a fusion ticket, with the backing of the Royal Oaks and eight or ten other parties, but that means nothing; a man can be called worse things than a Democrat—there are plenty of good Democrats—but in order to keep the record straight, Mr. President, I was not in the Legislature in 1935.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WOODRING and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I desire to offer the following amendments.

Mr. HEYBURN. I have no objection to the gentleman from Northampton offering amendments, Mr. President, but the bill has gone over in order, according to the motion of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

Mr. DENT. That is not correct, Mr. President.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I understood the gentleman from Westmoreland made a motion that the bill go over in its order, after adoption of the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland did not offer such a motion; that was his thought, but it did not take the form of a motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will ask my colleague from Northampton to withdraw his amendment, and then move that the bill go over in order; the amendments the gentleman from Northampton desires to offer can still be offered tomorrow while the bill is on second reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 768 on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 816, entitled:

An Act providing temporary increases in the salaries of certain members of the teaching and supervisory staffs of school districts authorizing additional appropriations and temporary loans therefor requiring the Commonwealth to reimburse school districts for the full amount of such increases authorizing the Superintendent of Public Instruction to withhold payments due from the Commonwealth in certain cases; authorizing additional temporary increases; and validating such increases heretofore made

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, one of the most famous and most tumultuous characters in the history of our country was Thaddeus Stevens, who represented Lancaster County in the Congress of the United States. He was a man known for his bitter hatred of the South. During the war between the states, he fought shoulder to shoulder with Abraham Lincoln to win that war and then, when the war was over and Lincoln had died, he bitterly opposed the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, in his reconstruction program. So bitter was his hatred for the South that he attempted to force out of office the President of the United States.

Although he is known in American history as a great fighter, yet I think his greatest claim to fame lies in the fact that in Pennsylvania he is known as the great defender of the public school system of Pennsylvania.

There have been many great battles fought in the legislative halls in Harrisburg. In 1834, after a great fight, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania adopted a public school system. The next year that system was attacked. From Berks County came a representative of the Pennsylvania Dutchmen who was pledged in the fight of that year against the public school system to vote to rip it out.

Thaddeus Stevens believed in the public school system of Pennsylvania and with his great oratory, with his dynamic leadership, he fought to preserve it. After Thaddeus Stevens spoke in the legislature in his most gifted manner, the roll was called and the Pennsylvania Dutchman from Berks County, who had been elected to kill public school instruction in Pennsylvania, was so overcome by the oratory of Thaddeus Stevens that when the roll was called he said, "I vote to keep the schools."

Tonight there is no necessity for oratory to preserve the public school system of Pennsylvania. Every member of this legislature realizes its value. This Senate, realizing that in the future there must be progressive changes, went on record as agreeing to a careful, thorough investigation of our public school system, with the intent that the public school system of Pennsylvania would play a great part in the reconstruction period following this world war.

I rise tonight as a representative of a great group of school teachers of Pennsylvania, to present to this Senate an amendment to the bill which we are considering, a bill which has for its purpose the giving of financial assistance to the public school teachers of Pennsylvania.

I am proud that I have the honor of representing the teachers of Pennsylvania, and I know that you join with me in my small tribute to them, I know that in the life of every man in this room, during the period in which he went through public school, there was one or more great persons who made a positive and lasting contribution to our lives.

I understand through the newspapers and through the kindness of my friend from Lancaster, Senator Homsher, in informing me of the outcome of a conference which has been held between a committee of the House and a committee of the Senate, and the Governor, that there is complete accord in what the legislative program should be in relation to this bill.

Inasmuch as we live in a democratic and a representative government, it is the right of the people of our Commonwealth, or any group interested, to have presented to its legislative body its ideas of what should be done on specific occasions and so, Mr. President, I at this time offer to the Senate the following amendments.

Before they are read, for the sake of the record, I would like to explain them briefly. School teachers of Pennsylvania have been extremely unselfish during the past four months. I have in my desk many letters in which members of that profession have said, "if you can not help us, help the people at the bottom of the financial ladder; they need help, we need help, too, but if there must be a choice you give the people the help who are at the smaller end of the bracket."

My suggestions in these amendments are that, for this biennium, we give to those persons in the salary bracket of $1,000 to $1,499, the sum of $600; that we give to the people in the bracket between $1,500 and $1,999, the sum of $500; that we give to those persons in the salary bracket between $2,000 and $2,499, the sum of $400; that we give to those teachers in the bracket between $2,500 and $3,499, the sum of $300; and that we give to those in the bracket between $3,500 and $3,999, the sum of $200.

My suggested amendments differ financially from the amendments which are to be introduced tonight, in that I have attempted to give more to those receiving the smallest pay. My amendments also differ in that we have added another bracket of $500 to those whom we would help, and if these amendments were adopted, this Commonwealth would have given assistance to almost every school teacher in Pennsylvania.

Out of fairness to the Senate and to the Legislature, I urge you to adopt these amendments.

If, however, you feel that your plan is better, then I urge you to adopt that plan. Four months have elapsed since we began our studies, another school year is coming to a close before the end of this year, and under the amendments proposed by the Committee on Education the school teachers of Pennsylvania will not receive their assistance until September of this year.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. COX offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 4, line 3 by striking out the words "but not", found at the end of the line; Amend Section 1, page 4, by striking out the lines 4 to 29 inclusive; Amend Section 1, page 5, by striking out the lines 1 to 9 inclusive and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "but not in excess of one thousand four hundred ninety-nine dollars ($1499) the amount of the increase for each school year shall be three hundred dollars ($300) To those who at the end of said school year received salaries at the rate of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1500) and more but not in excess of one thousand nine hundred ninety-nine dollars ($1999) the amount of the increase for each school year shall be two hundred fifty dollars ($250) To those who at the end of said school year received salaries at the rate of two thousand dollars ($2000) and more but not in excess of two thousand four hundred ninety-nine dollars ($2499) the amount of the increase for each school year shall be two hundred dollars ($200) To those who at the end of said school year received salaries at the rate of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) and more but not in excess of three thousand four hundred ninety-nine dollars ($3499) the amount of the increase for each school year shall be one hundred fifty dollars ($150) To those who at the end of said school year received salaries at the rate of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3500) and more but not in excess of three thousand nine hundred ninety-nine ($3999) the amount of the increase for each school year shall be one hundred dollars ($100)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I object to adoption of the amendments and I would like to state my reasons.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lancaster may proceed.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, a committee from the House, together with a committee from the Senate, have been working for many weeks in the preparation of a bill to increase salaries of school teachers. After a great deal of work and many weeks of delay, in order to arrive at a proper amount which could be met by budgetary figures, House Bill No. 816 was passed by the House, it came to the Senate, and it was discovered that much money was not available and could not be placed in the budget to meet the payments required by that bill. The bill was then amended in the Senate so that it would have required approximately $23,300,000 to carry out the provisions of House Bill No. 816 as amended by the Senate.

There was a great deal of dissatisfaction with that amount. Finally a committee from the Senate and a committee from the House met in consultation, together with representatives of the budget office and other state officials, and arrived at a schedule of payments of salaries to teachers which would come within budgetary limits. That amount has been arrived at and the amount has been placed in the general appropriation bill, which was reported out on the floor of the Senate this afternoon.

In order to carry out the provisions of that appropriation it is necessary to have the bill especially worded so that it will be constitutional and can carry into effect and pay to the teachers the amount of money which we want to give them.

I also want to say, Mr. President, that the salary schedule as included in the amendments proposed by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, are the same as in this schedule of amendments, which I propose to offer as an amendment.

I, therefore, would like to request the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, to withdraw his amendments and if the gentleman from Allegheny does not comply with that request, then I must ask the members of the Senate to vote down the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, in order that we may obtain a constitutional bill and one that will come within budgetary provisions and make available the required sum of money during the biennium to pay the teachers the amounts included in the amendments I am about to offer.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I do not withdraw my amendments and ask for a roll call on their adoption.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COX and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Gourley,	McCreesh,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Woodring,
Dent,	Holland,	McQuiddy,

NAYS—27

Becker,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Wade,
Bowers,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Walker,
Carr,	Heyburn,	Snowden,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Stevenson,	Wilson, H. I.,
Cridler,	Jones,	Tallman,	Wilson, T. B.,
Crowe,	Kephart,	Thomas,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Tyler,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, lines 23 to 28 both inclusive, by striking out the words "for each" in line 23, all of lines 24 to 28, both inclusive; Amend Sec. 1, page 4, lines 1 to 29 both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines; Amend Sec. 1, page 5, lines 1 to 9 both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "for each of the two school terms one thousand nine hundred forty-three—one thousand nine hundred forty-four (1943-1944) and one thousand nine hundred forty-four—one thousand nine hundred forty-five (1944-1945): To members of the teaching and supervisory staffs who at the end of the school term, one thousand nine hundred forty-one—one thousand nine hundred forty-two (1941-1942), received salaries at the rate of one thousand dollars ($1,000) and more, but not in excess of one thousand ninety-nine dollars ($1,099), the amount of the increase for each school term shall be three hundred dollars ($300). To those who at the end of said school term received salaries at the rate of one thousand one hundred dollars ($1,100) and more, but not in excess of one thousand four hundred ninety-nine dollars ($1,499), the amount of the increase for each school term shall be two hundred fifty dollars ($250). To those who at the end of said school term received salaries at the rate of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) and more, but not in excess of one thousand nine hundred ninety-nine dollars ($1,999), the amount of the increase for each school term shall be two hundred dollars ($200). To those who at the end of said school term received salaries at the rate of two thousand dollars ($2,000) and more, but not in excess of two thousand nine hundred ninety-nine dollars ($2,999), the amount of the increase for each school term shall be one hundred fifty dollars ($150). To those who at the end of said school term received salaries at the rate of three thousand dollars ($3,000) and more, but not in excess of three thousand four hundred ninety-nine dollars ($3,499).

the amount of the increase for each school term shall be one hundred dollars ($100);"

Amend Sec. 1, page 5, line 12, by striking out the word "year" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "term"; Amend Sec. 1, page 6, line 20, by striking out the word "year" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "term"; Amend Sec. 1, page 6, line 24, by striking out the word "years" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "terms."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I do not know what my colleagues on this side of the Senate are going to do with regard to these amendments offered by the gentleman from Lancaster, but I personally intend to vote "no," because they do not do what the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Homsher, said they would do; they do not include the the same schedule of increases which were included in the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox.

In addition, Mr. President, in section 3, I believe, there is what seems to me to be a joker in the amendments offered by the gentleman from Lancaster, which proposes that the teachers shall receive such proportionate amount as can be paid out of appropriations made for that purpose—using my own language—such proportionate share of increase as is made available under the budget of the Commonwealth.

It seems to me that, first of all, the increase which is suggested by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Cox, is a more fair and more equalized increase and therefore should have been accepted in preference to the amendments introduced by the gentleman from Lancaster, and, secondly, in the presence of that proportionate increase which is promised to them instead of the actual increase under the terms of the schedule, I personally shall vote "no."

Mr. COX. Mr. President, in a discussion of my own amendments, I stated if my amendments were defeated I would urge my colleagues to vote for the amendments offered by the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Homsher. I have had an opportunity to make a careful study of them, and I am satisfied, since we can come to no other conclusion, that we should adopt these amendments and then the entire controversy will be decided once and for all, and the teachers of this Commonwealth will at least know what the Legislature is going to do for them.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read and agreed to.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 3, page 7, line 10, by inserting after the word "act" the following: "or the proportionate amount thereof that can be paid out of appropriations made for that purpose for the fiscal biennium one thousand nine hundred forty-three—one thousand nine hundred forty-five (1943-1945)"; Amend Sec. 3, page 8, line 10, by striking out the word "year" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "term"; Amend Sec. 3, page 8, line 13, by striking out the word "year" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "term"; Amend Sec. 3, page 8, line 25, by striking out the word "supervising" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "supervisory"; Amend bill, page 8, by inserting after line 29, the following: "Section 4. If it shall appear to the Superintendent of Public Instruction that the moneys appropriated for the fiscal biennium one thousand nine hundred forty-three—one thousand nine hundred forty-five (1943-1945) are insufficient to reimburse the school districts in full for all increases required to be made hereunder, he shall notify each board of school directors (or board of public education) as to the amount of such deficiency. Such notification shall be given on or before the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred forty-four. The board of school directors (or board of public education) of each school district may thereupon reduce the increases provided for by this act to an extent necessary to meet the reduction in the reimbursement by the Commonwealth. All such reductions shall be uniform on the same percentage basis."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 4, page 9, line 1, by striking out the figure "4" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure: "5."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fifth section was read.

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to offer the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 6, (Sec. 9) page 9, by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" at the end of line 20, the following: "No aged person shall be required in connection with the receipt of assistance for the aged under this clause to give any bond note or other obligation in any amount to secure the repayment of moneys received as assistance and any such bond note or other obligation heretofore given is hereby cancelled and shall hereafter be of no effect. In any case where any such bond note or other obligation has heretofore been entered of record or judgment has been entered thereon such judgment or record shall be satisfied by the Department of Justice."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the Journal of the House shows that this bill passed finally on April 26, with these amendments that I offer inserted in the bill, by a vote of 200 to 0. Apparently the Republican controlled House was very much in favor of including those amendments. Unfortunately this Senate saw fit to take out that portion of the bill. I am now endeavoring to restore the bill and place it back into its original position. I am doing that because, after reading this bill, I am somewhat impressed with other amendments that have been offered to the so-called Van Allsburg bill. Permit me to read a short paragraph of other amendments on page 3 of this bill: "It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that the purpose of this act is to promote the welfare and happiness of all the people of the Commonwealth by providing public assistance to all of its needy and distressed, that assistance shall be administered promptly and humanely with due regard for the preservation of family life and without discrimination on account of race, religion or political affiliation, and that assistance shall be administered in such a way and manner as to encourage self respect, self-dependency and the desire to be a good citizen and useful to society."

Mr. President, I have heard a great deal during this session concerning helping certain industries, helping school teachers, raising the wages of employes, helping everyone, but I have heard nothing up to this moment of any one speaking of helping the aged, of helping the poor. I am satisfied that others in this body have the same thought, because in the early days of this session, my good friend and colleague from Clearfield County, Senator Letzler, informed me that he had amendments to offer to the present act along those same lines. The same day my colleague from Luzerne, Mr. Jones, informed me that he also had amendments to offer along the same lines to the same act, so I know I do not stand alone in my proposal and my thought.

I am trying to restore this bill by placing in it my amendments wherein any aged person who is so unfortunate that he or she must apply for old age assistance or a pension shall receive the same without assigning his or her worldly goods.

We have a present system whereby an aged person or relief recipient who applies for relief, before that relief might be given to that party in distress, he is called upon to sign a $2,000 bond, he is called upon to assign his property, he is called upon to assign his life insurance policies, which he might have kept paid up for twenty-five or thirty years, all in excess of $500.

What are we trying to do? We speak of self respect, we speak of society, we speak of our citizens, we speak of good Americans, and today because an old man or woman finds that he or she is too old to ever again go back to the mines or mills, he is a broken down coal miner or mill worker, he has only one recourse, to apply for old age assistance, and we find before he gets any relief whatsoever he must first be interrogated and investigated and then if they find that he has property—he has the property only because he has been conservative, because he has been a builder, a community builder, a civic leader, taking part in social affairs and taking part in civic affairs but now through no fault of his own, he finds that no longer can industry employ him, so he applies for relief—that is a dreadful thought, dreadful to any man that must come down to apply for relief. Certainly it is not a pleasure to ask for aid, but because, Mr. President, that man or that woman owns a little property we say to him, "all right now, Mr. Doe, you must sign on the dotted line and you must assign your property to this Commonwealth for any aid it might give you."

What do we find on the other hand? We find the public drone, the man who cared not for society, the man who cared not for civic affairs or social affairs, the man who had taken no part in civic affairs, spending his time possibly in bar rooms and pool rooms—he has nothing and they ask him for nothing.

Is it fair, I ask you gentlemen, is it fair to say to a man, "because you have a home, you assign the home for aid," and on the other hand you say to the public drone, "you have done nothing, you have nothing and we want nothing in return?"

Gentlemen, I can not see how any of you can sit here and vote against these amendments. This is not a party measure, certainly, it is a humane measure, and I say if you are human at all, each and every one of us ought to stand up and vote for these amendments to give that man who has been industrious the same opportunity as the man who has not been industrious.

I trust that my colleagues will vote for these amendments. I could stand here for hours, and possibly I will tomorrow, when this bill will be on third reading, and point out to you specific cases. I will give you one now. A man in my own community was called upon by an investigator and he applied for old age assistance; he was seventy-two years of age. He had one daughter and his one ambition was to leave that daughter that little home he had, worth possibly a thousand dollars. That daughter worked in the five and dime store for years and helped to pay for that home. Unfortunately she became involved in an accident, she became crippled, no longer could she work, and that father had one ambition, when he died to leave that daughter that little homestead. The Department of Public Assistance came into that home and said, "We can not help you, we can not give you one cent of job relief unless you assign this property to us."

That old man came to me as a representative of the people, and I told him I could not help him. What did he do? He did not assign his home. The first thing he did was to sell all the carpets in his home, hoping that someday something might happen, and then in a few months he sold his boiler and put up a little stove in a little room, for heat, hoping again that something might happen. Finally he died and the daughter had to apply for relief and she was compelled to assign this home.

We have no pensions in this Commonwealth, we only have a public assistance act.

Permit me to read to you a small paragraph appearing in the Harrisburg Telegraph of today, to show you what other states are doing along these lines. We speak of being first and I recall back in the 1941-1939 sessions we spoke so much about following other states; we were passing certain bills, because our sister states had passed similar bills. This article in the newspaper is entitled "California Approves Liberal Pension Bill," and it is dated Sacramento, California, May 5, and is as follows:

"Only formalities bar the way to $50 a month pensions to 150,000 or more of California's needy aged. The State Senate last night passed 34 to 0 a liberalization measure offering a $10 pension increase which the assembly previously had approved.

"Only expected concurrence in senate amendments remains before the bill goes to Governor Warren for his signature. His approval was regarded by legislators as certain."

California today has on its statute books a pension law paying her citizens, paying her men and women, the ones who never again will have the opportunity of going back to private industry, a pension of fifty dollars a month, at the age of sixty, mind you.

What do we have? We have in this Commonwealth a mere, meagre subsistence of thirty dollars a month. Now I am told it may be increased to forty dollars a month, but under certain conditions, and some of those conditions I have mentioned, the assigning of property, the assigning of life insurance to this Commonwealth before the needy can be helped.

All those poor souls think of is to be spared the pangs of hunger and that dreadful thought of having to go over the hill to the poor house, and if you gentlemen were placed in the same position, if you gentlemen had loved ones and had relatives who might be affected, I know you would change your minds, so, gentlemen, think of the needy.

If we ever had an opportunity to help those aged persons we have it now and all that I am asking from you is to vote for my amendments, it will cost you nothing, it does not cost the Commonwealth one red cent, to permit the aged to receive the aid without cost to you.

I find no provisions in any public assistance act where such a bill or such an act is permissible, but I am told that the state board has set forth their own rules and they have taken upon themselves this accursed system of making those persons sign these bonds.

I am certain that a number of my colleagues on my right will uphold me. I say I believe the gentleman from Clearfield, Senator Letzler, and the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Jones, will, because they have the same thought and they also have bills in committee now dealing with the same subject.

So, I want you to consider sincerely these amendments and vote for them and then we will be in a position to vote for this bill. Therefore, I ask for a roll call, Mr. President, on my amendments.

Mr. HOMSHER. In reply to the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, I do not believe it necessary to go into any other details on this subject, but I think it is necessary to give some pertinent facts as to why it is necessary not to eliminate the reimbursement agreement.

Reimbursement for assistance from property in Pennsylvania has been required in Pennsylvania for more than a century under common law. Under the support law of 1937, it is also required that the Commonwealth secure reimbursement where possible.

Administrative measures to effect reimbursement were declared mandatory in an opinion rendered to the Department of Public Assistance by former Attorney General Guy K. Bard, in January 1939. In this opinion the use of a bond was approved in the following words:

"It seems to be highly important that the Department of Public Assistance should expedite collections from relief recipients by requiring them to furnish bonds containing a clause for the confession of judgment, thereby eliminating the necessity of bringing suit against relief recipients."

In March 1939, former Attorney General Claude T. Reno concurred in the findings of the entire opinion of his predecessor, Mr. Bard.

At the present time the department has on record about 85,000 judgments, potentially worth $24,000,000, acquired by means of reimbursement agreements acknowledging liability of property under the law. Since January 1940, the Department has collected nearly $3,000,000, and payments and collections have been accelerated by about $300,000 a year.

If we eliminate this reimbursement agreement it is going to mean an added expense to recipients of old age assistance, because the Commonwealth will be compelled to bring suit against those people, and in order to do so it is going to pile up court costs against them in excess of half a million dollars.

Mr. President, we can not eliminate this agreement unless the public assistance law is amended to eliminate that requirement.

In a large number of cases judgments recorded by other creditors, subsequent to the recording of the Commonwealth's judgments on record at present, would take priority over judgments recorded by the Commonwealth through suit and thus the Commonwealth would be prevented from realizing anything from many of its claims.

Since the law is mandatory as to securing reimbursements, the Department of Public Assistance must pursue the course defined by the Attorney General, and I can not see how we can eliminate that provision and I, therefore, request that the amendments as now offered by the gentleman from Cambria be defeated.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, as I understood the gentleman from Lancaster, he stated that it was mandatory to have this bond provision inserted in the law.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, it is mandatory under an opinion of the Attorney General.

Mr. HALUSKA. I ask the gentleman from Lancaster whether that is a part of the law?

Mr. HOMSHER. The public assistance law states that the Department of Public Assistance requires reimbursement.

Mr. HALUSKA. Can the gentleman from Lancaster point out to me any portion of the public assistance law where that wording is inserted?

Mr. HOMSHER. I do not have a copy of the law here, but it is a part of the law, and in accordance with that provision of the public assistance act the Attorney General advised the department to that effect.

Mr. HALUSKA. For the information of the gentleman from Lancaster I wish to state that there is no provision in the public assistance law that directly or indirectly requires the bond provision.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, the law does not say a bond must be taken, but the Attorney General has advised the Department of Public Assistance that they must require a bond in order to carry out the provisions of the act.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not care what the Attorney General says. We make the laws and all the Attorney General can do is to follow procedure and there is no place in the law, I am told, requiring a bond, and no one man has any right whatsoever to try to define the law or define words not contained in the law.

I further wish to state, Mr. President, that other states of the nation a long time ago have eliminated the bond provision, so in order to obtain relief from the Federal Government it can not be mandatory, because if it were, other states could not take advantage of the federal grant, so again I say there is no provision in the law and I must take an opposite view and say the gentleman from Lancaster is entirely wrong in quoting the law in this manner.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, the gentleman on the Democratic side has said that I have introduced a bill in effect providing for release of judgment and doing away with the necessity of giving bonds or judgments when rendering relief to the aged.

As a matter of fact, the Senator from Cambria has correctly stated that the law does not provide for the giving of security in order to obtain this relief, but it has been the practice of the department to require from an aged person security in order to insure repayment of money to the department that has advanced that relief.

My bill offered to the Senate for action provided that the homestead property in which they live should not be subject to lien or subject to judgment, and I did that because I think the aged people who are given relief in order that they may exist are entitled to be free of any mental strain or worry with relation to the money necessary for them to live and survive. That would apply only to the homestead.

It is my experience that throughout the state of Pennsylvania there are many old people receiving relief who have no property, and from them no bond is required, and the proportion of those receiving relief without property is far in excess of those who have a small home to live in, and yet the old man or old lady who has but a small home to live in must virtually turn that home over to the Department of Public Assistance in order to obtain a bare existence.

From the Good Book we learn that there are three great virtues, faith, hope and charity, but the greatest of those three is charity, and I say the Republican party would do well if it would put a sprinkling of charity in legislation, in the hundreds of good bills that have been passed by the Republican party during this session.

I have had an experience myself, where an old lady ninety-nine years of age owned a small home, she signed such a bond and then relief was withdrawn from her because a sick sister came to reside with her, and when that relief was withdrawn, a widowed daughter, working in a restaurant, was required to support that old lady and she paid the taxes and she buried that old lady, but the state claimed that property by virtue of the bond on the money that had been advanced a few years before.

Again, Mr. President, I have attended sales in Luzerne County where properties were sold, and in excess of one hundred properties were purchased in by the Department of Public Assistance because aged people had received this assistance, which was not sufficient to support them and pay taxes upon that property and being unable to pay it, they had to allow that property to be sold at sale or taken over and they lost it.

I know that there are many hundreds of such people throughout this Commonwealth who are aged and helpless and would like this assistance and are in need of it, but they fear losing that little home which they spent the days of their lives to acquire by the greatest industry and economy, and fearful that they may lose it, they refuse to assign their property because they say they will be selling or turning over to the department their property.

I believe indeed that it would be a small thing for the state to be charitable in this respect and treat those with their little homes just the same as the many times greater number who have no assets to secure the state from loss.

I say to you that upon the death of this aged person the Commonwealth has access to that property for collection of the claim owed to it or if that person attempts to convey that property then the state is entitled to the amount owed. That would be sufficient protection and it would relieve the worries and distress of the old people and would prevent them from losing their homes.

When a bank loans money to an individual and takes a note for four or five thousand dollars, required in that case, it gives them the money, but when the Department of Public Assistance takes a $4,000 judgment, note or bond, they do not give them the money, they give them a small allowance over a period of time, every month perhaps or every two weeks, as the case may be, until the accumulation becomes five hundred or a thousand dollars, and yet all the while this bond stands against that property, the individual is unable to borrow money, unable to sell that home, they are stuck, and they have to rely on the charity of the public welfare department exclusively and entirely, and if that fails they are lost.

Therefore, Mr. President, I believe the proper treatment of this subject is to eliminate the lien from the homestead of the aged people. Thank you.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am certainly gratified to learn the sentiments of the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Jones, as revealed in his statement just made. The only thing I can say is "Amen."

I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the gentleman from Delaware heard the remarks just made by the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Jones, and in that connection I wish to state that I would be willing to change my proposed amendment to agree with the thought of the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Jones, to make personal property subject to reimbursement, but the homestead in which the party resides shall be exempted from any such lien.

Mr. President, my interrogation is: would the gentleman from Delaware be satisfied to permit this bill to go over in its order until I can confer with my colleague from Luzerne county and prepare an amendment in line with the thoughts of the gentleman from Luzerne, to be submitted tomorrow, relieving only the homestead and everything else will be subject to lien? To do that it will be necessary that the bill go over in order.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, to begin with, I do not know whether these gentlemen understand this bond provision, because no one loses their homes as I understand it.

After a person has received relief for a number of years and then dies, the state does collect that money which the state has advanced to the individual as relief during his or her life time.

As this bill is a matter of caucus action, and we are trying to wind up this session of the legislature, I am sorry I can not agree to have this bill go over in order as the bill now is on second reading.

Mr. DENT. I am not going to give any reasons for or against this particular amendment, except to say that it is not at all necessary to change the amendments proposed by the gentleman from Cambria, which he is trying to insert in this bill, to carry out the thoughts and expressions of the gentleman from Luzerne because, as he so ably stated on the floor, the only bond required for liens is against the property or the homestead of the individual receiving relief.

Under the present law, without making any change whatsoever, without doing anything to the act except putting in the amendment introduced by the gentleman from Cambria, the Department of Public Assistance can at any time that it sees fit collect from an individual receiving aid or assistance from the state, by going about it under the same procedure they have all along in the case of a person who does not have real property, so there is no difference of opinion between the two gentlemen in so far as requirements of the law are concerned.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I surrender to the request that the bill go over in order.

Mr. DENT. I did not know I was going to be cut off—I just want to assure the gentleman I was not going to talk at length—but I just wanted to say that the bill does not need any further definition than that which the gentleman from Cambria has stated. We can vote on it now as far as I am concerned.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WALKER. I rise on a parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will proceed.

Mr. WALKER. I would like to know the status of the amendments presented by the gentleman from Cambria.

The PRESIDENT. There has been no action on the amendments.

Mr. WALKER. Am I to understand, then, Mr. President, that the bill will go over in somewhat of a hybrid condition; where are the amendments?

The PRESIDENT. The amendments introduced by the gentleman from Lancaster were adopted.

Mr. WALKER. That is correct, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Following adoption of amendments offered by the gentleman from Lancaster, amendments were then offered by the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska—no action being taken thereon and, therefore, the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Cambria are still before the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. I understood the bill is to go over in order, Mr. President, and I am inquiring as to the status of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Cambria.

The PRESIDENT. There has been no action on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Cambria and the fore, they are still before the Senate.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I might suggest that the bill go over in order and that the amendments proposed by the gentleman from Cambria lay on the table. Or perhaps the gentleman from Cambria would prefer to withdraw his amendments.

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. HALUSKA. In order to avoid complicating matters, Mr. President, more than they are, I shall now withdraw the amendments I have offered with the understanding that House Bill No. 1071 shall go over in order.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1071, on second reading, go over in its order.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 50

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 50, Printer's No. 651.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 31, 1943.

Memorializing the Congress of the United States to amend the Constitution of the United States, relative to taxes on incomes, gifts and inheritances; and providing limitations on taxes so levied; and repealing the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Whereas, There is now pending in the current session of the Congress of the United States, proposed legislation to repeal the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and to amend the Constitution of the United States relative to taxes on incomes, gifts and inheritances; and providing for a limitation of taxes thereon; and

Whereas, The people of the State of Pennsylvania are greatly interested in the passage of such legislation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania; the Senate concurring, That the Congress of the United States be memorialized as follows: That application be and it is hereby made to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the purpose of proposing the following article as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States:

Article

Sec. 1. The sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration: Provided, That in no case shall the maximum rate of tax exceed twenty-five per centum.

Sec. 3. The maximum rate of any tax, duty, or excise which Congress may lay and collect with respect to the devolution or transfer of property, or any interest therein, upon or in contemplation of death or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after death or by way of gift, shall in no case exceed twenty-five per centum.

Sec. 4. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of December following the ratification of this article. Nothing contained in this article shall effect the power of the United States after said date to collect any tax on incomes for any period ending on or prior to said thirty-first day of December laid in accordance with the terms of any law then in effect.

Sec. 5. Section 3 shall take effect at midnight on the last day of the sixth month following the ratification of this article. Nothing contained in this article shall effect the power of the United States to collect any tax on any devolution or transfer occurring prior to the taking effect of Section 3 laid in accordance with the terms of any law then in effect.

Be it further resolved, That the Congress of the United States be, and it hereby is, requested to provide, as the mode of ratification, that said amendment shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the Constitution of the United States, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states;

Be it further resolved, That the Secretary of State be, and he hereby is, directed to send a duly certified copy of this resolution to the Senate of the United States and one to the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States, and to each Pennsylvania member thereof.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TROUT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the purpose of this resolution, if the purpose were eventually carried out would limit the tax on any personal income in the United States to a top of twenty-five per cent thereof?

Mr. TROUT. The rate of taxation, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. And that would be graduated up to twenty-five per cent?

Mr. TROUT. That is right.

Mr. COHEN. Is the gentleman able to tell me, Mr. Speaker, what the tax on corporations would be?

Mr. TROUT. Approximately fifty-seven per cent, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. On a graduated scale?

Mr. TROUT. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, if I were not so convinced that the gentleman from Lancaster was sincere in everything he did here I would consider this resolution as a bit of nonsense, but I know that he is sincere and believes in what he is doing, therefore, Mr. Speaker, I shall have to seriously debate the purpose of this resolution.

We have two general philosophies of taxation in America. One is soak the poor and the other is let every man pay according to his ability and earnings. Presently we are operating under great stress, and tax rates on all persons are onerous. As a matter of fact both major political parties in Congress are now showing their devotion to the cause of the common man and the cause of the little fellow, and they are both protesting that the tax on the little fellow is very heavy, so that they are both stumbling over their own feet in quite a hurry to see how much of their tax burden might be forgiven so that they might properly contribute to the national fund for the war. One party wants to forgive a portion of the taxes and the other wants to forgive them all. It seems quite peculiar that the gentleman on the other side, whose party evidently wants to forgive all of the taxes for 1942 should now take the position somewhat in opposition to the trend of the national party, if they mean it, to forgive all taxes in 1942 by wanting to have a law passed in the United States that is contrary to what his party in Congress is now advocating.

This leads me to one conclusion, that it is expedient politically for the party nationally to want to ease the little man of his burden, and on the other hand for the same party in Pennsylvania to lessen the burden on the wealthier taxpayers and getting away from the sounder philosophy of seeing that the tax burden is equally distributed in accordance with ability to pay. Then it seems to me that there can only be one answer. I understand a similar resolution has been passed in other states of the Union. It is like so many of these so-called grass-roots movements in the nation, these so-called wildfires of public acclaim and opinion, small when they start out in some backward state like Texas or Louisiana and then come to the mid Western states, and then the strength of them having established solid policies they ask the more intelligent voters and the more progressive states to follow suit. I for one shall not. I think the pattern is pretty clear. If we once place a limit on national taxes there is only one other way that we will be able to get the money to pay the normal expense plus the national debt that is now being created. There will be only one way, and that is to sock the poor, and to that principle I cannot subscribe, I never have subscribed and I never shall subscribe.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, unless we feel that we are such geniuses that we can look ahead twenty years and suggest a possible tax program for the nation, I would suggest that we vote down this resolution.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, this resolution memorializes the Congress of the United States to amend the Constitution of the United States, relative to taxes on incomes, gifts and inheritances; and providing limitations on taxes so levied; and repealing the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

It is the further purpose of this resolution to present the proposed XXII Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, limiting the taxing powers of the Federal Government to a 25 per cent maximum on Income, Gift and Estate taxes as a post war permanent tax program, to thoughtful citizens for their consideration, comments and cooperation.

To win the World War is the fervent prayer of every true American. A war won and peace lost is a permanent and disastrous defeat. No more effective contribution can be made to winning the post war peace than using our taxing powers for revenue purposes only.

As we stand at the crossroads of our progress we must recognize that primary responsibility rests with those who have authority in business and in government in the direction of our destiny and the preservation of American ideals. They are the first line of defense.

The XVI Amendment bestowed upon Congress the uncontrolled and unlimited powers of taxation and gave to Congress the warrant permitting it to take every dollar of income of every citizen and give nothing in return. The proposed XXII Amendment recalls that power and restores limited government as a reserved right to the people and removes totalitarian power from Congress.

The Constitution as originally adopted, Article I, Section 9, and its operation prohibited Congress from taking from one State and giving to another State or taking from one person and giving to another person. We quote:

"No capitation or direct tax shall be laid unless the proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken."

It was to remove this provision from the Constitution that the XVI Amendment was adopted. The XVI Amendment authorized Congress to take from one State and give to another State or from one person or group and give to another at its option without giving any service or compensation in return to the taxpayer. The XVI Amendment turned government over to men and made of the Constitution a scrap of paper so far as property rights are concerned. By its adoption, we passed in principle from a democracy to a totalitarian government by giving our rules unlimited power over the purse.

As we stand at the crossroads of our progress, we must recognize that primary responsibility rests with those who have authority in business and in government in the direction of our destiny and in the preservation of American ideals. They are the first line of defense.

Under its operation, the XXII Amendment will:

1. Restore Sovereignty to the States and the people.
2. Prohibit the use of the taxing system for socialistic objectives.
3. Limit the power of Congress over the purse.
4. Curb Bureaucracy and halt Federal invasion of human and property rights.
5. Keep private and corporate enterprise solvent.
6. Restore the values taxed out of property by confiscatory levies now approximately in amount the present public debt.
7. Recognize the law of diminishing returns.
8. By lowering rates it will increase the volume and velocity of business, thereby increasing revenue to the Federal Government.
9. During a combat war, be subject to change by Congress.
10. Safeguard the working man's job.

The organization behind the XXII Amendment is the State Legislatures. They have more power than any organization in any government anywhere. It has been said that the hand of man never penned a document that had in it more power than that given to State Legislature in the Constitution of the United States, as a jury, they are well qualified; no member of a State Legislature can be on the Federal payroll or on relief and the profit motive is removed as an influence in their deliberations.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, made it appear as though this movement was offspring of some over-enthusiasts in some states where men form conclusions without proper consideration. I want to say that the record of the adoption of this resolution to date is this: Iowa, passed both houses unanimously; Mississippi, unanimous in the Senate and four dissenting votes in the House; Massachusetts, unanimous in the Senate and a large majority in the House; Wyoming, a large majority in both houses; Maine—and that is still in the United States—unanimous in the House; one dissenting vote in the Senate; Rhode Island, a large majority in both houses; Michigan, unanimous in both houses; Delaware, unanimous in both houses; Arkansas, unanimous in both houses; Indiana, unanimous in the Senate and six dissenting votes in the House. That is a total of ten states.

The states in which it passed one House: Texas, passed the House resolution last Friday, seventy-nine to twenty-one. Scheduled for action this coming week. The New York Senate, unanimous, no action in the House.

Introduced and awaiting action: Alabama, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Wisconsin.

In the process of introduction in the state legislatures now in session: Missouri, Florida, New Jersey, Ohio and California.

We received a telegram this morning from Illinois, which states that the Executive Committee of the House of Representatives at Springfield unanimously adopted the resolution and recommended its passage.

I ask the Members of the House not to look at this as a partisan issue, because it is not, as illustrated by the number of states that have passed the resolution, most of them unanimously, regardless of party. I want further to say, gentlemen, that in the Congress today, Democrats and Republicans alike are in favor of this amendment.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I find now to my utter amazement that we in Pennsylvania are unreconstructed rebels; we are now asked to memorialize Congress to repeal the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, when we never ratified it. Pennsylvania is still a rebel, Pennsylvania never ratified it. We were consistent in that. Back in the years when this sixteenth amendment was sent out to be ratified, Pennsylvania was controlled by the party that is now the majority party, and their position was consistent then. They didn't want an income tax to relieve the burden on the little fellow. Today, since it has been foisted upon them by most of the states of the Union they would like to break the shackles and get out from under. The issue is quite clear, it is not a partisan issue. I think all our little fellows in the House here ought to resent the idea of a lot of big fellows from somewhere else telling them that they should adopt a tax program that would fall most heavily on our shoulders to the benefit of those persons who do not think too much about us.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, it is always most interesting to me to hear a Philadelphia lawyer apply to himself the term "little man" and associate himself with the term "little man". He points to Pennsylvania and says that we are unreconstructed rebels, but I say to the Minority Floor Leader that we Pennsylvanians who trace our ancestry proudly in this state, have always been able partially to interpret the shape of things to come, and when this sixteenth amendment was sent around for ratification to the various state legislatures the guiding spirits of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania saw the dangers that lay in the amendment that gave Congress unlimited powers over the strings of the purse.

Disraeli, one of the greatest prime ministers England ever had said "Give me the purse and I will govern". While here in America by the grace of God and the strength of his good right arm the American voter is still the monarch. We bend the knee to no man or no group of men, and the pages of history are inescapable.

From the beginning of time, over five thousand years of recorded history, one hundred seventy-one republics and democracies have risen. In every case where they fell they fell through oppression and excessive taxes. The tax burden became such that the people could no longer bear the burden, and we here in America cannot escape the pages of history as it has been recorded.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, has said that Texas and Louisiana, two backward states, were fore-runners in this movement. That seems like a severe indictment of the gentleman's own party, for those states have been in control of his own party for the majority of their time. Thomas Jefferson, to whom we have pointed with a great deal of pride and to whom we owe much as the propounder of one of the most sacred documents in history had this to say about the Constitution:

In questions of power, let no more be said of confidence in man but bind him down from mischief by chains of the Constitution.

The sixteenth amendment doesn't bind them to anything; it gives them unlimited power to tax, and the power to tax is the power to destroy, as has been proven in many, many other instances of world history.

Patrick Henry who has been alluded to many times often spoke of the instability of man and the fact that while he himself might be personally honest, that he many times politically became dishonest in carrying out the whims and wishes of a majority.

The sixteenth amendment was only the long forerunner of many attempts to give Congress constitutional power to tax. Chief Justice Fuller in 1894, in declaring the income tax law unconstitutional had this to say:

In a free government almost all other rights would become utterly worthless if the government possessed an uncontrollable power over the purse strings of every citizen. One of the fundamental objects of every good government is to restrain the exercise of power of direct taxation to extraordinary emergencies and to prevent an attack upon accumulated properties by mere force of numbers.

There is, you know, such a thing as the law of diminishing returns.

Andrew Mellon whom we all recognize as one of the greatest Secretaries of the Treasury that the United States ever had, who, like Alexander Hamilton proved definitely that you could reduce taxes and increase revenues, recognized the law of diminishing returns.

The twenty-second amendment as proposed in this resolution then would allow a control to be placed on Congress except for periods of emergency.

The Minority Floor Leader has said we are now in a period of war, and we all agree to that. We ourselves have had our little wars in this session, and as the sands of time run out we have seen the gamut of human emotions run.

Congress is composed of individuals, and as Jefferson says, we should bind them down from mischief by chains of the Constitution.

We in the United States as chosen representatives should recognize that the origin of our final authority rests in the citizens themselves. "We the people" is a much better term than that of Louis XIV of France "I am the state." We have acknowledged no individual as being paramount in America. We still recognize the American voter as being paramount.

Dr. Howard Wilson, one of the outstanding exponents of good government in America, in checking our government's salient features had this to say of America:

Our government has evolved steadily since its establishment, but among its permanent characteristics are such principles and ideals as these:

It is a government which holds that government is made for man and not man for the government, that government is the servant of the people and not the master.

It is a government in which the original and final authority resides in the people.

It is a government based upon the principle that its first duty is to protect the life, liberty, and happiness of the people.

It is a government of law and order, providing for liberty under the law.

It is a government which guarantees to all persons the civil liberties and rights accorded to any one person.

It is a government of officials chosen by the people—a government by representatives—a republic rather than a pure democracy.

It is a government in which office is not the special privilege of any hereditary class.

It is a government by the majority—a majority held in restraint by Constitutional checks, in order that the rights of minorities may be safeguarded.

It is a government in which the minority has the right to criticize and agitate for peaceful change. It is one in which the minority may grow into the majority.

It is a government based upon the idea that the secret ballot is a better way than bullets to bring about changes. The way to correct the mistakes of one election is through ballots at succeeding elections.

All of these things are pertinent, however. All of us know them well, and we here in America must recognize that we have a definite everlasting responsibility. A man climbs up the ladder of his own intellect. The battle for the preservation of America is being fought here in America. The battles for the preservation of the world are being fought in the four corners of the world. There are a vast number of our people who look helplessly toward Washington and exclaim: "What can be done?" There have always been that sort of people. To them history means nothing. If they have the mentality to see, they pretend not to see, hoping that something will save them from their own inertness, the unpleasantness that imperils their greeds. It is stupid to close one's eyes to the workings of history.

The twenty-second amendment recognizes the pages of history, it is timely, its purposes has been explained many times, it has gained overwhelming favor, and certainly, as the Minority Floor Leader has said, that is a grass-roots movement. After all Abe Lincoln was the product of a grass-roots movement, and if that is the type of grass-roots movement this is, then this House should stand united in support of the resolution.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TROUT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, on page 1 of the resolution it says,

The people of the United States and of Pennsylvania are greatly interested".

Would the gentleman mind telling me just who these people are in the state of Pennsylvania who are greatly interested?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I would say approximately ten million.

Mr. LOVETT. Ten million, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TROUT. That is right.

Mr. LOVETT. Would the gentleman tell me the population of Pennsylvania?

Mr. TROUT. Around ten million, isn't it, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LOVETT. Did the gentleman say around ten million?

Mr. TROUT. Yes, I do not recall the exact figures, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. I might say to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that it must be one over the ten million, because I am not too much interested. At least here is one fellow who will have to be excused.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I want to correct that statement by subtracting one.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think that in the committee rooms of the House of Representatives there are many pieces of legislation that the people of Pennsylvania are interested in?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I think there are. I think that the people of Pennsylvania as a general proposition are interested in legislation enacted by this General Assembly. I am also of the opinion that there is a large quantity of legislation presented to committees that people are not particularly interested in because it is of no benefit to them.

Mr. LOVETT. May I ask the gentleman how he voted on the resolution presented to this House to discharge committees on legislation that I know many of the people of Pennsylvania are interested in?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I think I have followed the general principles that has been followed by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, in voting against the discharge of a committee when the House is in the control of his party or of my party. I remember of no time when the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, voted to discharge a committee when the Democrats were in the majority in the House.

Mr. LOVETT. May I, in answer to the gentleman's statement, request that the gentleman be fair to the Members of this House and say that he knows of no time that the gentleman has refused to vote for the discharge of a committee.

The SPEAKER. May the Chair suggest that we get back to the resolution before us for consideration.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, there is no question to answer. The gentleman doesn't know what he is talking about.

Mr. LOVETT. May I ask the gentleman if he has knowledge at any time, whether my party was in power or whatever party was in power that I refused to vote to discharge a committee?

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I believe this interrogation is out of order. If the gentleman wants to interrogate anybody on Constitutional change or on the history of the change, I know the gentleman from Lancaster will be proud to accept the interrogation, but I think the gentleman is out of line.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman certainly is not speaking on the question before the House. The gentleman will please confine his interrogation to that question.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have been one person at least who has been very much interested in states rights. There has been a good bit said here in regard to this resolution. It was said "The right to tax is the right to destroy." I want to add a sentence to that, may I say that the right not to tax is the right to destroy, and especially so in the state of Pennsylvania, because I say to you that we in this session have continually noticed that the right of the majority not to tax in the cases of those best able to pay has placed a burden on those less able to pay, and I say to you that that right has more power to destroy than the right to tax has to destroy.

I think we as Members of the Legislature, when we have these problems right here in our own House of Representatives need not pass resolutions to ask Congress to do something that we ourselves are neglecting to do in the state of Pennsylvania in order to save the rights of the people of Pennsylvania and in order to save our own state's rights. I say again that the right not to tax is the right to destroy in the individual states, and I ask the Members of this House to vote down this resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, one hundred twenty-seven Members voting in the affirmative and seventy-five in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 33

Mr. WALTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 33, Printer's No. 663.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 8, 1943.

Whereas, The experience of every civilized country in the world as exemplified by the laws on their statute books governing the practice of pharmacy, including those on the statute books of all of the states of our own country, requires that a pharmacist shall have at least four years of professional training in a college of pharmacy to make him a safe person to be entrusted with the responsibility of handling the many dangerous drugs and medicines prescribed by physicians, such as strychnine, morphine, sulfamidamide, bichloride of mercury, serums and vaccines, etc., and

Whereas, Members of the armed forces of the United States and especially those of them who are overseas at various fighting fronts, are entitled to receive, and it is the policy and desire of the people of the United States to furnish to them, the best treatment and most proficient services within the power and capacity of the people and especially to furnish proficient and skillful graduate pharmacists to safeguard the health and lives of its fighting men; and

Whereas, The compounding and dispensing of drugs and medicines is essentially a professional service requiring great skill, intimate knowledge and experience with drugs and medicines; and

Whereas, This can only be accomplished by creating a Pharmacy Corps in the Army, which will have the authority required and the personnel of which will be adequately educated and trained for the purchase, selection, manufacture, standardization, storage and dispensing of medicines and for such other pharmaceutical and administrative duties as their education and training qualifies them to perform; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to pass Senate Bill No. 216 (House Bill No. 997), which creates a Pharmacy Corps in the Army of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the President of the United States, the presiding officers of each House of Congress and to each United States Senator and Congressman from Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, one hundred twenty-seven Members having voted in the affirmative and seventy-five in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 900, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection A of section six hundred eighty-five of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies. Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," defining the specific powers and financial requirements of title insurance companies, and providing for the regulation and supervision thereof; prohibiting the guaranteeing of mortgages by such companies; providing for reserves and limiting the amount of liability permissible under policies of title insurance for a single transaction, by further defining and enlarging the powers of title insurance companies which have relinquished any right or power to accept or receive deposits or otherwise engage in a banking business or to act as trustees, guardian, executor, administrator or in any similar fiduciary capacity.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. COHEN offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1 (Section 685), page 3, line 22, by inserting after the word "buildings" the following:

"Provided further, that in such instances where a title insurance company issues policies of insurance to any mortgagee against loss by reason of the non-completion of any building or buildings that such company or companies shall place in its insurance reserve twenty per centum (20%) of the premium or compensation received for such policies of insurance the same to remain in the insurance reserve until the termination of liability under such insurance."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he will be good enough briefly to explain the changes that his amendment will make.

Mr. COHEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, the title companies today perform in my estimation a most useful service because they issue insurance policies on titles to real estate and mortgages. In order to assure that there will be sufficient moneys to take care of losses there is a reserve set aside in their own possession and under the supervision of the Insurance Commissioner to the extent of ten per cent of their assets to cover possible losses. Under this bill they are now attempting to insure certain companies who at present are not able to assure the completion of new buildings, rather to insure mortgage owners against losses by non-completion, and since this particular function does have a greater monetary loss and a possibility of greater monetary loss the thought occurred to me that there should be a higher reserve set aside, only in such amounts as policies for non-completion are in existence at one time.

I say to the gentleman that the amendment presented was presented with the approval of the sponsor of the bill, and with the approval of the persons who originally requested that the bill be introduced; in fact was written by those persons.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, as this bill appears without amendment it seems to me that it might have the effect of putting three or four companies out of business. There are several companies to my knowledge who are very much alarmed about this bill, notably the Bryn Mawr Trust Company in my own bailiwick. Can the gentleman assure me that if this bill passes with the amendments that the effect of the bill will not be that such companies as the Bryn Mawr Trust Company will be compelled to go out of the business of insuring partially completed buildings?

Mr. COHEN. No, Mr. Speaker. As a matter of fact this bill will permit other companies who cannot now insure for non-completion to insure for non-completion, added to those rights and privileges which they now have. It adds and does not detract from.

Mr. JAMES. It will deprive no existing company of any rights that they now enjoy, is that correct, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. COHEN. No, it will not deprive them.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 34, Printer's No. 328.

Senate Bill No. 53, Printer's No. 357 and

Senate Bill No. 71, Printer's No. 239,

were passed over at the request of Mr. LICHTENWALTER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 444, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 87) entitled "An act relating to sales of provisions by description"

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

CALENDAR CORRECTION

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1086, Printer's No. 647, on page 6, of today's calendar, is erroneously on the second reading calendar. This bill passed second reading yesterday. I find that this bill is correctly on the calendar on page 31 of today's calendar, as a bill on third reading.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, and informs the House that statement is correct.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to point out to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, that this shows that we are not certainly rushing bills through at this session.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 149, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred seven (P. L. 206) entitled "An act to regulate and improve the civil service of the cities of the second class in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania making violations of its provisions to be misdemeanor and providing penalties for violations thereof" providing for the appointment of members of the civil service commissions by the Court of common pleas

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BROWN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 2, line 8, by striking out

the light-face bracket before the word "mayor"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 2, lines 8 to 10, by striking out the following "Judges" in line 8, all of line 9, and the words "is located" in line 10, and inserting in lieu thereof: "by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all of the members of the council"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 2, line 13, by striking out the word "Court" and inserting in lieu thereof: "mayor".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 2, lines 14 and 15, by striking out the words "and shall fill all vacancies" and inserting in lieu thereof: "All vacancies shall be filled by the mayor by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all of the members of the council".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 4, by striking out the light-face bracket after the word "shall".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 5, by striking out the light-face bracket before the word "after".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments offered by Mr. Brown, and I ask the House to vote them down.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Would the gentleman tell me whether anywhere in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania civil service, either for a city, a county or a borough, where there is a Civil Service Commission where the members are appointed by the Court of Common Pleas?

Mr. FLEMING. I wouldn't know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would earnestly ask the House to adopt these amendments. I believe that we are all in favor of uniformity of laws. This act purports to place the power of appointment of Civil Service Commissioners in Pittsburgh in the Court of Common Pleas. Nowhere else in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can you find Civil Service Commissioners, either in cities of the first, second or the third class, counties of the first, second or third class, boroughs or townships where they are appointed by the judges of the Court of Common Pleas.

I do not know the purpose of this bill, and I doubt that anybody else knows, and from a strictly legal standpoint there is no reason for this bill. I have nothing against the judges of the Court of Common Pleas. I am firmly convinced that the judges should be confined to the performance of their judicial duties, and for the further reason that the Court of Common Pleas represents the county of Allegheny and the judicial districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and it does seem strange to me that the appointment of Civil Service Commissioners of the city of Pittsburgh should be in the hands of the judges. It may be that the sponsor of this bill thought that the Mayor of the city of Pittsburgh has too much power. This is no more power than the mayors of the other cities of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have.

However, if he fears that the Mayor of the city of Pittsburgh has too much power, I have inserted an amendment whereby the Mayor of the city of Pittsburgh must have confirmation by a two-thirds vote of the members of council, and I believe that would be in keeping with uniformity of laws throughout the state. I would not burden these judges with extra-judicial functions, and I believe in the interest of fair play that these amendments should prevail. I earnestly urge the House to vote for these amendments.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I don't know, but I am willing to believe that what Mr. Brown says is so, that there is no other place in the state of Pennsylvania where the court does appoint the members of the Civil Service Commission, but we believe that this possibly will be a very progressive innovation. We believe this will take the appointment of the members of the civil service commission completely out of politics and would tend toward good government and for that reason I would ask the Members to vote down the amendments.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for agreeing with my statement at law, as it is not only my statement but it is also the statement made as a result of reasearch by the Legislative Reference Bureau, and I gave it to him in good faith. There is uniformity of the law throughout the Commonwealth in towns, townships, boroughs, counties and cities, so under what stretch of the imagination can anybody say that the city of Pittsburgh ought to have special class legislation when there has been no argument and no reason advanced for this bill? It is a bill which would hurt the entire Commonwealth in that it is a step in the wrong direction. I believe, and I know that every member of this House believes that we should maintain our free independent co-ordinative branches of the government, the judiciary, the legislative and the executive. The appointment of these officers throughout the Commonwealth is an administrative function that has been adhered to as long as we can trace back the law. I say to the Members of the House that it would be unfair for the judges to have the appointing power of the commission and then sit in judgment on the actions of their own appointees.

There is no sound reason behind this bill, Mr. Speaker, and I ask the House to vote for my admendments. If the gentleman from Allegheny feels that he must not vote for my admendments, then I say that it does not bind him, and it doesn't bind the other Members of the House, but in fairness to the uniformity of the law and to the law as it should be, we have no right to make this innovation unless someone can tell us why it should be made, and I ask the Members to vote for the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it. Whereupon, a division was called for.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in what manner can the vote of those in the affirmative, after once being counted and then leaving the hall of the House, be protected?

The SPEAKER. The affirmative vote is being counted.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, would it be permissible at this time for the bill to be passed over, or is it too late for that?

The SPEAKER. It can only be done by unanimous consent or a motion to postpone.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the confusion in the tabulation that has been had in the vote and in view of the fact that nothing has been said against this bill, I wonder if the Majority Floor Leader would agree to the postponement of this bill until I can talk to him and to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming. I had intended to send the amendments to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, but he was not on the floor.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I will agree to have the bill passed over.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, withdraw his amendments temporarily?

Mr. BROWN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I will not again infringe on the time of the House with arguments which took place this morning both for and against this bill, but I would again ask the Members to vote the amendments down.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is so important to the city of Pittsburgh that I believe the House would be glad to concede to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, any time that is necessary to make any arguments for this bill that he desires, and I for one would like to hear the gentleman state his arguments for the bill. I cannot make the argument for the bill because I am for the amendment. I hope the gentleman will understand that I am doing this so that the record will show that some argument was made for the bill. However, if the gentleman feels that time will be conserved by no argument being made for it, I certainly then will not go over and repeat the arguments that were made this morning. However, this matter is one of vital importance to the second largest city in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I feel that at least we ought to have some idea and some argument for it. We ought not to pass legislation simply because it appears on our desks. I concede that we are in the closing days, that we have a tremendous amount of work and a tremendous number of bills, and I certainly would not want to hold up this bill for one minute. However, I do think that in the passage of important legislation such as this we ought to know what we are passing and be conscious that when we do pass laws we have passed laws for the best interests of the Commonwealth.

I would, therefore, ask anyone in the House who can say anything in favor of this bill to do so. I think that is fair, and I make the request in earnest, and I believe before we pass the bill we ought to have some comment for it.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I wish to direct the attention of the House to the fact that we are not voting on the bill; we are voting on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown; not on the merits of the bill. I believe when the bill comes up on third reading tomorrow that would be the proper time to debate the merits and the demerits of the bill. The amendments were, I believe, debated at some length this morning, and in order not to repeat my previous statements, I still ask the members of the House to vote against the amendments.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in a very unhappy and very unenviable situation. I have introduced an amendment to Senate Bill No. 149, which bill purports to take the appointive power of the Civil Service Commission of the city of Pittsburgh out of the hands of the mayor and place it in the hands of the Court of Common Pleas. This morning I made a few arguments for my amendments. First, I stated to this House that upon authority from the most authoritative source in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania I found not a single instance of where Civil Service Commissions are appointed by the courts.

I made a second argument that the courts should be confined to their constitutional judicial functions and should not be required to perform the extra functions which are not judicial nor quasi-judicial in character.

Now, Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that if there are no arguments against the argument I make, I think those in the House here should be fair enough to give a vote of confidence in the uniformity of the law, if nothing else. There may be some who want to change this law, but I submit to this House that law is the fundamental basis on which our republic rests, and when we change simply because someone doesn't like the law, we will get into confusion and chaos. The uniformity of law must be maintained if we are to maintain the democratic form of government. Someone may commit murder, but we don't change the law simply because someone commits murder, and it seems to me that the only reason for Senate Bill 149 is that someone doesn't like the law and wants to change it.

I submit that in an administrative function the mayor of the city of Pittsburgh, upon the advice and consent of a two-thirds vote of the Council, would be the proper place in which the appointment of Civil Service Commissioners should be made, and I, therefore, ask every Member of the House,—this bill has no political implications at all,—I appeal to you in the interests of uniformity of the law, the equality of the law and fairness of the law that Senate Bill No. 149 should not prevail, and therefore I earnestly ask support of my amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, fifty-four Members having voted in the affirmative and eighty-three in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BENTLEY offered the following amendments:

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 2) page 2, lines 8 and 9 by striking out the words "Judges of the court of common pleas" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "orphans' court."

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 2) page 3, lines 4 and 5, by striking out the brackets at the end of line 4 and beginning of line 5.

Amend sec. 2, page 4, line 3, by striking out the word "Governor" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "orphans' court."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, the House has just voted down the amendments of my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Brown. I think they have improperly acted in so doing, because certainly the constitutional division of powers requires that in this administrative action the administrative or at least the executive arm of the government should make these appointments. However, I have now offered amendments transferring the appointive power from the Court of Common Pleas to the Orphans Court of Allegheny County. In so doing I accede to the apparent will of the majority that the judiciary shall exercise this non-judicial function and appoint Civil Service Commissioners in the city of Pittsburgh.

I think the House should know a little something of the operation of the Civil Service Commission in the city of Pittsburgh. Under the present law, and it has been on the books since 1907, the Civil Service Commission of the city is appointed by the executive, the mayor of the city. It consists of one member of the minority party and two members of the majority party. Uniformly, whether it has been a Republican or a Democratic administration in the city there has been a high standard maintained in the appointment of the Civil Service Commissioners. We haven't had the scandals in Pittsburgh that have permeated the Civil Service Commissions in other cities of the state. I should not have been surprised had there been legislation introduced in this House to change the manner of the appointment of Civil Service Commissioners in cities of the first class. There have been some real scandals in those commissions with indictments, convictions and sentences imposed on Civil Service Commissioners. That has never been the case in the city of Pittsburgh. We have an honest and upright commission. However, it seems to be the desire of someone to change the manner of appointment of that commission.

Now, what is the function of the Civil Service Commission in Pittsburgh or in any city having a Civil Service Commission? It is this: that they shall observe, shall encourage, shall require the observance of the Civil Service law, and the Civil Service laws in a broad sense require two things: first, that appointments be made on the basis of merit, and second, that tenure in office be maintained on the basis of merit.

The Civil Service Commission in the city of Pittsburgh gives approximately two thousand examinations each year, and over a period of ten years it is easy to compute, they have therefore given about twenty thousand Civil Service examinations. In ten years, there has been not a whisper, not a breath, not a charge that they have done anything but give proper examinations, observed and encouraged honesty in the marking of papers and the certifying of eligible lists. But it is with the second phase that my amendments concern themselves. Very frequently the Civil Service Commission in any city, township or county must determine whether or not an employe has been properly disciplined or properly discharged on charges or for other cause, and while that is a much smaller part of the function in connection with the amount of work done than is the certification of eligible lists after examination and grading, it is nevertheless an important function.

The operation of the Civil Service Commissions in such matters is as follows: when an employe is dismissed or discharged by the action of the executive head of the department to which he belongs, he has under our present law, and even under the law amended by this bill, a right to appeal his dismissal or discharge to the Civil Service Commission, and under the present law and under the law contemplated in this bill, before the Civil Service Commission he then has a right to a hearing, either by way of appeal or by action of mandamus to go before the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County and appeal the action of the Commission.

The present bill contemplates a curious anomaly. It contemplates that the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County shall appoint Civil Service Commissioners. As I have stated, these Commissioners have a right and have the duty to hear appeals on Civil Service matters, and yet the employe who appeals to the Civil Service Commission, the agents, the appointees of the Common Pleas Court, if he is not satisfied with their decision, has a right then only to appeal to the appointors of the body which has already passed on his plea.

I submit, Mr. Speaker, that nowhere in the laws of Pennsylvania or elsewhere is that the case. Is it proper that the Common Pleas Court, appointing the Commission should in turn hear appeals from that Commission? On a basis of fairness, reason, or justice that cannot be, and therefore, I submit that my amendments making the appointing power the Orphans Court of Allegheny County is a proper amendment. The Orphans' Court does not hear these appeals from the Civil Service Commission as does the Common Pleas Court. The law will continue as it now is, but when an appeal is taken from the Commission, the appeal lies to the Common Pleas Court, but the Orphans' Court which has appointed this Commission will not have any voice in appeals from it.

I think it has been argued on behalf of this bill in its present form unamended, that there should be a system of checks and balances. There is no check, there is no balance when a court hears appeals from its own agents. Now, if anyone in the House is thinking in terms of politics, and I assume that they are, because I noticed that the vote was a straight party vote on this matter, let me advise them that the Orphans' Court in Allegheny County is a non-political court, if ever a court was, but the denomination of the judges who sit on that bench is Republican, with, I believe, one minority Democratic member. So, if politics is bothering you in this matter, have no fear. The court which will have the appointment under my amendment is a Republican court, and in fairness, keeping the power of appointment away from the power of decision and appeal will be best handled if the Orphans' Court is given the power of appointment. I understand it has been said here that we should try an innovation. The innovation I offer is not such a long step away from that offered by Senate Bill No. 149, but the distance within which it has moved is in the right direction, and I ask the membership of the House, in the interest of good judgment to support the amendments I have offered.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in a rather peculiar position, I cannot offer any argument for the bill or against the amendments. Now I find myself in the unhappy situation, of opposing amendments that my colleague presented. I think it is obnoxious, whether it is in the hands of the Orphans' Court, Superior Court, Supreme Court or any other court, and therefore it seems to me that the amendments offered by my colleague from Allegheny County ought to be withdrawn to save me from the embarrassment of voting "no," and I ask the members of the House to vote likewise.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BROWN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman recognize the principle that when one is confronted with two evils and it is necessary that one be chosen the lesser of the two evils should be taken?

Mr. BROWN. Absolutely, Mr. Speaker, if you are confronted by a choice between two evils.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, did I not understand the gentleman to point out as evil legislation this bill which places the power of appointment in the Court of Common Pleas?

Mr. BROWN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker. I did not say evil. I said obnoxious.

Mr. BENTLEY. I will substitute the word obnoxious for the word evil. The proposition I stated is where two obnoxious things exist, the lesser of the two should be chosen. I think I said when I first offered my amendments that I agreed with Mr. Brown but I offered these as the lesser of two obnoxious things.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman by saying that the principle of choosing the lesser of the two evils is universal. However, I do not think that it applies here at all. Here we are dealing with a function which has nothing to do with the judiciary. It is a question of choice. I am opposed to the appointive power being placed in the hands of the judiciary. I do not believe it is a question of choice as between two evils. Now, if the appointive power were in the hands of the Court of Common Pleas and you wanted to transfer the power to the Orphans' Court or wanted to put the power in the county court and I had to choose the lesser of the two evils, I would make the choice, and I would have the courage to make the choice. I think the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Bentley, is irrelevant and immaterial and he should withdraw his amendments,—somebody suggested incompetent, but I shall omit that.

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

My colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, seems to have some doubt in his mind as to where the power of appointment is going to be under these amendments, but I certainly have none. After the House finishes its vote the power of appointment is going to be in the judiciary. We have no choice on this side of the House as to that, and I think that being the case the point that I am making that we should pick the judicial body best qualified by circumstances to make this appointment is properly taken. I think it is most relevant and most competent, and I would again ask the membership of the House to bear that fact in mind. I think this amendment is not a partisan amendment. As I pointed out to you, it is a Republican Orphans' Court, and properly under the circumstances and under the situation that will confront us in Allegheny County, the appointment should lie with the judiciary in the Orphans' Court of Allegheny County.

Mr. Speaker, these amendments are very simple. They provide that the present employes of the Civil Service Commission in the city of Pittsburgh shall be under Civil Service. Nothing unusual in that. In the original act of 1907 creating a Civil Service Commission in the city of Pittsburgh, in the act of 1909 creating the Civil Service Commission and of the Civil Service Commission in Philadelphia, and in every other act creating a Civil Service Commission in any community, in any city, in any county, township or borough, it has always provided that the employes then in the employ of the political subdivision shall be placed under Civil Service. I can probably best illustrate it to the membership of this House by pointing out to the House that just recently we have enacted a county Civil Service system for the police of Allegheny County. Under that bill it was provided that all present employes, all present police of Allegheny County should be under Civil Service.

In the interests of uniformity I cannot see anything else than the interest of doing what we have always done, Senate Bill No. 149 should be amended so that these employes of the city of Pittsburgh will be placed under the Civil Service system. If that is unfair I don't know what we have been voting on here during this session when we voted for Civil Service systems, or what we have been voting on for many years in this House and in the Legislature. Mr. Speaker, I will anticipate the argument. It may be said that we are not placing the employes under Civil Service for the duration of the war, but after the war. The answer to that is quite simple, provided that as to new appointments they shall not be placed under Civil Service until after the war. That, of course, will apply in Senate Bill No. 149, even as I have amended it. All that this provides is that the permanent employes of the city of Pittsburgh, now employed in the Civil Service Commission, shall be placed under the Civil Service system. As I have said that has been uniform for many years, and it should be embodied in this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BENTLEY offered the following amendment:

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 2) page 3. lines 4 and 5 by striking out the brackets at the end of line 4 and beginning of line 5.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BENTLEY offered the following amendments:

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 2), page 2, line 7, by inserting after the word "class" the words: "and in each city of the second class A".

Amend sec. 1 (sec. 2); page 3, lines 4 and 5, by striking out the brackets at the end of line 4 and the beginning of line 5.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I will be quite brief. Neither reason nor anything I have to say apparently is of any avail in this House. The act of 1907 which we are amending by Senate Bill No. 149 covers both the city of Scranton and the city of Pittsburgh. It has universally been applied to both Scranton and Pittsburgh for many years. The problems of the two cities have been handled under this act in the same manner. These problems have been met under an act, and it is now improper, as I see it, to differentiate between the two cities in this Civil Service act.

It is argued, I suppose, that Senate Bill No. 149 is proper legislation on principle. It is argued that the judiciary should have these appointments as a matter of checks and balances over a city administration. If that is true in Pittsburgh it is equally true in principle in Scranton. The amendments that I have offered merely apply this principle which this House is so fond of, to the city of Scranton. I cannot see any basis for any man who has voted "aye" on the bill in its unamended form, failing to vote "aye" also on the bill as it is now amended. I, therefore, ask the membership of the House on principle to vote "aye" on these amendments which will include Scranton in Senate Bill No. 149.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the good people of the city of Scranton have been saved thus far this innocuous piece of legislation and I know they have able representatives on the other side of the House to vote down these amendments. While I don't want that for myself I also feel I should try to see that it does not go some place else. Therefore, since they have not seen fit to bring the city of Scranton into the jurisdiction of this bill, and they have singled out the city of Pittsburgh, let us not let this cancer spread beyond the limits of the city of Pittsburgh. Therefore, I ask in the interest of the people of the city of Scranton to let us not take this dirt off the city of Pittsburgh and spread it over the other parts of the state.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?
They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?
It was agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to withdraw my amendments to Section 2.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?
It was agreed to.

The title was read.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to withdraw my amendments to the title.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to withdraw my amendments to the title.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the title?
It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 310, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto a section

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be amended by adding thereto a section to read as follows

Section 20 In addition to the purposes stated in article nine section four of this Constitution the Commonwealth may be authorized by law to create debt and to issue bonds to the amount of sixty million dollars ($60,000,000) for the purchase and retirement of bonds issued under the authority of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fifty-two) cited and known as The General State Authority Act and its amendments

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the purpose of this resolution, if eventually adopted, will be to authorize an increase in the indebtedness of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, and you are specifically going to amend the Constitution to have in the Constitution the purpose of retiring bonds issued by the General State Authority?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I therefore understand that the General State Authority would be eventually eliminated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, my first objection to the resolution is that if we are going to make our Constitution more elastic as to the borrowing capacity of the Commonwealth, I do not see that we ought to be limited to any special amount. If over a long term of years it is proposed that the borrowing capacity be made greater, then we should take into consideration the problems that are close to war planning and other real governmental problems and purposes, and in that way know how much we would like to increase our Constitutional limit of borrowing. But to restrict the Constitutional amendment to the wording of sixty million dollars, because I presume that is about the value of the outstanding bonds of the Authority at this time, and to use the terminology of this resolution, seems to me to be a departure from good Constitutional draftsmanship to say the least. I imagine the General State Authority may continue on and eventually dissipate itself and disappear. The only other thing I can see in this bill is that one day, when the people of the Commonwealth have granted the power to the officers of the Commonwealth to float a bond issue of sixty million dollars to take up these bonds, that some banker is going to make fat fees for the handling of the bond issue. I suggest that we should let well enough alone, and if we are only interested in increasing the borrowing power, which the party in power has continuously opposed for many years, then we ought to get down to a scientific and a substantial idea of the borrowing power we want and not limit it to any particular or explicit purpose. It is a very expensive procedure to take these things to the electorate, but while we are going to the trouble to do it we ought to take it to them on a real sound and honest basis and not just strangle one division or agency of the government for an improper or unholy purpose.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I think there is a definite story behind Senate Bill No. 310 and a very good reason why this fund should be earmarked to retire the bonds outstanding at this time of the General State Authority. First, the General State Authority was created at a time when there was a great deal of unemployment in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This Authority issued bonds to the amount of between sixty-five and seventy million dollars. With that money they started a building program of many state institutions throughout the Commonwealth. The actual authority of that creation by the Legislature was questioned in the courts of Pennsylvania. As I recall, at one time an opinion was handed down as to what authority they had in dealing with the problem of buildings in Pennsylvania. Then that decision was reversed. It was held that they did have jurisdiction and right to operate this program in Pennsylvania. That program has been completed. We have today in the Commonwealth in many of the state institutions buildings which were sponsored by the General State Authority without any funds, if you will recall, to equip these buildings. It was a part of the debt inherited by the Republican administration in 1939 when they came into office. It is one of the mistakes, I would say, of the previous administration, where we have gone into an expensive building program in Pennsylvania, where we have provided additional space for those people that needed medical care and treatment, those that are mentally ill, and to further the educational facilities of our youth in Pennsylvania, and yet they have not provided one penny to take care of equipping even one of these buildings. Certainly I would say that the life of this authority should come to an end and that it will be a great saving to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania if through the enactment of this law, which after all is just giving the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to vote upon this issue, whether or not they want to retire these particular bonds. We cannot do that. We are just making the proposal here, giving them the opportunity to vote upon it and certainly we feel it can be a great saving to the Commonwealth if these bonds can be retired and that these properties can be taken over by the Department of property and Supplies under the Commonwealth. There is no reason that I can see, Mr. Speaker, why we should deny the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to vote as to whether or not they think we should now curtail the life of the General State Authority.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, methinks perhaps the gentleman misunderstood me. I think that the method being used is wrong and I think that the limitation being put on a Constitutional amendment is wrong. I think the idea is wrong in the manner in which it is being done, but I agree with the gentleman from Lehigh that this is a matter which ought to be put to a vote of the people and I am certainly for allowing the people to vote. But, Mr. Speaker, I think the record ought to show what is being voted upon, or at least a statement made at this time that this is not the right kind of amendment to put before the people and I certainly should say that we ought to vote for it and let the people decide it. Sometimes I think that the people can decide questions better than the Legislature can.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, there has been so much comment made on this bill to the effect that this is just a war measure because it has to do with the laying of a pipe line in Pennsylvania to pump much-needed fuel in from the west to the east but, what I don't like about the bill is this: first of all, if this is a war necessity that can be very easily provided by the war powers bill, upon the proper request by the proper officials in Washington to the proper department. We are going to give certain petroleum companies, certain gasoline companies, the right to extend the right to indiscriminately come upon our lands and into our cities and condemn properties and take the property from us. Therefore, I think that should be enough of a warning that we ought to very carefully consider it before we extend this right, not only to our domestic corporations but as to foreign corporations, who may already have this right in other states.

An amendment to the bill on page 5 provides as follows: "Any pipeline company, domestic or foreign, including any company incorporated by act of Congress." You will note that they are bringing in under this act corporations which are not Pennsylvania corporations, so that the long arm of the monopolistic companies may reach into Pennsylvania for the purpose of condemning and taking away property for the purpose of laying pipe lines. I think this matter ought to be more carefully studied. I feel there is ample opportunity and ample place for this particular problem at this particular time to be taken care of. I urge, therefore the Members of the House to vote against this bill.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, speaking in opposition to the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, I would like to point out the principal to the members of the House that under the present law pipe lines already have the power of eminent domain, and that the amendment would include that principal, because there would be no doubt as to their power to do that under an act of Congress. We need have no fear in this House that by this bill we are granting any privileges to corporations of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that they do not now have. We are not jeopardizing the rights and the properties of any land owner of Pennsylvania. The bill does merely one thing. It permits a Pennsylvania company to operate by its franchise pipe lines in other territories in other states. The purpose is to do away with the false and artificial system of doing business now, where each state has to have a separate corporation, a separate office, separate directors and separate corporate structures, and put a barrier on each state line. I believe the policy is one of common sense and expediency and that that should be operated by one company. This bill would permit that to take place, and therefore, it should be enacted into law simply for the purpose of improving the efficiencies of the companies giving us this public service. I might say also, that this very same service was given to the gas companies by the session of 1937. At that time I understand there was no opposition to it, and I believe the fears of the gentleman from Philadelphia are not well founded, and this is a good bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am happy that the gentleman from Cambria told us more about the bill because he just now exposed something that had not been noticed before. The gentleman admits, and particularly so because it is in the bill the words that would permit oil companies to branch out and become monopolies to acquire the stock of corporations in other states, to do away with corporate structures in the individual states and make one huge corporation out of a particular company. Some of the older Members will remember from their own experience, and I can only recall from having read history, that it was President Theodore Roosevelt who broke up the Standard Oil Company which was then the largest monopoly in the world, and made it into a number of smaller corporations in the various states. The gentleman now admits that what this bill is intended to do is to again build up such a monopolistic practice which any one knows is not a proper practice in business at least in these United States.

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is being impractical if he says or thinks that anybody is going to build a continuous pipeline running across several states and allowing the control to be under anybody other than himself. If I am building a pipeline to run across this state I certainly would not want to put the control of the part, say in Ohio, under somebody else. Under the present system some corporations have controlled stock in these subsidiary companies through technical requirements in the law. Taking that requirement out of the law would permit the man to do anything that anyone of common sense would do, keep the control in one company. It will be possible under this bill for one company which now owns Pennsylvania's share of a line to acquire a franchise of a company which operates, say, in Ohio and so on across country, and so do business with a Pennsylvania corporation. This incidentally will be quite an increase in taxes for the increased business done as a Pennsylvania corporation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 2. The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman correctly to say that he has been conferring with the Attorney General's Office regarding this bill?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I have been in conference with two of the deputies in his office in regard to this bill, yes.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in saying that this bill imposes additional penalties, that is penalties in addition to those which are presently on the statute books, with regard to local referendums?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I would say that I am not clear on that question. That is what I was trying to ascertain and I was unable to find any decision which would settle the question, one way or the other. It is an open question which if attacked will have to be settled by the courts in this instance.

Mr. SKALE. Isn't it true that there are laws on the statute books today which provide for local option?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, and the existing Pennsylvania Liquor Control Law provides for local option?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, isn't it also correct that the Sunday movie law also provides for local option?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. It does, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. And will the gentleman agree with me that if this bill should become law that we would have two sets of local option laws on the statute books?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I had not thought of the question before. My answer would be that we would have one set of laws providing for local option and then this law which would provide the procedure under which the other laws are to be enforced or operated.

Mr. SKALE. In the gentleman's reading of the bill has he been able to find any provision in it which repeals any inconsistent provision of any other local option or referendum law?

Mr. WALTER E. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I did not notice any repealer. If the gentleman will make a declaration on it I will be glad to take his word, but I do not know.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I have examined this bill and I can't find any provision in this bill which would repeal any inconsistent existing provisions of the law.

I do not think that it is now necessary to say very much in opposition to this bill, but I believe that you can readily understand from the interrogation that this bill if enacted into law would put upon our statute books another referendum law, and since it contains no repeal of any present local option law, we would have two sets, which would only tend to cause a great deal of confusion. I submit to you gentlemen, that in the interest of good legislation we should not pass this bill and we should vote against it.

Mr. PAUL L. WAGNER. Mr. Speaker, I am very much concerned that the matter of intent in the introduction of this bill be thoroughly understood, regardless of the ultimate fate of the bill itself. I do not think, and I doubt whether any Member of the House thinks, the interrogation which has proceeded up to this point has been anything more than a little side-show to get around the real opposition to it.

Let us take the history of this bill for about five minutes and see how it came about and what it does. I have seen on two occasions elections involving local option, particularly as they applied to Sunday movies, kicked around like an old rug back in my county. I have seen the lineup of those who favored and those who opposed local option, and they were disappointed because of the looseness with which the referendum was conducted. The intent of the proponents of this bill is to clarify and to regulate and to make a little more honest, if you please, the matter of voting on Sunday movies and kindred subjects. I wish to say that when the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Krise, asked me whether I would share with him the sponsorship of this bill, I said I would study it and would let him know. I studied it very carefully and I find it provides for placing local option elections under the election code which protects the election against irregular practices, concerning which we all know. I told the Election Committee, Mr. Speaker, that if they could find anything in this bill that was unfair to the electorate, unfair to the church people, if you please, or unfair to the movies interests, I would be satisfied for them to keep the bill in committee. The bill was studied and reported out. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Skale, asked me last week if we would pass this bill over so that he could study it. He said everybody was worried because the bill seemed all right and they were trying to find out what the catch in it was. I understood that Mr. Skale would give me facts and tell me whether he found anything objectionable in the bill or not. Up to this time he has not done so, and he has for some reason interrogated the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose, rather than the sponsor of the bill.

My own opinion is this, that the Members of this House who believe conscientiously in decent civil life, who believe in being fair, who believe in giving people the kind of elections to which they are entitled, involving either wet or dry questions, will vote for this measure. I frankly believe that those who vote otherwise are doing so in the interest of somebody who does not want it to be properly attended to. The bill provides that when any municipality desires to make use of the local option provisions that are to be found in acts of Assembly governing Sunday baseball, Sunday football, Sunday motion pictures, in the State Liquor Control act and in the Malt and Brewed Beverage act, and similar acts of Assembly, a local option can be initiated by either proponents or opponents of the question involved in harmony with the state election code.

Attention is called to the fact that the General Assembly has written local option provisions into numerous laws, which have been upon our statute books for the past ten years, and have been upheld as constitutional by our highest courts. Yet the words "local option" do not appear in the election code. Such elections have been initiated by proponents or opponents of these questions involved without any law to govern or guide the conduct of such elections. This measure is intended to correct this situation and to provide an orderly manner for conducting and reporting all local option contests.

I would like to say I have sponsored legislation in this House that has been defeated and it would not be a very new experience to me this afternoon to take it on the chin again. I am proud of the fact that I have never sponsored legislation which was not on the level or which did not deserve the serious consideration of my colleagues in the House. I would like to call attention to the fact that this is not a partisan measure. This is a bill that in no way favors the wets or the drys. It is a proposed amendment to take care of a serious omission in the state election code. Since local option has been approved in numerous instances by this General Assembly and has been upheld by decisions of our highest courts, we ask that provision be made in the election code for the proper initiation of such elections, conducting the tests of local sentiment, and for making the necessary reports following all such elections.

I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia there is nothing that this bill will do other than putting these elections where they belong, in the state election code. This bill does nothing but correct things that are being done wrong now. It corrects wrong practices in local option elections and it is intended to do simply that and nothing more.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Senate Bill No. 345, Printer's No. 359;
Senate Bill No. 85, Printer's No. 37;
Senate Bill No. 377, Printer's No. 263; and
Senate Bill No. 344, Printer's No. 246

were passed over at the request of Mr. LICHTENWALTER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 354, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (d) of section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 452) entitled as amended "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct improve equip furnish and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees rentals and charges for the use thereof authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant assign convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein and to acquire lands therefor granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" empowering the General State Authority to sell and convey projects and property to the Commonwealth and to sell and convey the Butler Tuberculosis Sanatorium to the United States or any Federal agency

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Will the gentleman tell me what is happening to the Butler Sanitarium, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, the Butler Sanitarium has been leased to the Federal government.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is it going to be sold to the Federal government?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, the General State Authority, I believe, at the time of leasing it to the Federal government under an agreement did set a price for the sale to the government, and there is every likelihood that a sale will be consummated sometime within the not too far distance.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, was that done with the approval of the Governor of the Commonwealth, if the gentleman knows?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I believe Mr. Speaker, as a member and as chairman of the General State Authority it was done, and not as Governor but as chairman of the General State Authority.

Mr. COHEN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCLESTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, page 2, last two lines of title, by striking out the words "and to sell and convey the Butler Tuberculosis Sanatorium" and inserting in lieu thereof: "and".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 589, as follows:

An Act creating a Joint Legislative Committee for the purpose of gaining knowledge and information concerning the planning and operation of housing and housing projects by the examination and study of existing housing and housing projects in the Commonwealth authorizing the employment of necessary assistants the subpoenaing of witnesses and records and making an appropriation

Whereas It is generally recognized by all our civic and political leaders that every governmental agency must be prepared and willing to make every effort at the termination of the present war to undertake every possible public improvement which will be a benefit to the community and provide work for the returning soldiers until private industry has an opportunity to be converted from war efforts to peace time activities and

Whereas Housing and housing projects offer marvelous opportunities to benefit every community in which such projects can be undertaken in as much as they provide healthful decent and cheerful places to live for people in the lower income brackets thus increasing the standard of living and preserving the health and morale of a very important portion of our population and

Whereas Such housing projects if undertaken in the post-war period will offer work to many people of various trades occupations and professions and will stimulate the immediate manufacture of large quantities of materials and supplies and

Whereas The undertaking of housing and housing projects on a large scale by governmental agencies is a comparatively new innovation and if attempted without a vast amount of study effort and experience could result in a waste of time and money a danger to its future inhabitants and have depressing effect upon the post-war period instead of furnishing the constructive aid desired and

Whereas There seems to be considerable public opinion that housing and housing projects can be more economically undertaken by private industry employing individual contractors and it has not been clearly determined whether governmental agencies can build such housing and housing projects as economically effectively and generally as beneficially as private industry employing individual contractors and

Whereas There have been housing projects undertaken in Pennsylvania by the Federal Government or with the aid of the Federal Government some of which have been completed and others of which are now under construction and the persons who were or are responsible for in charge of and connected with the operation of such projects must have gained invaluable knowledge experience and information relative to such undertakings and the many pitfalls and dangers to be avoided and the opportunities for success in connection therewith therefore

Section 1 A committee of five senators to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and five members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker is hereby created to study examine and inquire into all phases of and all operations and activities relating or incident to housing and housing projects started in this Commonwealth including those projects which have been completed as well as those which are under construction for the purpose of gaining practical knowledge from the experiences errors mistakes and successes of others which will enable future housing and housing projects to be undertaken with a more complete understanding concerning the type place and cost of land upon which such projects should be attempted the type and cost of structures to be erected and the materials to be used in such projects in order to secure the greatest amount of benefit to all parties concerned for the least amount of money expended

Section 2 Such committee shall select a chairman and a vice-chairman from its own members and may employ counsel and such other assistants as may be needed and may fix their compensation within the amounts made available by appropriation therefor Such committee may meet anywhere in the State shall take testimony and subpoena witnesses and require for their inspection the production of books papers bills receipts and records

Section 3 The members of such committee shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be entitled to their necessary traveling and hotel expenses incurred in the performance of their duties within the amount made available by appropriation therefor

Section 4 Such committee shall make a report to the next session of the General Assembly and from time to time prior to its convening to the Governor and to any agency that may be created to provide post-war employment

Section 5 The sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated from any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated payable on requisition of the chairman of such commission on the warrant and audit of the Auditor General

Section 6 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading'

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be passed over.

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, I ask that we consider this bill and vote against recommitting it.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I do admit that we have set up a lot of commissions, and we have set up a lot of investigating committees. I personally and a few other Members would like to look over this bill and that is the reason I ask that it be held up. If the gentleman insists and we cannot hold it up then I will ask the Members of both sides of the House to vote to recommit the bill.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HANNON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon, what he expects to gain by investigation of the housing authority of this state. At the present time those authorities are appointed by the Governor and by the Commissions in the different districts, and I wonder if the gentleman thinks the Governor might not appoint members on the authority that could run the authority.

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, the bill itself answers that question, if the gentleman will read the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman understands that the bill is not debatable. The question is on the motion to recommit.

Mr. YESTER. Do you mean the sponsor cannot answer, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The merits of the bill cannot be discussed. We are now considering a motion to recommit.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, the reason I wanted to ask that question was because I feel that this bill should be recommitted for further study. The bill it seems to me is absolutely useless. I think there have been too many bills in this House during this session that cost a lot of money and do not bring results. That is the reason I would like to see this bill recommitted.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations whether or not the Committee on Appropriations has ever studied this bill.

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Mr. Speaker, this bill has never been in the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Lancaster have any idea whether or not the fifteen thousand dollar appropriation carried by this bill can be paid out of state funds? In other words, has any provision been made for the payment of this fifteen thousand dollars.

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. I think the state is worth fifteen thousand dollars, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, has the Committee on Appropriations made any study of this bill whatsoever?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Mr. Speaker, this bill has never been in the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is the fifteen thousand dollars in the budget that the Appropriations Committee has studied?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. It is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Would the gentleman say that the orderly procedure, especially in the House of Representatives, is that measures carrying appropriations should at least be committed to the Committee on Appropriations for that purpose?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Mr. Speaker, that is the usual procedure, but due to the lateness of the session, they had no time to go to the Appropriations Committee with this bill.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman very much.

Mr. Speaker, I think we ought to vote in favor of this motion, at least so that we can keep our procedure correct. I do not believe that the gentlemen on the other side, I know that the gentleman from Lehigh, the Majority Floor Leader, would never allow any loose procedure such as this, bills carrying appropriations of fifteen thousand dollars and never even going to the Committee on Appropriations. It does seem to me that in order that our budget may be kept in line the bill should be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations to determine whether this amount is proper so that we would at least have a record of the appropriation. Therefore, I say that the motion ought to prevail.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that I agree with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, as far as procedure is concerned, but I must also agree with the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, that if this particular piece of legislation is to pass during this session, because of the number of legislative days remaining, it is almost necessary that it go through the House at this time. When this bill goes to the Senate certainly before it passes it will be taken before the Senate Committee on Appropriations.

I might further say there is a bill on the calendar today that carries an appropriation which came over from the Senate and I intend to recommit it to the Appropriations Committee of the House so that it may be studied by the Appropriations Committee before it is passed finally.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I know the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter, is sincere in his statement. He always is. The only thing about it is that the record will not substantiate his statement. This bill was presented on the 8th of March and it seems to me this bill has been on the calendar a sufficient length of time to have been carefully considered and passed upon—this being May the 5th and the bill having been presented on the 8th of March. It cannot be pleaded that the delay is due to the exigencies due to the closing days of the session. Probably the gentleman intended to give the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon, a vote of confidence, and if that is what they wish to do, I will give him a vote because he is my friend. With that understanding from the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter, I would ask the Members of the House on this side to vote not to recommit the bill. I do not think this Administration or any other administration should spend money simply because some Member's name is attached to the bill. Let us defeat this motion and give my good friend from Allegheny a vote of confidence.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill of third reading?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HANNON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, is this the Federal Housing Authority that this joint legislative committee is going to investigate?

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, this investigating committee will investigate any housing project that is taking place in Allegheny County or any place in the state, or any housing now under construction for the purpose of renting from such housing authorities, whether it is completed on in the process of completion and, such information as may be of help and benefit to us in the post-war period, when we will need so many more houses and we will need so much more work to put not only the civilian population to work but the millions of boys who will return from foreign soil.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, under this act, for instance, if a private contractor were employed by the housing authority, you would then come in and have the right to investigate under this act?

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, there are no such private houses, either in the process of construction or already constructed. The houses that this bill refers to are large housing projects that we probably intend to duplicate in the future.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, isn't there now one private housing construction in the city of Philadelphia and could not under this act this committee go and investigate that one?

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, I don't know of any private housing construction in the city of Philadelphia, but it seems to me that if we can get information from any private sources, that information certainly would be of great benefit to us and we would be just as anxious to get that information as we would be from the other housing projects.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 589 is an act introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon. I want you to listen to what I am going to read so that you can understand it. This bill means that the gentleman wants to go into each one of these counties with a committee and an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars to investigate any housing project as he said awhile ago. In other words, if you have a contractor in your own county under one of these Housing Authorities, this investigating committee could come in and investigate your contractor. If the state appropriated the money toward the building of a housing project, toward any Federal housing project, then I would be willing to hold an investigation of their books or anything the gentleman wishes to fish for, but under this present bill I see no reason why the Members on both sides of the House should vote for something that will result in but very little benefit to anybody. I ask the Members on both sides of the House to vote "no" on this appropriation which is for the purpose of giving to this investigating committee the right to go on a fishing expedition.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HANNON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know from the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon, whether he is aware of the fact that there is a Congressional Committee in the United States Congress that is going to be promulgated to investigate such housing projects.

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, whether there is or is not would make but little difference in this bill. We here in Pennsylvania feel and believe that there is much to be learned and much to be gained by an investigation of these housing projects, so that when we duplicate such projects we may be able to know better how to spend millions of dollars. We believe as a result of this investigation we will find ways and means to build better houses and sell them for less money, as the result of having made ourselves acquainted with the purchase prices, and, of course, if they have any good points we can follow those too.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether the gentleman has had any requests to conduct such an investigation or to create a legislative committee for the purpose of conducting such an investigation?

Mr. HANNON. As a real estate broker, Mr. Speaker, and as a man who has done some building himself, I have had quite a lot of discussion with many people and they all feel that we must have a housing project after the war is over, and that now is the time to find out whether or not we should copy the present method of building these houses.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know from the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hannon, whether he has had any such requests from Westmoreland County?

Mr. HANNON. Mr. Speaker, the only person I know from Westmoreland County, to the best of my knowledge, is Mr. Petrosky himself, and he has not asked me.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, we have before us House Bill No. 589 which creates an additional commission and appropriates to this commission the sum of $15,000. May I say without reflection on any Member of this House that I feel the bill before us today is simply designed to aid the political followers of a certain party. In many instances this Legislature has placed upon the statute books acts which would restrain certain organizations in this Commonwealth from contributing financially to political organizations or to political activities or to political parties, but I charge that in this bill, upon the passage of it, we are contributing $15,000 to the furtherance of a political campaign.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Heatherington, Petrosky and Tate asked for a verification of the roll.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 71.

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1943.

Whereas, December 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor proved America cannot stay out of war because she wills it so; and

Whereas, The radio and the aeroplane have obliterated distances and brought all the world into close and related contact, thereby destroying our former isolation and rendering necessary dealing with global problems as part of our own; and

Whereas, It has therefore become necessary for us to be thinking of world peace because it will be part of our own peace, and we must not be unprepared for that peace as we were for the war; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Congress and the people of the United States give more thought to a closer association of the United Nations to further the speedy termination of the war, and the winning of the kind of peace that will rid the world, once and for all, of the banditry and aggression that have made life intolerable for all peoples who believe in liberty and justice and the dignity of mankind.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HUNTLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to call your attention to an editorial in the Harrisburg Daily Patriot of April 8.

I quote in part from the editorial:

If there is any doubt in the public mind as to the source of pressure for more laxity in liquor and gambling laws, some figures on the number of licensed clubs in Pennsylvania may help clear it up.

There are now in the State 3,500 licensed clubs. Of these about 2,200 are what are called "one-man clubs," which in plain words means they are "drinking clubs."

Their main purpose is to get around the Sunday closing laws by which taverns are regulated under the Liquor Control Act. As clubs they are open at all hours on Sunday just as on any other day. On Sunday morning they are permitted to remain open three hours after the licensed taverns close at midnight.

They are the beneficiaries of the other special privileges which increases their business and their profits. Their license fees are smaller than the tavern fees, and they enroll associate members who are privileged to buy liquor but not vote as regular members.

Mr. Speaker, these charges are so grave that many people wonder why such conditions exist. A generation ago, profiteering, liquor drinking clubs did not control the state as they do today. Why do they now? It takes no stretch of the imagination to find the reason. These conditions did not exist before the present illogical, impossible, wicked liquor laws were written on our statute book. The present laws solicit the citizens to drink in order to make profits for the liquor vendors and revenue for the state. The more liquor the citizens drink the more revenue. Habitual liquor drinking is admitted to be harmful and degrading. Nevertheless the state not only encourages habitual drinking but universal drinking as well. A state cannot be any better than the citizens who compose it; consequently a state that degrades its citizens degrades itself. Such a state cannot long endure. We are told that the present system discourages "bootlegging." I have known many "bootleggers." Most of them were intelligent, industrious, God-fearing people. They did not solicit customers but customers solicited them. How different does the state retail its liquor? It is highly advertised in newspapers, radio and bill boards. These advertisements solicit customers as follows; I quote:

Precious whiskey with a gracious flavor, that to taste it is always to want it. Extra good and satisfying to the last drop. It is stylish for health and cheer. It is so creamy and soft and good.

Did you ever hear of a "bootlegger" advertising like that? As a matter of fact when it comes to public decency the "bootlegger" is a gentleman compared with that fictitious, soulless robot doing business under the trade name of "Liquor Control." It is an old saying "He should not censure who cannot offer a remedy." There is a remedy. It is in revising the laws to incorporate the principles of the old Brooks law. In that law the people controlled liquor in the interest of temperance and sobriety. If liquor is not controlled in this manner, what is the use of controlling it at all? The present law gives liquor a free hand to control the people in the interest of boosting liquor consumption and political rackets. The principle of the Brooks law would take control of retail alcoholic beverage back to home rule. If the people are to control liquor instead of liquor controlling the people there must be a system of local control. There is no objection to the state monopolizing the wholesale business but when it dopes its citizens by the glass it is committing a social and moral wrong and no state can maintain its integrity and stability on a governmental policy of wrong doing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. REGAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, soon after this House convened on January 18, 1943, I introduced a bill known as House Bill No. 3, or better known by persons outside this House as the Soldiers Bonus Bill.

Soon after the introduction of this bill, to wit, February 9, 1943, about 3.30 p. m. I consulted with the Governor of the Commonwealth, who suggested to me at that time that it was a good bill, and in fact stated that I should increase the amount from $110,000,000 to $250,000,000.

I have been striving ever since to get this bill reported out of Committee for action by this House. I regret to state, as you all know, no action has as yet been taken and apparently since we are now in the last week of the Session, no action will be taken.

I have heard many disturbing remarks concerning this bill—remarks which I do not care to believe. These remarks indicate that the soldiers should be busy fighting the war and not be concerned with post war bonuses; further that the soldiers returning from this war should not be given any more money than those who returned from the last war. These statements, I consider speechless and to my mind, indicate the thinking of this administration. I have been told that the Administration is opposed to the bill. It is my suggestion that if the administration was in favor of the bill, it would have been reported out of Committee for action before this.

Let me repeat what the Governor said when he delivered his Inaugural Address and I quote "That the first to receive attention would be the soldier returning home and under no circumstances must we permit the millions of soldiers to become another lost generation, perplexed and unable to find themselves. Wherever possible, a soldier must be returned to the job he left, if he desires to have it."

This, I thought, was the Governor's position. After my conference with him on February 9th, I was sure of it. It seems as if the Administration is pussy-footing. Recently the following matter was called to my attention. Last September an employee of this House was inducted into the armed services. His name, of course, was taken off the payroll. Recently this man was honorably discharged from the services of his country and requested his job again. He was told there was no position available for him and the regret was expressed that he could not be accommodated.

This, Mr. Speaker, makes the pattern very clear to me. The Governor in his Inaugural Address directed our attention to the problems of the soldier and certainly the matter of a bonus is one of those problems. He further called to the attention of the General Assembly and indirectly to industry that the returning soldier should be reinstated to his job and yet, this administration by this recent action of refusing an honorably discharged veteran his job, is setting the pattern for industry. I think, Mr. Speaker, it is a very bad example.

Mr. Speaker, I am willing today to permit a member on the other side of the House to be a co-sponsor with me on my bill, so that it shall not be said that a Democrat wanted credit for this legislation. In fact, Mr. Speaker, I am willing to take my name off the bill if it will mean that the bill can be acted on immediately and passed before this House adjourns.

Mr. Speaker, I leave it up to the Members of the House to redeem in letter and spirit this pledge of the Governor.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

HOUSE BILL No. 828.

An Act to further amend section one and paragraphs (a) and (b) of section three and sections four and seven and amend section five of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 1024) entitled "An act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others by prescribing penalties for violations thereof by defining the procedure in prosecutions and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof" by changing the definition of "week" and "day" and by increasing the hours of labor and temporarily suspending certain restrictions on employment.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title page 2, line 3 by striking out the word "definition" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "definitions"

Amend section 1, page 2 by striking out in lines 13 to 21 inclusive the following: "by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same"

Amend section 3, page 5, line 25 by striking out the words "any establishment" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "such establishments"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House about a week or ten days ago it was violently opposed by the minority side because it represented what we considered and what organized labor considered was the taking from labor of something which had been won by labor after many years of fighting for decent hours to work and decent conditions of work for women. At the time the bill was discussed I suggested that many of the things that were sought to be accomplished by the proponents of the bill could be accomplished under existing law. I am happy to say to the Speaker tonight that the amendments inserted by the Senate agree with the view that I took at that time, in that they stated that the employer may, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor and Industry and the Industrial Board seek employes for unusual hours of employment, provided such employment is directly or indirectly in furtherance of the war effort. I said then and I say it again that the women of labor, the women who are employed in war industries would not complain about unusual hours of employment provided that they were given those unusual hours of employment directly to aid the war effort. I am happy that the bill now contains that restriction upon the blanket clauses in the original bill. However, I feel that the original bill in some other respects still has defects which we cannot agree with. We agree with these particular amendments that were discussed but we cannot agree with the bill in its entirety. I am going to ask the Members on this side to vote against concurrence in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1100, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section four article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby resolves as follows

Section 1 The following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section four article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 4 Every bill shall be considered and agreed to on three different legislative days in each House all amendments made thereto shall be printed for the use of the members before the final vote is taken on the bill and no bill shall become a law unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays the names of the persons voting for and against the same be entered on the journal and a majority of the members elected to each House be recorded thereon as voting in its favor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third readings?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this joint resolution is to clarify a situation in Article III, Section 4, in order to carry out the intent of the framers who fought over it in the convention of 1873. It is to prevent any further filibustering under that section by putting a literal interpretation upon the word.

At the Constitutional Convention of 1873 sat a great constitutional lawyer whose name was Buckalew. His book on the Constitution of Pennsylvania is familiar to all lawyers in this House. He was a former State Senator of this Legislature, a former United States Senator and a former State Chairman of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania. So I believe the Democratic members of this House should have no trouble in following him. It maybe if they would have looked to his words and his authority before they started this filibuster they would have held their heads in shame, because this great Democratic leader refers to a great English parliamentarian and jurist for his authority as to the meaning of the words "read at length". The name of this great English parliamentarian is Bentham, to whom I have referred, and I would like to quote from the authority of Buckalew who is an outstanding framer of the Constitution, his authority, which is Bentham, Volume 2, page 300, as follows:

With regard to three readings, the first is almost confined to the introduction of the bill and general observations upon it, the second is debate upon its principles, the third regarded as a whole, the terms which have been considered and settled.

The authority of the author of the Constitution of Pennsylvania says that the words "read at length" were for the purpose of observation, consideration and debate, and at no time did they look upon those words as referring to listening to the reading clerk for the purpose of filibustering. It is better that we should believe, Mr. Speaker, as every member of this House has been seen during the past filibuster, that the routine of listening to the reading clerk when the bills are on the members' desks tends to stifle debate and therefore defeat the very purpose which the framers of the Constitution intended those words to mean. I would also like to state that I have searched every state constitution in the United States and there is no state constitution that has exactly the same wording as Pennsylvania on bill reading. So, we are not, if we pass this, changing any uniform provision of the law among the state constitutions of the United States, but we are merely clarifying and carrying out the intent of the framers of the Constitution of 1874. So that the spirit of our Constitution shall no longer be blackened by these learned legislators filibustering upon this section, thereby throwing enormous expense upon the taxpayers of this Commonwealth by a prolonged filibuster, because every Member knows it costs many thousand of dollars for the House employes and for the mileage of the members for every week that we continue to filibuster, to clarify that for future legislatures I ask the Members to support this joint resolution, sponsored by the gentleman from Allegheny and myself.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I presume some of the remarks of the gentleman might be presumed to refer to me and to the Members on this side of the House. I think the minority made its purpose very clear when originally we asked that the provision of the Constitution be invoked and put into effect in this House that all bills be read at length. I believe about two weeks ago I publicly stated that we had achieved our purpose and we voluntarily agreed then to relinquish our right to invoke the Constitution and that we would take the responsibility and the blame if any can be rightfully placed upon us.

Mr. Speaker, everyone well knows what happened in Harrisburg and what caused this so-called filibuster. I think that two weeks of difficult work was productive of results in volume comparable to any other period in this session, at least it gave the people of Pennsylvania a chance to focus their attention on what was happening in this so-called war legislature.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Crawford will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not talking on the resolution before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair cannot sustain the point of order. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, as I said two weeks ago, I felt we had accomplished that purpose, at least the people now know what was going on. Frankly I cannot say that the business conducted since that time was worth very much of the time that we spent here. But let me make this clear, that this resolution is a joint resolution for a Constitutional amendment, to provide if it is adopted, that the Constitutional provision requiring bills to be read at length be done away with. That, Mr. Speaker, shall eventually be voted upon by the people of Pennsylvania, and if the people of Pennsylvania vote that this resolution shall be adopted as a Constitutional amendment, we are all for it. If the people reject it, then we're all for that too. But at least the people of Pennsylvania will have had an opportunity to speak, and the minority party, which we trust will be the majority party then, will abide by what the people say and what the people think and not what any majority party in control in either branch of the House wants to impose upon us. I ask the Members on this side to vote for the resolution.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that I am happy to co-sponsor this resolution with the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, who I believe is serving his first term in the House. He has taken the pains to go into the debate in the Constitutional convention, and those of you who have tried to go into those debates know what a difficult job it is. He has also consulted many legal authorities on the interpretation of the Constitution and I think that the Members of the House and the people of Pennsylvania generally will be indebted to that gentleman for his thorough research. It is a very, very difficult matter, and I want publicly to express my appreciation.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, although I hesitate on a resolution that gives the people the right to decide, sometimes say to you that the way these things are put to the people a lot of times it has a lot of effect upon the results. I say to you that the many shortcuts under the Constitution that have been made by the intelligentsia that I sometimes hesitate on whether or not we are protecting the Constitution when we make such change. I hope that the people of Pennsylvania, when they have the right to vote on this particular change understand thoroughly what it means, what happened in the Legislature during this last session, and why we fought in the interests of democracy and the Constitution as we did when we realize that at times when we find these things in the Constitution that sometimes years later we find was a help to the people. I certainly hope the people of Pennsylvania will be given the right steer when the vote on this particular change in the Constitution.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TATE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in the well-known words of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, "Let's be fair." Some of the members leave the House who wish to be recorded in the proper way but I think we can save the time of the House if you "decreed" the vote.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1073, as follows:

An Act creating a commission to investigate racketeering in the operation of labor organizations in the Commonwealth conferring powers upon said commission and making an appropriation

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Whereas Charges have been publicly made especially during recent months that due to the dishonesty rapacity and greed of certain persons connected with labor organizations as officers or members thereof the vast powers of such organizations have been used by such persons to their own disadvantage and profit and to the great loss of standing and prestige of the labor organization with which they were connected and that such acts have resulted also in slowing of the war effort and

Whereas The legal question as to what effective steps if any the State of Pennsylvania through its Legislature might take in order to remedy such evils should they be found to be prevalent is of course of great interest to the people of Pennsylvania

Section 1 A commission to be known as the "Pennsylvania Labor Racketeering Commission" is hereby created for the purpose of investigating the charges currently made against labor organizations particularly those affecting the internal operations of such organizations their refusal to enroll competent workmen in the organizations and the allegations of fraud by officers against members and to report to the General Assembly at its next regular session the results of its investigation and any remedial action that should be taken

Section 2 The commission shall consist of three members of the Senate to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate one of whom shall be a member of the minority party three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives one of whom shall be a member of the minority party and three residents of the Commonwealth to be appointed by the Governor one of whom shall be a member of the minority party

Section 3 The members of the commission shall meet immediately after their appointment and organize by electing a chairman and vice-chairman and a secretary The secretary of the commission need not be a member thereof

Section 4 The commission shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of such chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the commission and to produce such books papers records and documents as the commission may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served by any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said commission shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said commission or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

Section 5 The commission shall have power to fix the compensation of the secretary if not a member of the commission and may employ and fix the compensation of such counsel experts clerks and assistants as may be deemed necessary to carry on the work of the commission

The members of the commission shall receive no compensation for their services but shall be reimbursed for living and traveling expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties

Section 6 The sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Pennsylvania Labor Racketeering Commission for the payment of the expenses of the members of the commission for the compensation and expenses of the secretary counsel and other employes for postage telephone telegraph freight and express charges for automobile hire for transportation of persons engaged to perform farm labor and for all other incidental expenses deemed necessary by the commission to carry into effect the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on this reading?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Lancaster if House Bill No. 1073, Printer's No. 694, was ever before the Committee on Appropriations?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. It was not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman said this afternoon that the Commonwealth had lots of money, is that correct?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Mr. Speaker, it still has a cent or two left.

Mr. BROWN. Does the gentleman feel that as chairman of the committee an appropriation of $10,000, which is not noted on the budget of the Appropriations Committee would in any way interfere with the budget?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, if House Bill No. 1073 passed today, in addition to the Hannon bill, which was listed on the calendar this afternoon, it would make $25,000 that we have appropriated without having it noted on the budget of the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Mr. Speaker, there have been several bills passed that were not in the budget.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, would this $25,000 in any way affect that budget?

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Not materially, no, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, on this motion to recommit to the Committee on Appropriations I happen to know that this bill will receive deliberate and careful consideration, but before it goes back to the committee I think I should make it clear to the Members of this House that I have no stock in the Postal Telegraph or Western Union Telegraph at all. I really was not attempting to increase the value of my stock, and furthermore, may I state that I realize how foolish an objection would be to putting it over into the Appropriations Committee.

I still want to make this statement in relation to this recommitment of this bill. I think I would be false to myself and also to a lot of other people if I did not make it. I do not propose to come to the Legislature and present bills that I personally don't feel have merit. It is not my intention to come here to indulge in horseplay. This bill has a side to it that should be debated on the floor of this House, and I may in spite of the fact that it is going to the Appropriations Committee, take the time of this House under a question of personal privilege and present arguments that I feel are in favor of this bill.

I want it to be distinctly and clearly understood that I am perfectly willing to debate this bill tonight, tomorrow or any time with any gentleman on the floor of this House. I feel that the public has a right to hear this bill debated on the subject of racketeering within unions. So, Mr. Speaker, I will not object to its recommitment. I realize how futile it would be. I suppose in seconding its recommitment I might say "Fairwell. Goodbye. God bless you."

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I have no desire to make a motion that might keep the gentleman from debating the bill. That would be unfair. Mr. Lovett has been hollering "lets be fair." I would rather withdraw my motion if the gentleman desires to debate the merits of the bill. Certainly I do not want to be put in the position of making a motion that would interfere with anything he might want to say on the bill. I will be very happy to withdraw the motion temporarily.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly willing right now to present an argument in favor of this bill to bring out perhaps both side of this question that is very, very much in the minds of a lot of people tonight, and there are many people in the state who are interested in having some debate on this bill. If the gentleman wishes to withdraw I will let his side take the opportunity of debating against the bill, and I will answer it.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman wish to debate the merits of the bill at this time?

Mr. McMILLEN. I would very much like to, Mr. Speaker.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion temporarily.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1073, Printer's No. 694, proposes to set up a nine man commission to study and attempt to find out and then make a report of its recommendations on the charges that have been hurled at unions and at leaders of labor unions within this Commonwealth. This proposes, if you please, to make a review of charges that have been made. These charges may be false, they may be true. I have communications both for and against this bill. I might say in passing, gentlemen, that my communications against this bill have all come from business agents or presidents or secretaries or treasurers of these particular unions that have seen fit to oppose by telegrams, letters or other means. That perhaps is right and proper, I am not questioning that, but I have not received one telegram or one letter from any of the rank and file of the members of these labor unions. Their quietness in this thing has me interested. I have on the other hand quite a lot of communications from members of unions, rank and file, who are in favor of this bill. They are in favor of a review and inquiry, an impartial looking into of all the facts surrounding the finances and the election of officers and delegates to the State and National conventions. They are interested in knowing where their money is going; they are interested in a secret ballot in order that they may themselves personally signify their choice for president, secretary, treasurer and delegates to conventions.

I admit very readily that some unions follow that procedure, which is right. I am not going to argue that unions do not conduct fair and honest elections. I am not charging anything. I am only taking what I have picked up in comments that I have heard in personal contact and charges that were hurled in the newspapers. Some will say, "Oh, the newspapers, you cannot believe anything they say." Well, I have always found the boys down there in front to be fair, honest and impartial. At times they have taken me over the coals. At times they have not. I think that when it is all summed up that the freedom of the press very well brings out both sides of the question.

I will read some communications in relation to this bill. I noticed in particular when I came to these telegrams that many of them come from the Philadelphia area. Well, it might be interesting for me just to relate—I don't want to take your time to read all this material, but I might relate a letter or part of it from the Boiler Makers and Iron Ship Builders of America. Are they your brothers, some of you people who are opposing this? At least they are union men. Here is what they say:

We are asking you to use every effort to have the proposed bill to investigate all labor unions and their officials passed.

Their reasons are that they are compelled to pay five percent on their weekly earnings or they are not allowed to start work the following Monday of each week. Besides, the above mentioned each member must pay three dollars per month for dues. It is their opinion that it is a Federal regulation to compel them under threat that if they do not pay they are not allowed to work. All members are working on Government work and they have pledged themselves to our Honorable President Roosevelt that they will not strike during the duration of the war. It is not only insurance for the workmen but to the Government, because there is considerable time lost on each job during the day's work. They go on to tell about the loafing that is done on some of these jobs. What this communication brings out is the amount of dues, how they have jumped the dues in these offices. In some cases I find in the communications where the initiation fees have been jumped from ten dollars to seventy-five dollars just in a short length of time. I find where the fees for a permit to work run into five percent of the income of that individual.

I have heard workers say that you must have a closed shop, you must belong to the union to work, then I say that the Government, state or National, should step in then and say "Since we make this man join your union you shall not take from him an excessive initiation fee."

In other words, it amounts to this, and I have had hundreds of them work for me that have had to do this in order to get work on a job on which I may have been foreman or superintendent on any construction, pay twenty-five dollars for the privilege of taking the job. I am not accusing that this is wrong, but I do say to you that those men who paid that twenty-five dollars have a right to know where it goes and what is done with it.

While we are on the subject of finance, may I take up a financial report of two of our largest unions. I am sure some of my friends in the House will recognize this little bulletin,—both those on the floor and those on the sides. It is the latest report of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, making an accounting to their state convention. There are some interesting figures here. I find here when they report on this bill of mine and several others, that they say this,—and this is perfectly within their right as citizens—"You know that all of the sponsors of these bills have stated time and again that they have no desire to hurt labor but they merely seek to protect our movement." Surely we said that. I could very easily, gentlemen, have gotten away from standing here in the floor of the House facing opposition or debating this measure if I didn't believe in it and if I were not willing to stake myself and my political future, if I have any political future, and not talk in favor of the thing I believe in. Again I say I did not come here proposing legislation just merely for the pleasure of it. They are as much as insinuating that I am not conscientious and not sincere in this. There may be reasons for that accusation, and maybe these are some of them, taken from their own records.

I find here that the president of this organization, well-known to all of us, receives a yearly salary of $5,902.80. I also find that he receives an expense account of $3,028.71. In other words, the president of this organization received $8,931.51 for the year. Gentlemen, I don't say that is too much money for the president of an organization as large as this,—I am not questioning that, but I do say that here is the thing we are after, we want to give to the membership of these unions these facts, and a lot of them don't get them. The secretary as the treasurer of this organization received a total of $6,597.73, yet the members who belong to the State Federation of Labor know what the salary of their president is, and their secretary as the treasurer, certainly; that is fine, but go back into that little local union where these twenty-five dollar fees are collected, where these weekly permits are issued and find out what the income and the salary of those little presidents are. Go down in there and find out where that twenty-five dollars goes to. Surely this makes it clear as far as the state is concerned. I have checked this over and I have no fault to find.

I picked up on the other hand the CIO bulletin audited for a seven months' period and I find in this bulletin a total income, total gross receipts for seven months' time $2,605,202.91. That isn't cabbage in anybody's language. I also find that they had an excess of $301,187.75. I want to know, and I think the membership of an organization that handles that much money wants to know what becomes of it. No corporation in the state of Pennsylvania legally constituted by law, administered by law, controlled by law, dare handle anywhere near that amount of money without scrutiny on the part of the Legislature. I ask you, has any organization any right to come before the public handling that much money for the sake of their own honor and the protection of their own people, any right to refuse, a right to fight against a display of where the money goes?

I go on here and I find in this book something else that interests me. I find that the salaries of the officers of the International Union of the CIO, four of them, international officers, received a total salary of $30,250.01. We find down through this account "Buttons." I am only questioning as a citizen looking at these things, I am only running down the list, buttons, emblems and badges in seventh months' time $19,478.15, for buttons, emblems and badges. I just wonder, gentlemen, how many buttons, emblems and badges $19,000 would buy.

I go on down and I find another item, "Stationery, printing and office supplies" $46,759.41, but I find an answer and explanation for part of that, and I don't question that so much. I go on down a little bit further and I find "Travelling Expenses" $42,792.96. Well, that's a lot of money for travelling. And then again I wonder. I find here that for organizing expenses and contributions for union activities only $9,000 plus, that is all, but I find $30,000 to four people in salaries.

I swing on over here to statement No. 5 and I find that the total of the salaries and the wages of all the regular personnel, casual personnel, travel and per diem expenses of casual personnel, regular personnel, and again casual personnel, that made a grand total for just salaries and expenses of $1,316,546.35, and I find in that total list of people included in all this that 561 people got a total of $1,316,546.35. That makes approximately $2,328 a person. Well, that is a pretty fair salary all the way around in a sense of the word, but the majority of it went to a few at the top. Well, there is just another side of the finances.

We have had very much in the limelight a friend of organized labor, Mr. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. I would like to quote for the information of this House as a substantiating factor in this thing of requiring some query into the finances, some of the salaries paid by the United Mine Workers in one year. I might incidentally state before I start that the Lewis family took out of the United Mine Workers funds in a year $70,500. Here's the way it is distributed: Mr. Lewis himself gets $25,000 plus expense account, and no figures have ever been revealed even to the union members what his expense account is and how much. His daughter Kathryn, a good secretary no doubt, received $7,500 plus an expense account unrevealed. Denny Lewis, a brother, gets $10,000.

The following is an account of the Lewis family: J. R. Bell, a brother-in-law, $6,000 a year; Ora Miller, another brother-in-law, $5,000 a year; William Thomas, a cousin of John L. Lewis, $5,000; Margaret Windig, a sister-in-law of Denny Lewis, $2,400; Anna Miller, daughter of brother-in-law Ora Miller gets $2,400.00; a son-in-law of another of Lewis' brothers-in-law, as organizer, gets $3,600.00. The total of the Lewis family payroll is $70,500 with an unrevealed and an unannounced and unaccounted for expense account.

Do you mean to tell me, does everybody mean to say then that a man going into the pits, risking his very life to produce coal, having children at home to feed and clothe, should not know where seventy thousand five hundred dollars plus expense account goes? Should they not further know where all this money is that they put in? Should they not have some idea about how that money is invested over and above what is necessary to run these unions?

Another question comes into this that I think is very vital. I recognize and I admit, and I have known some in the past and I know some today who are racketeering employers. I do not intend nor for one minute do I want you to think that I would stand on the floor of this House and say to you people that I believe employers are lily-white, that they are one hundred percent. No sir, we recognize that fact by law that there is employer racketeering, we don't question that. We believe in it so much that the Federal Government enacted what is known as the Federal Labor Relations Act in order to leave an organization stand between the men who are being taken advantage of and those who would take advantage.

We further substantiated that by coming down here and setting up what is known as the State Labor Relations Act to stand between employer and employees in this matter of fair labor practice; honesty between the two. I say to you gentlemen some people argue that this is unconstitutional and that legislation that would get within these labor unions and that would demand an accounting of finances, secret ballots, no political contributions would be unconstitutional, but I submit this argument, that before you can set up a law to legislate anything you must admit that there exists a social growth, be it good or bad. you cannot legislate with one thing on one side and nothing on the other; you have to take into consideration both sides of this thing,—and the state of Pennsylvania has a song about it and the Federal Government has a song about it—they assume that it is their obligation and their duty to stand between you and your money that you invest in a corporation, and the officers who administer that corporation, they require that corporation to be registered, they require it to file its accounts, they prohibit political contributions, by the same token I say it is the duty of the Legislature to stand between you and your money and the officers who administer your affairs, and it is the duty of the Legislature to stand between me and my hands, the only thing that I have got to invest in this world, my skill, and the man who is selling to the public, they have a moral obligation to perform.

Another argument that might enter into this thing, many people might say this is a smear on labor unions. I might just state for the information of this House, I have brothers who belong to these unions. One is working today for the Dravo Corporation of Pittsburgh, one at the American Bridge and I myself have at times belonged to these unions, and my father before me belonged.

They say maybe this is hurting the war effort. Do you think, with a brother somewhere off in this world that I know not of, who has a wife and a little child in this country, the mother of which child is nursing at this time because she feels it is her duty to leave that child in the care of others that she may perform her duty. Do you think for a moment that I would stand here and do anything that would harm those people? I say to you that the Legislature has a job to do here. Look at it two ways, if these charges are true that we see in the newspapers, if there is anything wrong, if the house is not in order, if the union officials are racketeers who lost their incomes perhaps from the bootleg industry, or some other movement than the labor movement, then it is the duty of this Legislature to put those unions back into the hands of the men who support them.

On the other hand if these charges are not true, if labor is being smeared by some unscrupulous employer, or if an employer may have in his employ someone who is paid to smear or manufacture these smears against labor as a whole, then I say to you this Legislature has a duty to perform in order to clear and announce on the floor of this House that labor is not guilty of the things they are being charged with.

Let us just look at the thing frankly and open-mindedly. I don't come out on this floor to deal in personalities. I come here only to deal with a problem that is apparent, and in that light and in that spirit many of us will depart these halls tonight with a difference of opinion on this matter. I right now have a difference of opinion, I suppose, but yet I say to you while we may differ on these things we are still all American citizens and we must by conscientious approach, by sincere effort attempt to umpire this problem, place guilt where guilt is due, place honor where honor is due, and that's all I ask.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I listened with a great deal of interest to the gentleman's statement. Will the gentleman give me the name of one labor leader in Pennsylvania—and I believe we are concerned with Pennsylvania unions and not National unions—

Mr. McMILLEN. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. —who is a racketeer or who has stolen money.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I will read the charge, if you desire, that I took from the paper, that's all I have. After all I haven't investigated if some of these things are true; that's what I am after. We must of course, Mr. Speaker and Mr. Cohen, take into consideration in this problem that after all these national officers have a great influence out in the state, and many of their finances stem from the state. They come from within and they go on up, and of course any charges that were placed against perhaps the national union could be traced back down to the sources, but remember this, I am not standing on the floor of this House and personally charging that these things are true; I want to know.

I wouldn't take a man's name on the floor of this House and charge him with anything that I don't know is true; this is not the place for that.

Let me read what I have clipped from the Pittsburgh Press of September 4, 1942. This concerns one Mr. Green. I hesitate to read this of the A. F. of L.:

The charges contained in a detailed complaint filed with common pleas court were aimed principally at Leo A. Green, Secretary and Financial Treasurer of Local No. 449, United Association of Journeymen Plumbers and Steamfitters, although five other officials of the local were cited as co-defendants.

Here are the charges filed against Mr. Green in the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County:

Among other things, Mr. Green was charged with failure to give an accounting of some two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars collected in "permit fees" mostly from workers on war-plant construction projects.

Under the permit-fee system, employes are assessed for the privilege of working—on grounds they don't qualify for full union membership. The complainants said that in one instance permit fees were as high as $2 a day for steam fitters and 50 cents a day for helpers. The local's minimum dues for regular members, they added, are $9 a month."

It might be interesting to add that the Federal Government requires me as superintendent of construction up in the Pittsburgh area to hire only members of labor unions, in other words a closed shop. That's all there is to it. I cannot hire anyone else. I must and I do hire through these business agents. I have had experience.

The complaint said in one instance that the permit-fees were two dollars a day for steam fitters and fifty cents a day for helpers.

Why, God bless you, the teachers can't get two dollars a day for their work in the schools.

Mr. COHEN. The gentleman is right. We will take care of that.

Mr. McMILLEN. I hope so. Now then, here is a list of the charges:

1—That Mr. Green bought $85,000 in war and other Government bonds with union funds in his own name.

2—That he purchased at least $32,000 in real estate, including an $11,000 home in Saranac Ave. with union money.

3—That he "reputedly" spent $40,000 of the local's treasury to have himself elected to the international vice presidency, from which position he now "apparently blocks any corrective measures that may be taken against him.

4—That he failed to deposit with the union a "great part" of the $150,000 in fees assessed by him and other defendants in a 10-month period last year against 1200 workers employed in building a new plant for the duPont Co. at Morgantown, W. Va.

5—That he gave no accounting of some $75,000 in permit fees collected in 1937-1938 from workers on the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. expansion project at the Irwin Works.

6—That he closed, without accounting for withdrawal of money, a $10,000 fund set aside for the purchase of a building to house the union's offices.

7—That he used union funds to buy himself a 1941 sedan, an "expensive" camera, a welding outfit and "a public address system" which he keeps as his personal property.

The complaints also charge that Mr. Green loaned union money to his family and friends and even posted a $2,000 bond out of the local's treasury for a friend arrested on a manslaughter charge.

Now, gentlemen, I don't say and I don't want to be quoted as saying that these charges are true, but I would like to know for the benefit of the men who have worked for me and with whom I am in sympathy and who are friends of mine,—I want to know where the money is going?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask another question?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Indiana, in his first sentence, I believe, said that this was an action in the Court of Common Pleas in Allegheny County.

Mr. McMILLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. May I ask the gentleman what happened to that?

Mr. McMILLEN. I am not talking about what happened in the case.

Mr. COHEN. There is the thing to look into.

Mr. McMILLEN. Doesn't the gentleman think the courts may give justice? The question now is, who has the money, who in the local union? Evidently the money is all gone.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am through with the interrogation.

May I say in opening, Mr. Speaker, and I hope to close shortly, that the labor movement in Pennsylvania and the labor movement in the United States has no apologies to offer and requires no defense. It stands on its two good strong legs.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has just proven my case. There has been some newspaper talk about racketeering in labor; there have been newspaper articles concerning the supposed taking of moneys without right and without any color of title. Well, the proof of the pudding is that some union members who didn't like whoever it was that did it, took him to court, and he is in court now asking for an accounting, and we presume the court in its usual process, and its very honest decent process, will find out what happened to the money and whether or not the charges are true.

Let us go one step further. For the sake of argument suppose that the union did not take the gentleman into the Common Pleas Court for an accounting, but made a grave charge. Let us assume, that he charged embezzlement of the money. All you need to do in Allegheny County is to go across the hall to the District Attorney's office where he can sign an information and the District Attorney can file an indictment, and if the grand jury believes that a case has been made out, they will find a true bill and he will go to trial. If he is found guilty the proper sentence will be meted out to him, and if the charges are baseless, he will be acquitted.

My contention is, and it is very sound and just common sense, that if anyone steals money any place and if he is caught and indicted he pays the penalty under the law, and if he mishandles funds and does not come quite within the penal code, then he must file an accounting for the money which he allegedly misappropriated or mishandled. That's the point and there is enough law today to take care of rascals anywhere. We have penal laws to take care of officers of banks, trust companies and corporations. In lots of cases of officers of such organizations who have mishandled the peoples' money and these men have come afoul of the law they have been tried and convicted under the laws of Pennsylvania. We don't have to go out to investigate the corporations to find out whether what they have done was proper nor do we have to go out and find out whether their investments were proper. There is enough law now on the statute books to take care of any thief or racketeer, and it is up to the state of Pennsylvania through its district attorneys to determine where crime exists. But you don't make a scapegoat of the labor movement, you don't make a scapegoat of many men engaged in a struggle for getting for themselves decent wages, decent hours of employment and decent conditions under which to work.

Let me say that unions are guided by constitutions and by-laws, and they may go farther than that, if the constitution and by-laws do not provide sufficient remedy, they may go to the courts for relief.

I think sometimes, Mr. Speaker, that we look for the wrong thing when we try to find out what is wrong. When you try to find out what is wrong, especially in going after people that you don't like, the same penal code applies, the same courts will hold them and the same judge will sentence them later.

Let me comment briefly on some other items. I think we should all bend our efforts to inspire all our people, to inspire industry and inspire labor to greater efforts. We should inspire them to produce things which will win the war. Do not misunderstand me, I am not attempting to wrap the flag around the standard, but we don't want to tear it down and take a chance in any way, shape or form of breaking anyone's morale.

The point, Mr. Speaker, is this, that labor has its own collective bargaining agents under the law of the land and under the law of this Commonwealth. If the law is wrong, amend the law, repeal the law, but Mr. Speaker, and I have heard it from the other side many times lately, that the rule of the majority is the law of the land, and rule of the majority in the United States provides for many departments, it provides for many forums for conducting the affairs of labor and management and likewise the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania provide a forum for the settlement of disputes between labor and management. That is the law of the land, established by the majority and adhered to by the minority today.

On the question of who wrote to whom and about what, let me say, Mr. Speaker, that I received a lot of telegrams, as many of the Members of the House know. I brought a handful to the gentleman from Indiana, and I imagine he received telegrams from the same people. Let me say that the telegrams were wasted on me, because my position was very fully expressed when it was merely an idea in the mind of the gentleman from Indiana. However, I have talked to many people and many members of the union, and they have told me that they had advice that this legislation was pending, and I think it is the right of the officials of the union to notify us when legislation is pending that affects labor. They have asked me what these bills are and I have given them my opinion, they have said to me: "We are against the bill and want you to do something about it." I want to say that if we had been flooded with thousands of letters, telegrams and postcards, we would have received the same urgings from the representatives of labor, "Don't pass this bill." If they had come by thousands, Mr. Speaker, the accusation would have been made, "It's a put up job." They were put up by the top to do this thing; they had to send these letters, telegrams and postcards.

I would rather think that this urging to defeat this proposal was a movement that came from the men individually, and I know of many instances where union men have talked about it among themselves, they have discussed it with their leaders, and they look to us to oppose this legislation.

In the question of finances, the gentleman knows and I know and everyone here knows that our great international unions and most of our big unions in Pennsylvania either annually or semi-annually have to file a statement of expenditures in great detail.

The gentleman read from a statement of the American Federation of Labor which gave precisely to the penny the amount of money that was paid to the officers and expense accounts, and I am glad the gentleman agreed that those expense accounts were not improper or excessive for the burdensome and important work that these men do. So far as these expense accounts are concerned, we know that the men who received them have jobs to do, and by reason of the extra work they do they are entitled to these expenses. We never questioned them, and if there were a question raised as to money, something might have been said as happened the other night, when a resolution was presented specifically asking the Department of Justice to inquire into the alleged mishandling of committee funds. That's the easy and the proper way to do it. It is not a hysterical manner of doing things that is going to excite a lot of people, the people who exert themselves every day to contribute to the war effort, not only with their toil and their skill and their hearts, but with their money. All of our union people in Pennsylvania have contributed generously to the war fund, to the Red Cross, to the Salvation Army, to the war chest drives in many cities, and they have given unstintingly, Mr. Speaker, and they have done so at the urging of their leaders. Is this what we should question? Is this what we should investigate? Let me quote something from the statements of several unions, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, the International Ladies' Garment Workers, the United Mine Workers, and many others. They come to their members and tell them "Here is what we spent of your money," and if that statement is not satisfactory they can do what the fellow did in Allegheny County, they can go into court. That's the way we should approach the thing in these times; we should not become hysterical, we should not become excited to the point where we lose our reason, because when we lose our reason we become oppressive, and if we become oppressive we lose sight of what should apply in a democratic republic.

I should not like to think that the gentleman was impressed with an article which I read and with which I was impressed negatively in the Readers' Digest by a gentleman named William Hard. I don't know who the gentleman is. I don't know his background, but I do know that in this article in a magazine that has nationwide approval and a large nation-wide subscription list, he stated that he wished that a national campaign be waged to investigate, register and regiment labor unions. I should not like to think that Mr. Hard was motivated by an organization such as the National Association of Manufacturers. I disbelieve it, and I do not believe he was motivated by the same reasons. I believe that the gentleman in his own mind was sincere in what he wanted to do, and what he was saying, but may I suggest that he should soberly examine the laws, and if the gentleman wants legal advice free, I as a Philadelphia lawyer should like to point out to him that there are laws on the books of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today to help solve the problems to which he makes reference and which are referred to in this bill. That is the way we ought to do it, that is the sensible way and the best way to do it without becoming oppressive and without having recourse to witch hunting on a bill like this.

I trust the gentleman will not take my remarks in any way personal to him. I think he is sincere, I think he might broaden his views and take the same position I do, and possibly we may persuade him to come on middle ground or all the way over to our side in his understanding of this matter and considering it in a calm, cool and collective fashion.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I deeply appreciate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, offering me his services free, but I am a little hesitant about taking the free service of a Philadelphia lawyer. The gentleman mentioned a resolution's coming in here to clear up a situation upon which we have heard much discussion and talk. We surmised, we thought, we believed, we felt there was something wrong with the expenditure of three thousand dollars of the State's money. We of the Legislature introduced a resolution to investigate that. We investigated it and found that things are not as rosy as we would like them to be coming from a member of this House. The thing has not been at all pleasant, but I say to you that that is the best argument, and the gentleman fell right in with my argument. I am merely presenting this matter in the form of a bill, which is the only way the people have a chance to have these things presented. After all it must come from a Member of this Legislature to investigate something that is apparently wrong out in the state. The citizenry of this state have decided to investigate. The power to check and make an investigation must come from this House, and as we took the initiative we checked and we found things wrong in a situation that occurred right on the floor of this House.

Well, then, if we do it to protect ourselves and our good name, if sufficient evidence is presented, I think it is only fair to carry this thing on through, inasmuch as we are the representatives of the people of this state, that we put forth some legislation, some setup whereby we can make a check of this.

I would like to call the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia to the fact that we heard him stand here on the floor of this House and charge personally that a certain labor leader in this state was a labor faker, and I will ask, how can the floor leader of a party on the floor of this House refute my argument that maybe there is something wrong when he stands here and charges that a certain labor faker is having legislation put through this House? The thing ought to work both ways, and I would like to know how he can speak of inspiring these men, these war-workers to greater effort. I would like for you to explain to me, gentlemen, or anybody to explain to me a situation of this kind.

After the last special session of the Legislature I went to Meadville for two reasons; one was to check on some charges that I had heard personally. Another was, thinking that I might get one of those jobs up there that is paying one hundred twenty-five dollars a week straight time for supervision of construction. I went to the main offices. I asked to see the contractor or the superintendent.

I was denied admittance because they said, "Well, he won't talk to anybody unless he has a certificate from the union."

"Oh," I said, "I am not wanting to join any particular trade or profession at all. I am more or less in a supervisory capacity, and I would like a job of that kind, and I think I should discuss it with the superintendent or the general contractor."

The answer was "It doesn't make any difference, you can't get in here until you square up with the union."

I tell you, gentlemen, it took all the legislative passes I possess even as a member of this Legislature, with a state policeman, to get me by the union even to see the contractor or the superintendent.

Now, when a member of the Legislature,—and I am not speaking about myself alone, when a Member of this House can't go up to a Federal construction job and ask to see the superintendent or the general contractor without first passing the union office and paying homage and tribute, then I say there is something wrong. I ask you then how a man who did not possess the legislative passes I possessed, and who perhaps could not appeal to the state policeman standing there on the same basis as I could expect to get anywhere? It presently is hard to feel patriotism, it is hard to build up an incentive to work when the first thing you are asked is "Are you fixed up with the union?" Then you go into talk with the union man and he says "Look here, buddy, do you have the seventy-five dollars for the Carpenters' Union, or do you have the one hundred fifty dollars for the Shovel Operators' Union or the thirty-five dollars for the Bulldozer or Equipment Operators' Union?" It's a pretty hard job to build up an incentive to work, and the government says it's work or go to the army.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. GATES. Mr. Speaker, when my colleague Mr. Brown made the motion to recommit the bill I ask him if he would kindly withdraw his motion so my colleague Mr. McMillen would have a chance to talk on the bill, and I think all of us agree with Mr. Cohen that Mr. McMillen was sincere and earnest in his debate on this piece of legislation, but at the present time, in conjunction with my colleague, Mr. Brown, I move that House Bill No. 1073, Printer's No. 694 be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. GILLAN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Labor to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. HALL asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Highways to meet during the session of the House.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, the calendar says "bills on second reading." Is that a misprint?

The SPEAKER. That is a printer's error. The Chair thanks the gentleman. These bills are all on third reading, and the Chair should have announced that fact.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1086, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to Philadelphia Camp Number 200 Sons of Union Veterans for repairs and maintenance of Post 2 Grand Army of Republic Memorial Hall Philadelphia and contents thereof

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to Philadelphia Camp Number 200 Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War for repairs and maintenance of Post 2 Grand Army of the Republic Memorial Hall at Number 67 North Twelfth Street Philadelphia and the contents thereof including the preservation of the war relics paintings library and the records of disbanded posts of Grand Army of the Republic housed therein for the two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-three

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Dare.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'DARE. Right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Dare, in whose legislative district this armory is located?

Mr. O'DARE. Mr. Murray's district, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is one of the sponsors of this bill, is he not?

Mr. O'DARE. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. I would like to ask, Mr. Speaker, whether the gentleman ever visited Philadelphia Camp No. 200 Sons of Union Veterans?

Mr. O'DARE. I have not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me how many members this organization has?

Mr. O'DARE. I cannot, Mr. Speaker. I don't know what difference it makes anyhow. Does the gentleman know? Proceed, brother.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he knows how many living members there are in this organization.

Mr. O'DARE. I told the gentleman I didn't know, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman ought to know. I don't know how many even are dead. Let him go on.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire also of the gentleman if he can tell me how many days a week this home is open?

Mr. O'DARE. Every night in the week, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman is looking for it; I am giving it to him, these smart lawyers of Philadelphia.

Mr. SKALE. How can the gentleman say that the institution is open every night in the week when he previously told me he was never there.

Mr. O'DARE. Because it is in my district, Mr. Speaker. I know the district very well and I positively know what I am talking about,—and I am no attorney.

Mr. SKALE. Now, will the gentleman please answer me and tell me what are the war relics that are to be preserved in the institution?

Mr. O'DARE. Mr. Murray, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Skale also. Shoot again.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, I would also like to inquire of the gentleman, since he has never been in the institution, can he tell me what kind of books there are in this library that is to be preserved?

Mr. O'DARE. Mr. Speaker, I have never been a psycho case.

Mr. SKALE. I would also like to know if this institution has officers, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DARE. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. And I would also like to know whether there are any records kept, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'DARE. They have these victrola records, Mr. Speaker. Go on.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, one last question, I would like to know who the treasurer of this organization is who would get the $5,000?

Mr. O'DARE. Pat Henry.

Mr. SKALE. Who, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. O'DARE. Patrick Henry. The gentleman will also be declared in.

Mr. SKALE. I would like to remind the gentleman that this Patrick Henry was a little bit previous to the Civil War. I would like to ask the gentleman whether there are any Civil War veterans living in that district.

Mr. O'DARE. Positively, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Can the gentleman tell me how many?
Mr. O'DARE. Also in Montgomery County.
Mr. SKALE. How many Civil War veterans in that district?

Mr. O'DARE. I couldn't answer that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Can the gentleman tell me how many of them are registered in that district?

Mr. O'DARE. Republicans? I attend to that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SKALE. Before the gentleman answers that, can he tell me whether there is a Civil War cemetery in his district?

Mr. O'DARE. No, no, Mr. Speaker. I can name one, but I am on the floor. I have got one in my division, that is the Democrats in the ward.

Mr. SKALE. I would like to ask the gentleman also whether he is a member of this organization.

Mr. O'DARE. No, Mr. Speaker, but I pretty near came to be.

Mr. SKALE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I feel that the gentleman from Philadelphia has acquitted himself admirably, and he has shown to us that he is really fully acquainted with the affairs in his district. I therefore withdraw my objection.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, now that we have had a little pleasantry and this institution is not in my district, I want to tell you what I know about it, and I haven't been near it for many years. It is the old Anna M. Ross Post No. 2, Grand Army of the Republic, veterans of the Civil War, the last of whom died about ten years ago. The place is now kept up by the sons and the grandsons of these Civil War veterans, and even today in it there are relics of our Civil War, and while all the original members who are dead and gone do not vote in Mr. O'Dare's district or any where else, it is a national institution that deserves this appropriation in order that we may maintain it and recognize the heroic deeds of the Union soldiers of the Civil War. It is a large institution and I think it deserves our support.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Murray.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MURRAY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Say, Hughey, is Jimmy right?

Mr. MURRAY. Pretty near right.

Mr. COHEN. I thank you.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 809, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two four and thirty-two of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P.L. 1969) entitled "An act relating to nonprofit cooperative corporations organized to engage in rural electrification providing for the organization consolidation and dissolution of such corporations prescribing the qualification for membership therein conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and members prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing cooperative or nonprofit corporations and associations within the provisions of this act conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State departments commissions and officers fixing fee, conferring the right of eminent domain prohibiting the use of certain terms in the corporate names of other corporations exempting such corporations from excise taxes imposing on them a license fee and exempting such corporations from the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and from the provisions of the Securities Act" changing the definition of rural area requiring corporations hereafter incorporated to secure certificates of public convenience from the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and also requiring certificates in cases of new plants and systems and of extensions improvements and additions by such corporations defining the powers of the Commission in such cases and restricting the exercise of the power of eminent domain

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, February 17, 1941 this House passed a resolution whereby it renewed a pledge of cooperation with the farmers of the state in an effort to secure for them every benefit of the rural electrification program, and further to resist any effort to destroy the benefits of the rural electrification act of the 1937 session.

When I introduced House Bill 809 I was making no effort to violate the resolution that was passed and on which I voted. I saw in House Bill No. 809 what I believed to be a real opportunity for harmonizing the relationships between the regulated utilities and the cooperative utilities. After the bill was in the House it became the subject of a great deal of interest on the part of the Members here who are living with and among and who represent rural citizens and farmers in particular. I allowed this bill to remain on the second reading calendar for a considerable length of time, because I believed there would be prepared and offered amendments that would represent a conciliation of the difference between these two types of utilities. I believed that they had the right to make an effort at such reconciliation because in the matter of regulation of utilities the public is always protected, and in the matter of cooperative utilities the public is also protected by law, so that the public are in no danger, nor any part of the public of being put at a disadvantage through the enactment of this legislation.

When I presented the amendments that purported to harmonize the differences on this bill, I made a clear statement to this House that an agreement had not been reached between the two interested utilities. I want to say that I had not then nor have I since had any thought of allowing this bill to come before this body in such a manner that it might put, at least certain members of this House on the spot. I find now at this late time that there is still a disagreement, and while I strongly believe in the substance of this bill, and while I believe it will be in the interests of both types of utilities as well as the public that a reconciliation of their differences be had, the fact remains that that reconciliation has not been reached. As sponsor of this bill, in order to dispel any further apprehension concerning it, as well as to relieve any of the members from anxiety as to whether to vote for or against it I shall move that it be dropped from the calendar.

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 809, be dropped from the calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HABERLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware says that he does not want to put any Members of the House on the spot with reference to House Bill 809. I want to assure him now that the Members on this side of the House would not be put on the spot, because we were opposed to it and have been opposed to it in any form, regardless of how it might be amended. I heartily agree with him in dropping it from the calendar. I really believe he is doing a good thing.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE

THURSDAY, May 6, 1943.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, Eastern War Time.
The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D.D., offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our God, who hath given us life, inspire us with Thy Spirit that we may in Thy name be life-givers. Too much do we concern ourselves with the things that perish with the using, and neglect that better part which shall not be taken away from us.

The world is too much with us. Listening to its alluring voices the still small voice of God speaking to our souls is unheard, and thereby we miss the best of life. We are of the earth, earthy. Thou knowest our frame, and how frail we are, both physically and spiritually, so when we pray for forgiveness of our sins, as we now do, we know that Thou canst hear and will forgive. May our feet today walk in the narrow way that leads to life eternal.

Guide the Senate by Thy Holy Spirit today to enact such legislation as will glorify Thee, be of real and lasting benefit to all citizens, and be a source of satisfaction to all members of the body.

For our Nation we pray, that all that is good in it be preserved and increased, and all that is evil be destroyed.

In the name of the Savior of us all. Amen.

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL No. 587

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 587.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion. On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like the Majority Floor Leader to tell us what this amendment does to this bill?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 587 was introduced by Senator Kephart and I am sure the gentleman from Philadelphia will be glad to advise the Senator the effect of this amendment.

Mr. BARR. My reason for asking, Mr. President, is because I do not know what this amendment does to the bill and I should like to have the amendment explained.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, this bill as originally passed allowed the Treasurer to make these investments and the bill was amended in order to permit the mayor, city controller and treasurer to be the people who could buy these government bonds and authorize the investments.

Mr. BARR. I have no objection to voting on the bill, now that I know what it is.

HOUSE RESOLUTIONS

He also presented from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO CALL CONVENTION TO PROPOSE AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1943.

Memorializing the Congress of the United States to amend the constitution of the United States, relative to taxes on incomes, gifts and inheritances; and providing limitations on taxes so levied; and repealing the sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States.

Whereas, There is now pending in the current session of the Congress of the United States, proposed legislation to repeal the sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, and to amend the constitution of the United States, and to amend the constitution of the United States relative to taxes on incomes, gifts and inheritances; and providing for a limitation of taxes thereon; and

Whereas, The people of the State of Pennsylvania are greatly interested in the passage of such legislation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania; the Senate concurring, That the Congress of the United States be memorialized as follows: That application be and it is hereby made to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the purpose of proposing the following article as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States:

Article

Section 1. The sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several states, and without regard to any census or enumeration: Provided, That in no case shall the maximum rate of tax exceed twenty-five per centum.

Section 3. The maximum rate of any tax, duty, or excise which Congress may lay and collect with respect to the devolution or transfer of property, or any interest therein, upon or in contemplation of death or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after death or by way of gifts, shall in no case exceed twenty-five per centum.

Section 4. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of December following the ratification of this article. Nothing contained in this article shall effect the power of the United States after said date to collect any tax on incomes for any period ending on or prior to said thirty-first day of December laid in accordance with the terms of any law then in effect.

Section 5. Section 3 shall take effect at midnight on the last day of the sixth month following the ratification of this article. Nothing contained in this article shall effect the power of the United States to collect any tax on any devolution or transfer occurring prior to the taking effect of Section 3 laid in accordance with the terms of any law then in effect.

Be it further resolved, That the Congress of the United States be, and it hereby is, requested to provide, as the mode of ratification, that said amendment shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the constitution of the United States, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states;

Be it further resolved, That the Secretary of State be, and he hereby is, directed to send a duly certified copy of this resolution to the Senate of the United States and one to the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States, and to each Pennsylvania member thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this House Resolution No. 50, introduced by Mr. Trout, passed the House by a vote of 127 to 75. I called a meeting of the Committee on Federal Relations last evening, there were seven members present, and they voted unanimously to report the resolution out, and then they remarked unanimously that they were going to vote against it, so the resolution was reported out and is now before the Senate.

In order to be perfectly fair in this matter, I presented the resolution to the Republican Caucus and tried to be fair and impersonal and the Republican Caucus rejected the resolution, so now I wish to move that it lie on the table.

Now one of the Senators has approached me and said that Mr. Trout does not like it—I guess he thinks we were a little discourteous to the House—and he has asked to come before the Republican Caucus, and that is perfectly agreeable to me, and therefore, I suppose no action should be taken on the resolution at this time, it ought to go over..

Mr. Ealy. As I understand, this resolution just came over from the House and, therefore, could lie over or be referred to a committee.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution yesterday was referred to a committee, which committee evidently has reported it out, with misgivings.

RESOLUTION LAID ON TABLE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that resolution No. 50, the resolution just read, be laid on the table.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. I second the motion, Mr. President.

It was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 478 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 478, entitled:

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested."

RULE 21 SUSPENDED

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21 which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 478.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House?

And the question recurring,

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is in receipt of a number of communications addressed to the Chair which have laid on the desk because of the multitude of work and which were not discovered in time to be read before the bingo bill was considered, which was so earnestly and ably advocated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator McCreesh.

If the Senate has no objection the Clerk will read the communications

The communications were read as follows:

TYRONE MEN'S S., B. AND P. SOCIETY

3533 Aspen Street, Philadelphia, Pa., May 1st, 1943.

"Hon. John C. Bell,
Lieutenant-Governor,

Dear Sir,

"The above Society affiliated with 25 other American groups representing over 50,000 citizens at its regular meeting unanimously endorsed Senate Bill 127.

"We feel that this form of entertainment will be of much benefit to our older people who do not care to frequent Night Clubs, Taprooms, etc.

"We also feel that these people who have most of their sons in the armed forces are entitled to some form of pleasure to relieve the strain and worry which comes as the result of war.

"May I on behalf of these citizens respectfully request that this petition be read to your honorable committee at the opening session of the Senate.

"Thanking you in advance for any consideration given to this petition, I am, Sincerely Yours, JAMES J. MULLANY, President"

"HOWARD C. McCALL POST No. 20

4104 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa., May 2, 1943.

"Hon. John C. Bell,

Lt.-Gov. of Penna.

Harrisburg, Penna.

"Dear Sir:

"As Chairman of the Executive Board of the Howard C. McCall Post No. 20 American Legion of Philadelphia, I have been instructed by our entire membership totaling fifteen hundred to place before the Senators of the State of Pennsylvania our petition for the passing of Bill No. 127 legalizing Bingo in this State.

"Not all adults are interested in the more strenuous sports, therefore their interests should be kept in mind. The State of New York was aware of this fact when it passed its legislation permitting the playing of the great national pastime game 'Bingo,' even though supposedly a form of gambling.

"Peoples interests are not all alike it is true, but too frequently we have a minority sentiment ruling where majority sentiment is to the contrary.

"Legalizing Bingo would serve a two fold purpose. It would provide a clean, sporting, profitable form of relaxation for the otherwise harassed people who have no other escape mechanism from the shadows of the present World Conflict. Add to this the fact that it represents another source of revenue for the State of Pennsylvania so sorely needed at this time, and you have a combination of circumstances conducive to a satisfied people and government.

"We of McCall, aware of both sides of the picture still believe that under State direction Bingo can be placed on a favorable footing with other forms of amusement and entertainment.

"Pass Bill No. 127—Make Bingo Legal in Pennsylvania

Sincerely Yours,

WILLIAM J. LAMBERT, Chairman Executive Board."

"HOWARD C. McCALL POST No. 20,

4104 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa., May 2, 1943.

"Honorable John C. Bell

Lt.-Governor of Penna.

Harrisburg, Penna.

"Dear Sir:

"Mindful of the ideals of the American Legion 'Service to Community, State and Nation' I should like to take this opportunity to call the attention of the Senators of Pennsylvania to Bill No. 127 legalizing Bingo.

"Their support of this Bill would mean a direct contribution to the welfare of individual communities in particular and to the Commonwealth in general.

"As National Executive Committeeman of the American Legion for the State of Pennsylvania representing eighty thousand Legionnaires, I have in my travels throughout this State noted with interest the efforts of various religious, social and National organizations to raise money for the perpetration of their welfare programs. At the best this is a thankless job and a great many times families in need are not adequately cared for simply because of a lack of funds. Heretofore Bingo parties have solved this problem for at least ninety per cent of the honest organizations of which I speak.

"Is it asking too much of our Senators to consider that side of the picture? Yes, we know that often professional gamblers crop up here and there but in the long run there has been little professional Bingo comparatively speaking. At least not enough to forestall the opportunity of organized groups to raise funds to care for Welfare, Building and Maintenance Funds. After all think of the hospital program supported in Ireland by lotteries, and the huge welfare program of Brazil likewise financed by public lotteries.

"Whether directly or indirectly let's give the people of Pennsylvania an opportunity to meet local community needs by providing a means of raising the necessary monies, thus relieving the State of some of these responsibilities.

"Let's be fair and consider Mr. Average Citizen when Bill No. 127 comes up for review, and Mr. Average Citizen will be fair with the Commonwealth.

Sincerely yours,

Harry K. Stinger,

National Executive Committeeman,
Pa. American Legion."

(During the reading of the above communications the following occurred.)

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, may we have order, please?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would appreciate order being kept. It is very difficult during these last days of the session for the Clerk or even the Chair to be heard, when six or seven people are talking simultaneously.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. I just want to say, Mr. President, that I had a little time this week and I have read the Journal containing transcripts of the sessions of the Virginia House of Assembly, and when Thomas Jefferson first inroduced his act to divorce the church from the state he was greeted with loud guffaws and other forms of derisive exclamations, so I just want to say to the members of the Senate that shouting "bingo" and laughing at the sincere efforts of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator McCreesh, to do something for the aged people, does not in any way detract from his efforts.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette this morning carries the report—which I know is accurate—that a Deputy Attorney General of this Commonwealth has gone into Court in Allegheny County to block a judicial review of the settlements negotiated by the State Banking Department with men in debt to the depositors of closed banks.

It seems to me significant that this action by the State Department of Justice follows by only a day or two the revelation that the Attorney General of the Commonwealth was the beneficiary of one of these settlements.

Judge Ralph H. Smith, of the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County, refused to accept blindly the settlements shoved across his desk for approval by officers of the Commonwealth. He appointed investigators who would develop the facts.

One of these investigators disclosed that the Hon. James H. Duff, Attorney General of the Commonwealth, erased $110,000 of indebtedness to the closed Pennsylvania Trust Company for a little more than $15,000. This settlement was made only a few weeks after Duff took his seat in the Governor's Cabinet.

Today, Mr. Duff's Deputy Attorney General—the State's employe but Duff's representative—is in Court attempting to strip Judge Smith of his right to investigate further Duff's settlement and the other settlements of which we, and the Courts, know nothing.

I say to you, Members of the Senate, that this settlement—following as it does upon the heels of other settlements involving high officials of the state and important leaders of the Republican Party, is surrounded with circumstances which demand investigation.

Instead, the Attorney General of the state is trying to smother inquiry. He must have his reasons for wanting to conceal these settlements from an honest Judge and a concerned people.

Many people in my district lost all they possessed in the failure of the Pennsylvania Trust Company. They want to know whether this state administration is going to see them deprived of all hope to recover even a pittance so that favored individuals with political powers, big salaries and other income, may negotiate settlements out of keeping with their ability to pay.

It is the duty of the Senate of Pennsylvania to see to it these facts are unearthed—not buried.

RESOLUTION

Mr. HOLLAND offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Banking:

REQUESTING THE AUDITOR GENERAL TO MAKE AN AUDIT AND EXAMINATION OF SETTLEMENTS OF DEBTORS AND CLOSED BANKS UNDER THE JURISDICTION OF THE SECRETARY OF BANKING

In the Senate, May 6, 1943.

Whereas, Numerous settlements have been and are being made by the Secretary of Banking, as receiver of closed banks throughout the State, with debtors of such banks, whereby such debtors receive full discharge from their obligations in return for comparatively small percentages of the face amounts of their indebtedness; and

Whereas, in two specific cases involving the Pennsylvania Trust Company of Pittsburgh and the Washington Trust Company of Washington, Pennsylvania, certain individuals in high political circles arranged settlement of their indebtedness; and

Whereas, these settlements were not in proportion to their indebtedness and are the cause of public scandal and suspicion particularly on the part of depositors and stockholders whose monies were dissipated; and

Whereas, these depositors and stockholders complain of the grave injustices in giving financial preferences to men in high public places who are enjoying high income from public taxes; and

Whereas, these same depositors, denied the right to reclaim their life savings, cannot understand why a fair government permits such a condition to exist; and

Whereas, it is commonly believed that political influence has been exerted and in one specific case, one individual, active in one of these advantageous settlements to a debtor, has received at the hands of this debtor a high appointment to a judicial office; and

Whereas, this appointment has aroused suspicion and mistrust on the part of the depositors and stockholders who have seen their savings used promiscuously; and

Whereas, little is known of the advantageousness of these settlements, which are not submitted to the test of public opinion; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concurs) That the Auditor General is hereby requested to make a detailed audit and examination of all such settlements and make report thereof to the Senate and to the House of Representatives detaining all settlements made with all debtors of closed banks under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Banking, during the period of the last four years, showing the original amount of the debt and the balance due thereon at the time of the settlement, the amount of his annual income, the amount for which the debt was settled and a statement as to whether or not the debtor was employed as a salary and enjoyed an income at the time of the settlement; and whether the depositors and stockholders of these banks received their fair and equitable share of the settlement; and that copies of such report be delivered to representatives of the public press, and be it further

Resolved, that a certified copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Secretary of Banking of the Commonwealth and the Auditor General of the Commonwealth.

HOUSE BILL No. 1071, PRINTER'S No. 758 CALLED UP

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I call up at this time House Bill No. 1071, Printer's No. 758, on page 29 of the Second Reading Calendar, which is the bill that repeals the so-called Eckels milk law.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1071, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" declaring the legislative intent eliminating the requirement that in certain cases when relief is given, milk orders shall be included in such relief; redefining certain of the powers of the Department of Public Assistance and the State Board of Public Assistance extending the powers of county boards of assistance and making provision reciprocal with other states for assistance to certain aged persons.

The first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The sixth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HALUSKA offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 6, (Sec. 9), page 9 by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" at the end of line 20, the following: "No aged person shall be required in connection with the receipt of assistance for the aged under this clause to give any bond note or other obligation in any amount to secure the repayment of moneys received as assistance and any such bond note or other obligation heretofore given is hereby cancelled and shall hereafter be of no effect. In any case where any such bond note or other obligation has heretofore been entered of record or judgment has been entered thereon such judgment or record shall be satisfied by the Department of Justice."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I shall not try to repeat what I said last night but I shall touch upon some of the features of this bill and once again I want to bring to the attention of my colleagues the importance of this bill.

Before I talk about the amendments I would like to read to the members of this Senate a letter that I received from the Department of Public Assistance. Several weeks ago when Senator Edmonds, Chairman of the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, held a meeting of that committee, I asked for a hearing to discuss this measure. The gentleman from Montgomery told me at that time that he was willing to permit me to come to a meeting and express my views. As we all know, the gentleman from Montgomery is a sick man and has not been back in the Senate since that meeting. In the meantime, I tried to prepare myself by getting what information I could from the proper department, because for a number of years I have advocated a pension for the aged of our Commonwealth.

I know that my words have been in vain, but I am hoping yet to see the day when this Commonwealth will settle down and realize something must be done for those of our people who never again will have opportunity to go back to the mines and mills of private industry, so I am hopeful—right now it might be wishful thinking—but I say I am hopeful we will follow what other states have done.

As I mentioned yesterday, only two days ago the state of California passed a pension bill, paying her needy the amount of $50 per month to each and every person at the age of sixty, under certain requirements, and one of the requirements is not that a person must assign his home on a bond to receive aid. I have been in contact with members of the General Assembly of the state of California and I am told definitely that they have no bond requirement.

In our Commonwealth we have a plan whereby the aged shall receive a maximum of $30 a month, under certain conditions—half of it is taken care of by the Federal Government—so in that respect I made contact with our Secretary of Public Assistance, Mr. Ramage, and he kindly gave me this information and I believe every man in this body ought to know its contents, because I am fearful few of you know what has happened in the last couple of months in that department. The letter reads as follows:

"Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Public Assistance,
Harrisburg, April 12, 1943.

"The Honorable John J. Haluska
Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

"Dear Senator Haluska:

"In response to your request of last week, I am very glad to give you the following information concerning maximum Old Age Assistance allowances and the provisions of law regarding them:

"1. The present maximum Old Age Assistance allowance for one person is $40 per month.

"2. This maximum was approved by the State Board of Public Assistance, effective August 1, 1942, superseding the previous maximum of $30 monthly which had been in effect since establishment of Old Age Assistance in December, 1934.

"3. The State Board is empowered by the Public Assistance Law of 1937 to adopt 'standards of eligibility for assistance, and its nature and extent.' (Sec. 6). Except for the Blind Pension, which is fixed by law at $30 monthly, maximum allowances for all types of assistance are established by the State Board.

"4. The Social Security Act specifies $40 monthly as the maximum Old Age Assistance grant in which the Federal government will participate. Federal law and regulations also require that assistance be granted on a need basis, with consideration for family and individual resources.

"5. Under Department of Public Assistance regulations County Boards grant Old Age Assistance to meet needs for each item making up the Old Age Assistance maximum budget of $40. These items are food, clothing, fuel, shelter and incidentals. If the person's need for each item is maximum then he receives $40.

"I trust this information covers the matters you had in mind.

Sincerely yours,
SAMUEL Y. RAMAGE III, Secretary."

Mr. President, I find no place in this letter and in the act I find no place where the state board has any right whatsoever to ask a relief recipient to sign a bond. They have definitely taken that upon themselves and they insist that every person applying for relief or for an old age grant must sign a bond whereby he will encumber what property he may have.

Let us sincerely look into the justice of this and see what are we doing, what are we encouraging? I have heard so much in other sessions about Bolshevism, Fascism, Nazism; and we speak of Americanism and we try to make sure that we have a country for which we should fight, and what are we trying to breed into the youth of our land today? What are we telling the young man to-day who marries? We say to him in these words by this present act "Don't you do as your parents have done, take no part in civic affairs, take no part in social affairs, care not for society, and about all, never think of being a property owner—the backbone of our country, the property owners—because if you are a property owner, we shall do with you what we have done with your parents; if and when you might become indigent and must apply for aid, we shall make you sign on the dotted line and take from you what worldly goods you may have. Do what others are doing, be a public drone, do nothing, have nothing, and we ask nothing."

Gentlemen, that is the law today. Again, may I repeat, a man who has nothing, a man who does nothing, signs nothing, because he has nothing to give, but the man who helped to make this Commonwealth just what it is, because he has been a property owner, and now he must apply for aid through no fault of his own, because he has grown old, must sign a bond. We will all grow old and I trust none of us will be required to ask for relief, but if we do we will realize just what I am speaking of today.

This man has grown old, no longer can he go out and find employment and he has only one alternative, he must humble himself and apply for aid, but because throughout his youth he had been conservative and he has that little homestead, probably worth $500 or $1,000, you say to him, "now, we shall penalize you, we will get you some day," and therefore, the state Department of Public Assistance has taken upon themselves this procedure of making that person sign that $2,000 bond.

When we passed an appropriation this session, and at other sessions, I find no clause in that appropriation stating that the moneys imposed upon our taxpayers to meet these relief grants shall be returned in part. When we confiscate the homes of these people, there is no provision in the appropriation act telling our taxpayers, "after we get so many homes you shall participate in the earnings." What happens to that money, where does it go? No one in the Commonwealth knows.

You have taken now thousands upon thousands of homes from indigents. The money they received was by virtue of taxes imposed upon each and every one of us. You make other appropriations and never do you expect to get any return, because others can fight for themselves, but here this broken down mine worker, or mill worker or farmer who can not fight for himself, who can not find lobbyists to fight for him or take you out to dinners or parties, he is back at home helpless, receiving $15, $18 or $20 a month.

Naturally he can not come here and fight his battle, so you say, "well now, he is a victim, he is the type of man we can penalize and we shall take from him all that he has." Gentlemen, I do not know how in the name of good common sense, if you are human at all, how any one can sit here and pass legislation penalizing these industrious citizens of our Commonwealth.

I have offered these amendments, which will cost the Commonwealth not one cent; all that I am asking is that you give relief to these men who must have relief on the basis of need; after he is properly investigated by employes of your departments and you find that person is indigent; that person must have food to keep body and soul together, and all I am asking you is to give him the same consideration as you give the man who has no property. I am not asking anything radical. I only suggest that that man is entitled to keep that property and be self respecting; encourage him to be a property owner, encourage his family to become property owners, and then we will have a better America but, no, if you go out and discourage them and say "we shall take from you what you have," definitely the youth of today has no reason to build and go along and do as we want them to do, so I trust that my colleagues on the right will vote for this amendment and I ask my Democratic colleagues to support my cause and, now, Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HALUSKA, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Barr,	Gourley,	Letzler,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Mallery,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Holland,	McCreesh,	Walker,
Dent,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Woodring,
DiSilvestro,	Jones,	McQuiddy,

NAYS—26

Becker,	Farrell,	Shapiro,	Tyler,
Carr,	Geltz,	Snowden,	Wade,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Stevenson,	Watkins,
Crider,	Homsher,	Tallman,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crowe,	James,	Taylor,	Wilson, T. B.,
Deltrick,	Kephart,	Thomas,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Scarlett,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The seventh section and title were separately read and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1071 on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. HEYBURN. I object, Mr. President, for the reason that permitting House Bill No. 1071 to go over in order would have the effect that this so-called Eckels milk plan, about which every one has been objecting, could not be repealed.

Mr. HALUSKA. I asked the Senate to adopt the amendments which I offered, despite the fact that copies of the bill are not on our desks, and up until such time as copies of the bill are on our desks, I once again request that House Bill 1071 go over in order, until the bill becomes a part of our program.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the request that this bill go over is out of order because the bill is not on our desks and no action on the bill can be taken.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair must rule that the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is not well taken, for the reason that the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, and also the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, with full knowledge that copies of House Bill No. 1071 were not on the desks of the Senators, asked that it be considered and asked the Senate to consider amendments. It was with your consent that the bill was considered.

Under such circumstances, there being no objection, obviously the request should be granted.

Mr. SHAPIRO. My objection is not to amending the bill; my objection is to voting on this bill in the absence of the bill and that is quite different from offering strike-out amendments to a bill. This is a question of voting on a bill. If I were to ask that this bill be read now it could not be read and, therefore, no matter what I did before would help the situation now, because in order to gain my point I would merely suggest that the bill be read at length and the bill would not be available.

The PRESIDENT. If the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia had been raised previously, the Chair undoubtedly would have sustained the gentleman from Philadelphia, but the Chair is not sure now that the gentleman from Philadelphia has not been estopped by the consent which he and the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, gave to consideration of this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I suggest that my action can not change the Constitution? The constitution requires that a bill shall be read at length on three separate days.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. If this bill were to be voted upon now it would have to be read at length. Since copies of the bill are not on the desks of the Senators, it can not be read at length for our benefit. We have a provision in the Constitution and we have a rule of this Senate and we can not waive a constitutional provision.

Mr. HEYBURN. I have no objection to the bill going over in order temporarily; we can come to it later during consideration of the Calendar. I assume the attempt to amend the bill is finished for all time.

I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. I will.

Mr. HEYBURN. Is that true? Will the gentleman attempt to offer the same amendments when the bill comes up again?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, in order to expedite the work of the Senate, knowing full well that my efforts have been in vain. I will have no further amendments to offer.

I shall withdraw my request that House Bill No. 1071 go over in order

The PRESIDENT. Members of the Senate, the bill already has been read, the amendments have been defeated and the question now is, will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section four hundred two of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 2897 1937) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" as last amended by section three of the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 60) is further amended to read as follows

Section 402 Ineligibility for Compensation An employee shall be ineligible for compensation or waiting period credit for any week

(a) In which his unemployment is due to failure without good cause either to apply for suitable work at such time and in such manner as the department may prescribe or to accept suitable work when offered to him by the employment office or by his previous employer In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual the department shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health safety and morals his physical fitness and prior training and experience and the distance of the available work from his residence

(d) In which the employee's total unemployment is due to a voluntary suspension of work resulting from an industrial dispute but this disqualification shall apply only to the week in which the suspension occurred and for the three consecutive weeks of total unemployment which immediately follow such week

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this bill states that it is the desire of this bill to correct an error in previous amendments in connection with the provisions covering ineligibility for compensation.

As a member of a committee that has studied employment compensation for the past six years in this state, I want to say that it was not an error so far as I was concerned, and also other members who voted for the bill. Previous amendments to the bill struck out the clause that provided that a person had to take employment when offered to him or else become ineligible for unemployment compensation.

There seems to be some argument nowadays, because of the war effort, that a person should take a job when offered to him or become ineligible. We will say for the sake of the argument I want to make for the amendments I intend to offer, that we agree on that proposition. However, if you look at the bill as it now is, starting at the top of page 3, you will see that the bill says: "In which his employment is due to failure without good cause either to apply for suitable work at such time and in such manner as the department may prescribe or to accept suitable work when offered to him by the employment office."

We have instances where the question of suitable work is left entirely too much in the hands of those in charge of the employment offices; at times they send men out on jobs for which they are in no way qualified. Men have been sent out to work in coke ovens who were nothing but stenographers or bookkeepers all their lives—that is not suitable work nor could such persons take that type of work.

However, I do believe there is a restriction that could be put upon these employment offices, we could put a restriction upon them by amending the bill and striking out the word "suitable" where it appears and insert after the word "work" on the same line, the following and it would read this way: ". . . department may prescribe or to accept work for which he is qualified by training and experience . . ." and if he does not accept that work then he would be, of course, ineligible for unemployment compensation.

I can see no harm in stating that a man must be suited for the work by training and experience. I do not know of any other way a man can be qualified for a job than by training and experience, and in the case of a person who is receiving unemployment compensation and is ordered out on a job, I only ask that the job be a job he can perform.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce amendments and have them accepted.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Westmoreland to introduce amendments?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I am very sympathetic with that which the Senator from Westmoreland is trying to do. However, I think it is completely covered in the word "suitable." I might say that this section, as the Senator from Westmoreland knows, was written after study by a committee of which he and I were members, and it was agreed to by organized labor and employers alike. However, there was some doubt about "acceptance of suitable work" having been left out. That is what is being put in here.

When the gentleman from Westmoreland talks about work for which a man is qualified by training or experience, or something like that, as I recall his words, that would mean that a carpenter could not take a job raking up leaves or mowing a lawn, and I am afraid, Mr. President, that this would unnecessarily hamper the employment office, and I am very much inclined to think that the amendment as now written completely takes care of the situation.

I regret very much, Mr. President, that I shall have to object to introduction of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. DENT. Since there is objection, I believe that I shall have to move that the vote by which House Bill No. 560 passed third reading be reconsidered, and in so doing I want to say that the statements of the gentleman from Delaware are the best arguments I can give for the passage of my amendments. The gentleman from Delaware said a carpenter could be sent some place to rake up leaves. I want to say, under the system we have today, that no man will refuse a job that he can do, but the very statements made by the gentleman from Delaware show the weakness of the situation and the weakness of the word "suitable," because they can send him out to do any kind of a job they desire and call it "suitable." I do not believe that the gentleman from Delaware wants that to happen because that is not, in my opinion, the proper word for the bill. If you say that a man ought to take a job he is qualified for, then what qualifies him for the job? The word "qualification" ought to be explained, what qualifies a man for a job? You could probably send a lawyer out to do leaf raking—maybe he would be qualified for that, I do not know—but certainly I would not say he was qualified by experience and training—because it is leaf raking and not mud.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, down where I come from a man who is out of work will rake leaves or do anything else rather than go on relief or accept unemployment compensation.

I do want to say right here that restriction already is in this bill and I ask the gentleman from Westmoreland if he will not withdraw his request that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered because it will only prolong the session. I will read the restriction: "In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual the department shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health, safety and morals, his physical fitness and prior training and experience and distance of the available work from his residence."

If that does not completely cover any situation, Mr. President, I can not read plain English.

Mr. DENT. I would say to the gentleman if that covers what my amendments do, then what harm is there in strengthening that wording and making sure it does cover it?

The gentleman from Delaware says men in his county will take any job—in my country they will too, but they will not take jobs they can not perform and I say the intention of the bill is that a man ought to be qualified by experience and training because in lines 7 and 8, it specifically says so but in lines 4 and 5 it leaves it wide open and all I ask is to include the same language in lines 4 and 5 as you have in lines 7 and 8. I am not making an unreasonable demand, I am not asking anything unreasonable, so I shall have to insist because it is a matter of principle.

The PRESIDENT. Perhaps the gentleman from Westmoreland is not familiar with what has taken place. This bill has passed third reading and is now on final passage. If the gentleman from Westmoreland so desires the Chair will be glad to consider a motion that the vote by which House Bill 560 passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. DENT. I so desire, Mr. President, and shall now make that motion.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER HOUSE BILL No. 560

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 560 passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

HOUSE BILL No. 1055, PRINTER'S No. 559 CALLED UP

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I call up at this time House Bill No. 1055, Printer's No. 559, on page 12 of the Third Reading Calendar, which was passed over temporarily.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1055, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (P. L. 2897, 1937), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties," changing the provisions thereof and the rights, obligations and procedure thereunder

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I am about to ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to House Bill No. 1055 but before doing so I desire to tell the members what they are and why they are being introduced.

On page 39, section 4, there is a provision that this act shall become effective June 1. Mr. President, if we pass this bill tomorrow or the next day, the thirty days which the bill could lie on the desk of the Governor would take it beyond June 1.

In addition, the department advised me that they are unable to set up machinery to take care of the requirements of this bill before a month or two, so therefore, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments to strike out section 4, which will of course, make the bill become effective September 1.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 4, Page 39, lines 23 to 25, inclusive, by striking out the following: "[Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-three]."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Mr. DENT. I am also going to ask unanimous consent to present some amendments. I can not say, as did the sponsor of the other amendments, the gentleman from Delaware, that this is something that makes a change in the effective date.

The PRESIDENT. To what bill is the gentleman from Westmoreland referring?

Mr. DENT. I am asking unanimous consent to amend House Bill No. 1055, Printer's No. 559, which is now before us.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The bill has just passed third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I purposely stopped the Chair before the announcement was made that the bill had passed third reading. The Chair was talking about the bill passing third reading when I interrupted him.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, as fond as I am of the gentleman from Westmoreland, I am a little fearful that we can not agree to his amendments. However, would the gentleman from Westmoreland like to have the amendments read, or what would he like to have done?

Mr. DENT. There are so many pages of my proposed amendments, Mr. President, that I will explain in a few brief words what they do so that the intention of the minority will be known to the majority.

The amendments, Mr. President, which I wanted to offer and still do want to offer, make this bill a good bill. They strike from this bill a provision which is aimed directly at the soldiers who are now serving this country on the many far-flung battle fields.

Under an act of the Legislature which was passed in 1941, as an amendment to the original unemployment compensation bill, we provided that a soldier or any person who enters the military service would receive unemployment compensation when the war is over, if they were not able to obtain gainful employment.

We thought that was a high and mighty thing to do, but now we find that we were only kidding the soldiers because, before that noble act can take effect, we find an amendment in this bill which says they can only receive unemployment compensation in an amount that exceeds the amount they may receive from the Federal Government by way of compensation for injuries or wounds that they receive in defense of their country.

I do not see any connection between unemployment compensation pay and payment that a soldier receives by way of compensation for injuries and so, Mr. President, I only say to you that these amendments would strike that feature from the bill and allow the soldier to receive unemployment compensation pay, which the members of the Senate said he would receive two years ago. So, Mr. President, that is one feature.

Another feature of the amendments that I believe is also commendable, that I want to insert in the bill, is something that we have refrained from putting into the unemployment compensation law, because the sponsors of merit rating have always said that merit rating was not possible, that it could not work without partial payments and vice versa, and so I say, after the careful study that was given to partial payments by the commission on which I had the honor to serve on, with my distinguished colleague from Delaware County, after a careful study partial payments have been declared to be a desirable feature of unemployment compensation and you can easily see why, because in times of diminishing work, work goes in a week, we have found it difficult to get persons to go back and take one day's work or two day's work when by so doing they would lose their status on unemployment compensation.

So, therefore, Mr. President, I have here prepared amendments that would insert in the unemployment compensation law a schedule of partial payments. I opposed merit rating, because I felt that at this time it was unfair, I opposed it because, if you will remember, I said that attempts will be made by cutting down the benefits that will be given to unemployed, by cutting out any amendments to the act which would liberalize features of the bill, in order to prove that merit rating will work, and I say again merit rating will not work. However, if it will work then I say that it must work in conjunction with partial payments.

In this bill we also have some features that apply to so-called schedules of payments. Upon investigation, request was made to the Department of Labor and Industry and the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for information as to how much benefits would be increased under the provisions of House Bill No. 1055. I am sorry to say that for the very first time in history here on this Hill I have been unable to get that information. All we received was a letter which I shall read to the Senate.

I quote from a letter dated May 2, 1943:

"Benefit provisions under House Bill No. 1055 referred to in your letter of April 29 to Mr. Frank L. Shallow would apparently not increase the total amount of compensation which would be payable under the present provisions of the Law"

There is other information contained in the letter, but it is too long to read and I therefore request that the letter be included in full. That letter is signed by William H. Chestnut, Secretary of Labor and Industry, and is as follows:

"Benefit provisions under House Bill No. 1055 referred to in your letter of April 29 to Mr. Frank L. Shallow would apparently not increase the total amount of compensation which would be payable under the present provisions of the Law.

"The exact cost of benefit payments under the amended provisions are not ascertainable at this time. Moreover, the relationship of such amount to the amount which would be payable under the present benefit provisions of the Law will vary considerably depending on economic conditions at any particular time. As a different period of time is used as a basis for determining the amount of benefits payable to an individual claimant the amended provisions would appear to be more favorable to claimants during a period of declining employment and less favorable during a period of increasing employment. Consequently, as the rate and amount of benefits may be greater at certain periods in the economic cycle and less at other periods, there would be a certain tendency for these two influences to offset each other."

On the floor of this Senate a statement was made that this bill would increase benefits by $5,000,000, yet the Secretary of Labor and Industry said: "Would apparently not increase the total amount of compensation which would be payable under the provisions of the law." And then he also has this to say about it: "Consequently, as the rate and amount of benefits may be greater at certain periods in the economic cycle and less at other periods, there would be a certain tendency for these two influences to offset each other." It reminds me of the old story, which came first, the ' or the egg.

There is not any specific knowledge given to members of the Legislature trying to get information, but I want to call to your attention, members of the Senate, that you are dealing with the unemployment compensation law, that you are amending the sections providing for benefit payments, and that you are refusing, by refusing these amendments, to take into consideration partial payments.

When we offered partial payment amendments to this Senate and to the House the argument was made that we must have merit rating. We have merit rating, according to an act which was passed, such as it is, but there is no excuse whatsoever, no reasonable excuse, for deducting from unemployment compensation payments due to a soldier who is injured the amount of money that he receives from the Federal Government, in payment for the loss that he has sustained in defense of his country.

I say to you that you are now saying to the soldier that you did not mean it when you said that he was going to get unemployment compensation pay, because his payment from the Federal Government may amount to more than the $15 a week he may get under unemployment compensation pay.

I just wanted to let you know what the amendments were. They have been objected to, the bill is on third reading, and I shall ask my colleagues to vote "no" on final passage.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, it is past the dinner hour and I have no desire to delay the vote on this bill, but the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, has raised two or three questions and I would like to give him the answers.

First, take the provision that soldiers returning from the armed services shall not receive unemployment compensation until after Federal benefits have run. To tell the gentleman from Westmoreland what that is all about, down in Washington the Social Security Board has recommended that after a soldier is discharged from the armed services, he or she as the case may be, shall get a special unemployment compensation from the Federal Government. This amendment is the same amendment that is being made in any number of states, which amendment provides that Pennsylvania unemployment compensation shall start to run after Federal unemployment compensation payments have ceased. The status of the veteran is frozen as it was at the time we inserted the amendment.

Therefore, this amendment has the effect of increasing the financial stability of returning veterans because after Federal unemployment compensation special payments have run their course, then the veteran starts on the Pennsylvania unemployment compensation payments.

The gentleman from Westmoreland mentioned payments for partial unemployment, and I agree with him that merit rating is necessary before we can have partial unemployment compensation benefits, and I pledge to the gentleman from Westmoreland that I for one am very much interested in drawing a proper and sensible bill to provide partial benefits, to be introduced at the next special or regular session of the Legislature.

That is no problem now, however, on account of the war, because there is no partial unemployment, but there certainly will be after the war, especially in the mining fields, and I want to assure the gentleman from Westmoreland that I am very much interested in a bill to provide partial benefits.

In reference to the table, whether it increases or decreases the payments, Mr. President, the tendency is to increase. I do not know whether the Secretary of Industry and Labor stated this in his letter or not, but the tendency is to increase them, although not to a marked degree.

If the gentleman from Westmoreland will look at page 33, for instance, and find out the necessary earnings in a base year to receive sixteen weeks of payments, he will find it is necessary under the old system to earn $992 to $1,055, whereas if you turn to page 37 and refer to the table you will find that it is only necessary, in order to receive payments for sixteen weeks, to make $496 or half of the sum as the act now reads, so the tendency is to liberalize—it is not as much of a liberalization as that bracket would have you think, but there is a tendency to liberalize payments.

Mr. President, I just wanted to say these few words to assure my colleagues there is no attempt to hinder payments to soldiers or anything of that kind.

The PRESIDENT. There was a request by the gentleman from Westmoreland for permission to offer amendment to this bill. Is there objection to the request?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland, as I recall, was kind enough to withdraw that request and he then discussed his amendments.

Said bill having been agreed to on third reading, as amended.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing on final passage.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 178, Printer's No. 193, entitled "An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 244) entitled 'An act creating a Local Government Commission to study and report on functions of local government their allocation and elimination the cost of local government and means of reducing it and the consolidation of local government and making an appropriation' fixing the terms of the members of said commission providing for the filling of vacancies and making an appropriation," in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000). I have withheld my approval from the provision which reads: "together with the unexpended balance of the moneys appropriated for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one or so much thereof as may be necessary." There was obviously an error in providing for the reappropriation of the balance of an appropriation for the period ending May 31, 1941. This balance was lapsed by the commission in March, 1942.

EDWARD MARTIN.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 92 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House insists on its non-concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill No. 92, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "The Penal Code," changing and revising sections of said act relating to obstructing an officer in the execution of process, fornication and bastardy, lotteries, firearms, receiving stolen property, trespass on posted property, cheating by fraudulent pretenses burglary, attempt to commit arson, principals in the second degree and accessories, aiders and abettors; providing penalties for refusal to pay transportation fares; and repealing certain sections relating to larceny and certain existing acts and has appointed Messrs. BRUNNER, IMBRIE and CHUDOFF as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

HOUSE BILL No. 871, PRINTER'S No. 748 CALLED UP

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, on page 10 of the Calendar, House Bill No. 871, incorrectly appears as on third reading; the bill properly belongs on the second reading Calendar.

At this time, therefore, I call up House Bill 871.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 871, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections two, three hundred five, section six hundred two and section six hundred three of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in, connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," by defining "Official Seal" and authorizing the designation of wholesale or retail stores authorizing the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to adopt and enforce rules and regulations to insure the equitable wholesale and retail sale and distribution of liquor and alcohol through the Pennsylvania liquor stores during times of shortage, and making it unlawful to violate any such rules and regulations

The first and second sections were separately read and agreed to.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WOODRING offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 3, page 11, line 24 by striking out the bold-faced bracket before the word "Section"; amend Bill, Sec. 3, page 11, line 24 by striking out the numeral "2" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "4"; amend Sec. 3, page 11, line 27 by striking out the bold-faced bracket after the word "now"; amend Bill, Sec. 3, page 12, line 1 by striking out the bold-faced bracket before the word "engaged"; amend Bill, Sec. 3, page 12, line 6 by striking out the bold-faced bracket after the word "notwithstanding."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. MALLERY. May I ask, Mr. President, that the sponsor of the amendments state the purpose for which they are offered.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, in answer to the inquiry of the gentleman from Blair, the amendments propose to reinstate the provision for the freezing of local option during the war.

Mr. McGINNIS. I am very happy that this question has come out upon the floor. I am extremely happy that every wet in Pennsylvania will know who his friends are. You know, Mr. President, I lived under the Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover administrations, when they straddled prohibition, they played with the wets and the dries, and Hoover in 1932, was straddling like nobody's business—he was wet in New York and dry in Nebraska.

I was a delegate to Chicago in 1932, for Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and we nominated him. The custom had been that three or four weeks after a President had been nominated there was an acceptance speech, some place in another city, but Franklin Delano Roosevelt, bold and courageous as he always is, flew to Chicago the next morning and spoke to the delegates who nominated him and he had not spoken five minutes when he said, "from this day on prohibition is doomed in the United States," and we had our beer back in six weeks and our liquor the same year after he was elected. He was no camouflager, he was no dodger, he was no straddler, he told the American people what they should have and they got it.

Here in this Senate of Pennsylvania I have seen men on the other side that I admire bow to narrow, crusty sad people. I am extremely happy that this issue has come out in the open, and if there is a wet in Pennsylvania that will ever vote the Republican ticket again I want his head examined. Are you going to deny the soldiers, while they are away fighting, the right to vote on local option? That is the real test in this bill. It was in the bill yesterday but some pressure was around this Hill from paid lobbyists, and that is all they do, come here and browbeat and intimidate men on this floor, and they made a change—how they did it I do not know—I do not think they influenced any soul on this floor corruptly, but there was some pressure which came from somewhere, somehow; whether it was through the Governor or through these lobbyists, I do not know, but I am sure there are men on the right-hand side of this chamber that are as liberal and as broad and as unafraid of narrowness and smallness as I am.

How they worked this thing and how they changed the situation overnight I do not know, but I do know that I am extremely happy that the people of Pennsylvania from now on know, on the wet and dry question, where their friends are.

The first thing that happened when Governor James came into office was that he took the liquor out of every window in every Pennsylvania liquor store, but he kept his clerks back behind the counter hauling in $30,000,000 a year, grabbing in the money and keeping the payroll going, he did not hesitate to grab the money in the back room, but he took the liquor out of the front windows.

I say that is a shame and a sham. If I were selling anything in any store, if I was not ashamed of it, I would put the goods out front, but Governor James took the liquor out of every window of every state liquor store in Pennsylvania and they are the saddest and coldest looking stores in Pennsylvania, and yet the people of this state shell out $30,000,000 to the coffers of the treasury of Pennsylvania. I have been to Maryland, I have been to Washington, I have been to New York, and every liquor store I have seen is packed to the ceiling with liquor, but today in Pennsylvania, in this city of Harrisburg, in the closing days of this Session, they tell me there is not a quart of liquor in any store in this city. Why should that happen? Because the last administration was dry, and I think this one is dry, because of the change and the switch of the votes since last night.

Mr. HEYBURN. The gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, tonight is trying to bring some issues in here that have no place in connection with this bill. The question is not whether or not there is any whiskey in the stores or in Harrisburg—and I might say, Mr. President, from my observation there seems to be plenty of whiskey in Harrisburg—and it is not a question of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover, Calvin Coolidge or Jesse James or anyone else.

This bill, Mr. President, is a purely procedural proposition, sanctioned by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board. The bill was introduced to correct some difficulty with the placing of stamps, and it also provides for the designation of wholesale and retail stores in order that some steps might be taken to prevent the hoarding of whiskey by individuals who have the money and can afford to hoard whiskey. It also sets up some needed machinery for the rationing of liquor, but this question of a referendum has no place in this bill.

I am not taking any position on a referendum, one way or another, but the place for that question is in a bill designed to do that one thing and it has no place and there was no reason for ever tacking it on to this purely procedural bill which was introduced into the Legislature at the request of the Liquor Control Board.

So, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues not to take these arguments of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, too seriously, because that is only sort of a premature campaign of some kind being launched here tonight for something or other—perhaps the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, is going to run against the gentleman from Lawrence, Senator McQuiddy, for the United States Senate, I do not know, and I tell you that would be a hard choice for me to make; one could run for Governor next time and the other for the United States Senate.

However, Mr. President, this is purely a procedural bill and this amendment was tacked on here in the dying days of the Session by a group which should have placed the procedure to freeze local option in a bill by itself and start it through the Legislature.

Mr. WOODWARD. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, was as always eloquent, and I listened to every word he said with pleasure; I got one thought which I can not escape mentioning, that no President of the United States has ever done more than Franklin D. Roosevelt to freeze local self-government, but I will say for him that no matter how much he freezes us he never himself gets cold feet.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in answer to the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, I was not talking about Jesse James, I was talking about Governor James, but for the government of this state to license retail liquor dealers and compel them to pay their licenses every year and then to deny them liquor, to lock the liquor up in stores, and deny retail dealers that pay their taxes and have their homes and have their properties, the right to this liquor, I say is a shame. If you are going to be honest with them, if you give them licenses, furnish them with liquor; otherwise, do not give them licenses.

To think that the state of Pennsylvania is going to collect license fees from retail liquor dealers who have their life savings in their places of business, give them a license and make them pay for it, and then lock your stores up, take your liquor out of the windows and then take the liquor out from the inside, I think is unfair, extremely unfair.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I regard this amendment as being very unfair and a sign of fear. The people of Pennsylvania are granted the right to vote on local option according to our laws. This amendment denies them that right, and that is a sign of fear.

I do not think it is fair to deny the people the right to vote on local option for the duration of the war—we do not know how long it will last—and a year afterwards. You know how my feelings are, I am willing to give the right to the people that the state of Pennsylvania has given to them, and I think that this is a sign of fear and a step in the wrong direction.

I certainly shall vote "no" on this amendment.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think Jesse James is being dealt with very unfairly here by the floor leaders on both sides, and on behalf of the profession of highwaymen, I would like to withdraw his name from that list of amateurs.

Mr. WOODRING. I think my esteemed colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, has hit the nail on the head; I think these amendments are expressly a sign of fear. They are my own amendments and I plead guilty to that charge, I am afraid that the rights of the boys who are today protecting our interests during this war are going to be taken away from them during their absence and I think no matter what a community is today, whether wet or dry, it should remain that way until the boys who are protecting our interests come back and may have a right to speak in their own defense.

I do not take the position of the wets or the dries—I do not care whether my community is wet or dry—but I do say in fairness to the boys who are ready to lay down their lives for us, that we should adopt this amendment in this procedural bill. This is a procedural amendment, and I think this is the place for it, and I would appreciate the consideration and the affirmative votes of all the members of the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, several weeks ago one of the magazines—I have forgotten which magazine it was—published an article concerning a questionnaire which the U.S.O. centers, the Y.M.C.A.'s and canteens put out for soldiers, and according to the vote on the questions asked, the third question that the soldiers were most interested in was "do not let prohibition come back while we are serving in the United States Army."

The amendment to this bill introduced by the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Woodring, proposes just that, to protect these boys. You know, in many communities local option bills could be put over now, but if these boys were at home today it could not be done.

The gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, says that the question of local option does not belong in this bill, and I say to the gentleman from Delaware that the committee from which this bill was reported brought this bill out freezing local option for the duration of the war, but the pressure that the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, told you about drove this bill from the floor and that same pressure made this committee, by a very narrow vote, take this local option feature out of the bill.

I think this amendment should be in the bill—if we want to protect the sailors, soldiers, marines and coast guards, as the gentleman from Cumberland says, we should adopt this amendment.

Mr. FELTZ. I do not think, Mr. President, we need any more argument against this amendment if we will all be in mind the argument made by our colleague, the Minority Floor Leader, Senator McGinnis. He is very much upset and very much alarmed over the fact that there is not enough liquor available to take care of licensees throughout the state. I think possibly the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, has reason to be a little bit upset, and everyone else, including the Liquor Control Board.

Mr. President, it was because the Liquor Control Board wanted to endeavor to correct this situation that this bill was introduced, so that the Liquor Control Board would be able to control liquor in this state in a fair and equitable manner.

Strangely as it may seem, as this bill proceeded through the legislature, somebody got the bright idea that there ought to be attached to it a local option freezing clause. If the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, is sincere in what he says, that he is concerned over these licensees, then he should vote against this amendment on local option freezing and see that this bill is passed, to give the Liquor Control Board the authority they need to properly regulate the liquor business in this state, and I feel that is the position every Senator should take.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, also seems to have some wonder in his mind as to why some people might be against this. Well, I come from a fairly dry district, Mr. President, but it is not hard for me to make up my mind as to whether we ought to freeze local option for the duration or not. I think we should, but I certainly do not think we should do it by any such method as this. If a bill had been introduced, as it should have been, if the thing were open and aboveboard—and it is not—if the question can be decided fairly and justice is on that side, as I think it is, then there should have been introduced a bill which would have put into effect freezing of local option until all of the voters are back and have an opportunity to vote on this question.

I will say very frankly, Mr. President, if that had been done I would have voted in favor of freezing, but I certainly will not vote to put a clause in this bill that is so controversial that it might sacrifice a bill which is so badly needed, as indicated by the Minority Floor Leader, in order that liquor can be properly sold and properly distributed in this state.

For those reasons, Mr. President, I hope that our colleagues will vote against this amendment and pass the bill so that this thing can be handled in a proper manner.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Law and Order.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Clearfield permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LETZLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Clearfield whether there has been a local option freezing bill in the Committee on Law and Order since the early days of this Session?

Mr. LETZLER. I do not recall that there was such a bill, Mr. President; there may have been but I can not recall such a bill from memory now.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I happen to know that there was such a bill introduced and probably the reason it received no consideration was the fact that it was introduced by a Democrat on this side, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

Mr. MCGINNIS. What I am concerned about is this, that you do not do now what you did in the last war, when our boys were away fighting, help to put across prohibition in this country. I think that was the nastiest and worst thing that ever happened in the United States; while our boys were away fighting they put over prohibition during the last war, and now the same forces are at work, insidiously, quietly and effectively.

From the switch from last night and in order to be fair to our licensees in the state, I am told that the Liquor Control Board wanted to buy $15,000,000 worth of liquor several months ago and Governor James vetoed that step and blocked that—that stops revenue, and that is wrong to the licensees and it is unfair to the people of Pennsylvania.

In the first place, I think it is wrong to have these stores, and I say this, if these stores can not furnish liquor to our licensees, they ought to be put out of business. I do not see it being done in any other state. As I said before, I go to Maryland, New York, Washington, and their stores are packed to the ceilings, but I am suspicious that in this state we have insidious influences, at work, contrary to our laws, contrary to what the people voted for—drys again—the wet—and it is showing its ugly head at every corner.

Mr. JASPAN. The Republicans have seen fit to freeze civil service for the duration of the war on account of the boys in the service, and they certainly can duplicate their efforts by freezing local option for the boys in the service.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I was somewhat amused to hear the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Geltz, express his astonishment about a bill which started out to provide equitable distribution of available liquor in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and which has had added to it a provision which would freeze local option. At least, Mr. President, there is a definite relationship between local option, the right to vote on whether a particular community is dry, and this particular bill.

Two days ago we had in the Senate of Pennsylvania House Bill No. 827, which left the House to provide for liability insurance on automobiles owned by the United States of America and operated by employees of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and when that bill made its appearance on second reading in the Senate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, introduced an amendment which would have authorized the Department of Property and Supplies to construct certain buildings in co-operation with the General State Authority, and so I was somewhat amused when the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Geltz, talked about introducing what he intimated was extraneous matter in this bill.

I am just old enough, Mr. President, to have a very vivid recollection of standing on the principal street of the particular city I represent in the Senate of Pennsylvania, the city of Scranton, watching the flower of American manhood going off to war, just in time to throw their fresh strength into the ranks of freedom, when the fate of the world hung in the balance, and their reward for doing so was to come back to a dry America.

I have heard the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, talk about what we should do for the men in the service, that we ought to suspend civil service, so that when those men come back from across the seas they will be able to take their places in competitive examinations, and yet he would deny them the right—what ought to be their right—to enjoy a free America.

Mr. President, I am against any bill that would inflict upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania anything that would bring about a return of the worst, the most corrupt era in American history, and I am referring to the prohibition era.

To me this bill has no personal interest—I do not drink—but I will not deny to any man the privilege of doing so if he wants to, and I am appealing to the fair-minded men in the Senate of Pennsylvania to give those men who come back the right to vote, if they want to, on the question of local option. I am pleading with all fair-minded men on both sides to vote "aye" on this tremendously important question.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, just in order to keep the record straight, a local option bill that had only that feature in it was introduced not only in the Senate but the House, but it has not been out on the floor for the purpose of a vote, and the only way this problem could be brought up was by this amendment.

Secondly, Mr. President, the original purpose of this bill was not a technicality, although technical amendments are now in this bill, and the purposes of the bill have been perverted since its introduction—it was not a rationing bill which it now is.

In the third place, Mr. President, we have had an absence of prohibition in this Commonwealth for ten years and during those ten years dry localities have remained dry and wet localities have remained wet and sentiment has crystallized.

This is not the time to take advantage of the boys who are at the front fighting to preserve the democracy that we have at home and to put over prohibition on them, and I am in favor of this amendment.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I too feel sincerely that everything should be done to make sure that our form of government remains as it is when our boys come back home. However, if we follow this argument about local option—and I am certainly in sympathy with the idea behind it, but certainly the fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters of those boys are here at home and if we follow the logic of the argument that has been made here, that while these boys are away the people who are home are going to change everything, then the logic of that follows that we ought to do away with elections altogether, because school directors may be changed while they are away, councilmen may be changed, members of the Legislature, members of the Senate may be changed; even a new Governor may be elected while they are away. If the war lasts that long and so, if we are going to follow the logic of the argument, that because of the fact so many boys are away we can not have elections, we can not have the people who are here express their opinions, then, of course, it follows we should do away with elections while they are away.

I can not agree with that. I think the proper approach is to make sure that the people of America who are here take care of things for the boys while they are away, and certainly the best ones to think about that are the mothers and fathers and sisters and brothers of the boys who are away.

Mr. President, I was somewhat confused by the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, with regard to taking whiskey out of store windows and I would like to know if the Minority Leader would consent to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether or not he is in favor of keeping whiskey in the store windows.

Mr. McGINNIS. I am in favor of having it out front, Mr. President. I feel in order to sell liquor, whether it is the state or an individual, they should put their wares out front where they can be seen.

Mr. WATKINS. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, tell me what good it ever did him or any other good wet to look at a whiskey bottle in a store window.

Mr. McGINNIS. The secret of American success, Mr. President, is advertising—put your goods out front.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I desire to make a brief statement.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from Blair may proceed.

Mr. MALLERY. When this Session of the Legislature convened I realized that we were in a serious war and my thought was that we would come here and briefly and shortly do everything that was possible to do to bring the war to a speedy end. My thought, in introducing a bill which I introduced early in the session, was that we would rid ourselves of controversial questions. I introduced a bill with the thought that it would have a tendency to at least promote the war effort. This bill provided for two things.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Chair inquires whether the gentleman from Blair desires to make a statement with regard to this bill?

Mr. MALLERY. This statement is with regard to this bill.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from Blair may proceed.

Mr. MALLERY. The first provision of the bill I introduced was that all places in which liquors are sold would close at twelve o'clock midnight. That bill not only provided that retail establishments and clubs would cease the sale of intoxicating liquors at twelve o'clock, but it had teeth in it which would have prohibited the consumption of liquors after twelve o'clock.

A second provision was that we would not raise this question of local option during the war; places that are now dry would remain dry, and places that are now wet would remain wet.

In view of the fact that I introduced that bill, which I thought would promote the best interests at this particular time, I have remained consistent with at least one of the provisions of that bill. The bill was considered in the Committee on Law and Order and neither the wets nor the dries approved of the bill. I have not ranted about it, but I do not think it is quite fair to attempt to make a political issue out of this question.

These are matters on which we, each one of us, have our individual opinions. My thought was that it would make a real contribution to the winning of the war and I do not think a political issue should be made of it. Nineteenths of the people, who are in the liquor business in my district, approve of twelve o'clock closing. I did not ask them whether they would approve of it when I introduced the bill, but after the bill was introduced, I found out that they approved of it, but the people in the larger cities did not approve of that particular provision in the bill, so that I do not think that anything is to be gained by trying to make a political issue of this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Section 2 This act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-three

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STIEFEL. Several weeks ago, Mr. President, the Senate passed Senate Bill No. 477, which extends jurisdiction in this matter to the Public Utility Commission. That bill passed unanimously and I see no reason now why we are changing our position. Since I voted at that time in the affirmative, I feel I can not vote for this measure, and in addition thereto, I do not see what the Department of Commerce has to do with aviation

The Department of Commerce sprang into existence in the early days of the James Administration; it came as a result of a certain myth, that myth dealing with migration of industries from Pennsylvania. Scientific research established that there is no such thing as migration of industries from any state.

However, the Department of Commerce came into existence and publicized Pennsylvania, and in that respect it did a good job, but I fail to see what the Department of Commerce has to do with aviation. As a matter of fact, until the beginning of this war there was no aviation industry in Pennsylvania and after this war is over aviation will probably make certain favorable strides and the regulation of that belongs to the Public Utility Commission and that is where it should rest. Apparently the Department of Commerce has nothing to do and the purpose of this bill is to give them some work.

I appeal to my colleagues and to all people who believe in symmetrical state government, wherein powers are assigned to the proper jurisdiction, to vote against this measure.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Naturally, Mr. President, I think everyone in this room will vote in favor of this bill, but I would like to call attention of the members of the Senate to some things that will happen, and in doing so I am not levelling any criticism at the gentleman from Warren, Doctor Chapman, or the efficient secretary of the Appropriations Committee, but I think the system by which these figures were arrived at is antiquated and very poor.

In section 1 of this bill you will note that it is proposed to reimburse hospitals at the rate of $3.50 per day instead of $3.00 as it was before. Well, that is not going to help the hospitals financially for the next biennium one iota.

In reading further I do not believe there is any particular attention paid to my district. There are seven hospitals in my district and the appropriations for all of them have been cut.

There is one institution about which I am deeply concerned and that is the Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh, which is almost a shrine to the people of Allegheny County. It has been the recipient in the last few years, I think, of more iron lung benefits than any other hospital to my knowledge. It is a wonderful institution.

In talking before the Committee on Appropriations, they compared the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia with the Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh. The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia I know nothing about, but the rate per day for keeping a patient in the Children's Hospital in Philadelphia was only $5.10, while the cost per patient per day in the Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh was $5.90. They have effected some wonderful cures.

I think every one in the Senate is conversant with the fact that we have found many of our youngsters that have come to the Children's Hospital are victims of heart disease. The Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh has done remarkable work in taking care of this and making these young men and women good strong citizens.

I hate to think of what is going to be said to the Senators from Allegheny County, from both the Democratic and the Republican sides, when we go home and it is known that the appropriation for the Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh has been cut.

I also notice one thing, Mr. President—and the only thing I think which just touches on politics in this appropriation bill—I notice that with regard to two hospitals in Harrisburg, where there are some rather influential men, that their appropriations have been raised.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, in answer to the statement of the distinguished member from Pittsburgh, Senator Barr, that the proposed increase to $3.50 will not help conditions in Pittsburgh, I wish to say that in the case of any hospital which has had its appropriation cut, it is because that hospital has not used its appropriation—they are allocated a certain appropriation but they must earn it. Heretofore they received three dollars a day and the cutting of the appropriation is due to the fact that they have not had enough free days to use the appropriaion which was allocated to them during the past biennium.

During the next biennium for free service cost per day they receive $3.50 per day. That will help them materially. Perhaps the next time the Children's Hospital, or any other hospital in Allegheny County or in any other city or borough in the Commonwealth, will probably have its appropriation increased.

With this increase of fifty cents per day for their hospital, I will say that $3.50 is a distinct advantage to the hospitals of the state.

I also might say, Mr. President, that during the last biennium free service has materially decreased, and that makes a difference, as pay costs are very much more.

I hope I have answered the statements of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

Mr. WOODWARD. As long as I have been a member of this body, when ever the hospital question came up I have felt it my bounden duty to knock the hospitals owned by the state. That is a very unpopular position, and I understand some of my friends do not speak to me on that account.

I simply want to tell a little story. In the county of Luzerne there is a mining city called Nanticoke and they have a state owned hospital that does not have to worry about $3.50 per diem, per capita, they simply get what they want, bring the bill here to Harrisburg and the bill is paid—no worries, plenty of money.

It so happens—with this hospital in Nanticoke—you can drive in a motor ambulance in certainly twenty or twenty-five minutes to the city of Wilkes-Barre, where there is a much bigger hospital, a bigger and better staff, a better kept hospital, and therefore those people who are injured in Nanticoke can be taken to the hospital in the city of Wilkes-Barre.

When it comes to the money end of it, the people of Wilkes-Barre have to go down in their pockets and pay part of the maintenance for the Wilkes-Barre hospital. These state aided hospitals come hereto Harrisburg for money—I am not trying to take the cloak from Cato's shoulder, and I can not say it all in Latin, but I do say with respect to the ten state owned hospitals "Delenda est Carthago."

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated

Mr. FARRELL. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. I desire to know wherein this bill differs from the original bill.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I do not know what the original bill is, but I can tell the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspán, what this bill does.

This is a bill which means a lot to the City of Philadelphia—it is only for cities of the first class. Mr. Parker, head of the Bureau of Sanitation in Philadelphia, says this will be of inestimable help to Philadelphia, as it co-ordinates the housing code and the zoning code in the city of Philadelphia.

This bill was prepared by that office, it has been endorsed by the Mayor and the Director of Public Health, and it is sponsored by various real estate boards as well as the Philadelphia Housing Association.

This is what the bill does, it is a bill that gives the Housing Commission the power to require a certain amount of yard frontage for apartment and tenement houses, which will allow them to build thousands of houses to take care of the war workers. It is endorsed by a man by the name of Bacon and Mr. Bacon is managing director of the Philadelphia Housing Commission. I believe he is a Democrat, but Democrats do have good bills sometimes and this is a good bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. This bill deals with the air space that was previously provided by law, which was fixed and limited so that there shall be sufficient air between houses that are known as row houses. This act originally was passed to preserve the air for people who live in homes. The greatest amount of air between row houses now under this act is 144 square feet, and that is little enough, and what this amendment does is to give authorities in Philadelphia the right to reduce that air space.

This is not a good bill; it is a bill which will enable builders to put more houses on the same lot than they previously could have erected, because they will be able to reduce the amount of open space.

It seems to me, to bring a bill out in the dying hours of this session which may affect the health of the citizens of Philadelphia, with such little explanation as we have heard tonight, is not fair to the people of Philadelphia.

This bill does not help the situation at all, it hurts it, and there has been no explanation on the floor of the Senate to change it. In other words, we have lived under a system now for many years which has enabled builders to erect homes at a profit, and I do not care what housing authorities say, 144 square feet of air space between houses today is little enough and we should not give any one authority to lessen it, and that is what this bill does.

Mr. WOODWARD. The Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, committed a slight error. I sympathize with his position, but 144 square feet has nothing to do with the space between houses, it relates to yard space, as I understand it, 144 square feet.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The 144 square feet is required as a minimum. It deals with side yards or rear yards, but there must be that much air space between buildings, and this amendment will enable the authorities in Philadelphia, upon the application of any builder who has a small piece of ground on which he would build "x" houses under the present law, to permit him to build "x-plus" houses under this amendment, on the same plot of ground, and I think the bill ought to be voted down.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally

HOUSE BILL No. 172, PRINTER'S No. 138 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up at this time House Bill No. 172, Printer's No. 138, on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 172, entitled:

An Act providing that the State of Pennsylvania may enter into a compact with any one or more of the States of Maine New Hampshire Massachusetts Connecticut Rhode Island New York New Jersey Delaware Maryland Virginia North Carolina South Carolina Georgia and Florida and with such other states as may join to promote the better utilization of the fisheries marine shell and anadromous of the Atlantic Seaboard and to create the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission providing for the members of such commission from the State of Pennsylvania providing for the carrying out of said compact and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE BILL No. 133, PRINTER'S No. 480 CALLED UP

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call up at this time House Bill No. 133, Printer's No. 480, on page 15 of today's Second Reading Calendar.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 133, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine, (P. L. 34), entitled "An act authorizing judges of the courts of common pleas and orphans' courts in counties of the third class to employ stenographers, typists and clerks to facilitate the business of the courts, and to provide for the payment of their compensation by the county, and validating former employments and payments therefor."

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. What is the pleasure of the Senate

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that House Bill No. 133, Printer's No. 480, be dropped from the Calendar, on the point of order which I now raise, namely, that the subject of this bill was covered in another bill introduced in this Senate, Senate Bill No. 80, which was twice defeated, and under the decisions of this Senate such a bill may not be acted upon by the Senate again.

MOTION THAT BILL BE DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 133, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 34), entitled "An act authorizing the judges of the courts of common pleas and orphans' courts in counties of the third class to employ stenographers, typists and clerks to facilitate the business of the courts, and to provide for the payment of their compensation by the county, and validating former employments and payments therefor" be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Philadelphia please repeat his statement?

Mr. SHAPIRO. House Bill No. 133, on page 15 of the Calendar, I move that it be dropped from the Calendar on the point of order which I now raise, namely, that Senate Bill No. 80 covering the same subject matter was twice defeated in this Senate.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro?

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, has moved that House Bill No. 133, Printer's No. 480, on second reading, be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I seconded the motion.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Jones.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia point out his authority for his statement?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my authority is contained in rulings 19, 20 and 21, decisions of the Senate, appearing at page 611 of the 1941 edition of the Pennsylvania Manual.

Mr. JONES. They have reference to a Senate bill, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The decisions have reference to House and Senate bills. Ruling 20 refers to a Senate bill and ruling 21 refers to a House bill.

Mr. JONES. That refers, Mr. President, to a Senate bill in the Senate, but there is no authority stating that a bill can not come over from the House.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, perhaps I had better read the decisions to the gentleman from Luzerne. On page 611 of the 1941 edition of the Pennsylvania Manual, covering decisions of the Senate, ruling No. 19 reads: "The president decided that it was not in order to consider a certain bill, as one containing similar provisions has been voted down at the present session of the Senate."

Ruling 20 states: "The President decided that it is not in order to introduce into the Senate from the House of Representatives, or consider a bill which is in substance, in nature, or intent and purpose the same as a Senate bill which has been defeated in the Senate during the present session. An appeal was taken. The Senate sustained the decision."

Ruling 21 reads as follows: "The Senate decided that it was not in order to consider a House bill similar in character to a House bill which had been negatived by the Senate at same session."

Therefore, Mr. President, ruling 21 deals with a bill in the House and ruling 20 deals with a bill in the Senate and the decision was that you can not consider a House bill that covers the same subject matter which was in a Senate bill that was defeated.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, that relates to a motion which has been negatived by the Senate by a constitutional majority. In this case, a majority of the Senate did not vote against that bill, nor, as a matter of fact, did any Republican Senators vote against that bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I suggest to the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Jones, that he make that as his argument to the Chair, who will have to rule on my point of order, which is that this bill should be dropped from the Calendar on the point of order I raised, that House Bill No. 133 covers subject matter contained in a bill which already has been twice defeated in the Senate.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, has moved, seconded by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, that House Bill No. 133 be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I suggest, Mr. President, it was not a motion. If I used the word "motion," I used it improperly, because I raised the point of order that this bill has no place on the Calendar and should be dropped from the Calendar.

I ask the Chair to rule on the point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair can not rule without comparing the two bills. The Chair can not do that at this time and shall have to reserve decision. Meanwhile the Chair suggests that the Senate proceed with its business.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I suggest, Mr. President, that House Bill No. 133 covers the same subject matter as Senate Bill No. 80. I have compared the two bills and they are exactly the same, word for word.

Mr. JONES. My position, Mr. President, is that this bill has never been defeated, it lacked a constitutional majority, but it was never voted down and, therefore, a majority of the Senate has never voted against this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest to the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Jones, that if this bill had had a constitutional majority, it would not have been defeated. It was defeated, because it did not receive a constitutional majority, and, therefore, would have had less than 26 votes.

On page 22 of the Senate History dated May 3, 1943, you will find Senate Bill No. 80 listed at the bottom of the page and you will find that this bill was defeated on April 13 by a vote of 24 to 14; you will find that this bill was reconsidered April 14, that is, the vote, and it was defeated on final passage on April 20, and by comparison the Chair will find both bills to be the same, word for word.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. If the gentleman from Philadelphia is satisfied, House Bill No. 133 could now have second reading and the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, could be considered when the bill is on third reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I submit, Mr. President, that this bill can not be considered by the Senate.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Very well; the Chair will reserve decision.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from McKean will proceed.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Is the Senate of Pennsylvania bound by a decision made by the Chair in a former matter? Is that binding on the Senate of Pennsylvania, because at one time a question was raised and was decided by the Chair; is that binding on subsequent sessions of the Senate of Pennsylvania?

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Chair understands not.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. That is my understanding, Mr. President and that is why I raised the inquiry. While I would dislike to break rules that have been made, still I think the members of the Senate are the people who should decide as to whether or not this shall be done. I dislike as much as anybody to break a tradition or a practice of the Senate of Pennsylvania, but I do not understand that the Senate of Pennsylvania is prohibited from passing this bill because at some time such a decision was made. If it were a constitutional question or a question of law which we have to follow, then we would be bound by it, but I do not understand that a decision having been made by the Chair at some previous time necessarily makes us follow that decision.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Chair so understands, that such a decision is not binding, but it may be persuasive.

Mr. COLEMAN. I would like just to add a word of comment that might be helpful to the Chair in arriving at a decision. I understand that in 1915 a bill was defeated twice in the Senate and the men interested in its passage, had the same bill, with several phrases changed, introduced in the House, and the bill later passed the Senate and reached the desk of the Governor. That was done on the ground that it was not the same bill—there were some changes in the phraseology—but I submit to the Chair that this is a bill that does not lend itself to any change, it is an outright repeal of an existing act, and, accordingly, that same argument could not be used. I further suggest there ought to be some limit to the number of times the same bill can be voted on. By the decision of a former Lieutenant-Governor some years ago, he very wisely set two as the number of times a bill can be reconsidered.

I think the Chair ought to give some serious thought to the very fine precedent set by a former presiding officer in this Senate.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. If there is no objection the Chair will reserve ruling and the Senate will proceed with consideration of bills on second reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 135, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand two hundred five A of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," authorizing temporary increases in compensation of professional employees of

be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion

Mr. COX. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Will the gentleman from Delaware tell me the purpose of having this bill recommitted

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I have been advised by the Chairman of the Committee on Education that there is absolutely no need for this bill. I do not know whether he meant that the subject matter was covered by another bill. Therefore, I yield to the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Homsher.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Will the gentleman from Lancaster tell me his reason for suggesting that House Bill No. 135 be recommitted to the Committee on Education?

Mr. HOMSHER. I was advised by a member of the House Committee on Education and also by a representative from the Department of Education that this bill would not be needed. If there is any question about that in the mind of the gentleman from Allegheny, I would be glad to suggest that the bill go over in order.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, this bill and House Bill No. 816 contain provisions which are extremely important to the various school districts. As I recall, this bill contains a clause which validates payments made previously by the school districts without authority.

I, personally, have studied both bills and I feel that we should make a comparison and then make the proper amendments so that the purpose for which this bill was introduced and which it would serve would be answered.

Therefore, Mr. President, I request that the motion to recommit House Bill 135 be withdrawn and that the bill go over in order until I can confer with the Chairman of the Committee on Education in the House.

Mr. HEYBURN. I have no objection, Mr. President, if that is satisfactory to the Chairman of the Committee on Education. I believe that it is satisfactory.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT HOUSE BILL No. 135 WITHDRAWN

Mr. HEYBURN. Therefore, Mr. President, I withdraw my motion that House Bill No. 135 be recommitted.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion to recommit.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 135, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 281, entitled:

L. 163), entitled "An act legalizing, and making it lawful to build, fences constructed in whole or in part of wire along the public highways, and as division fences," by authorizing the use of barbed wire and electric fences along highways and conferring jurisdiction on the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission with respect to electric fences.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs,

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 408, on second reading, entitled:

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in connection with House Bill No. 448, with which I am very much concerned, I would like the bill to go over in its order because I want to get from the Department of Public Instruction certain information about it as well as the docket of a certain case to substantiate my argument for its passage.

Mr. FARRELL. I have no objection to House Bill No. 408 going over in order, but this is a very important bill and we are close to the deadline for the ending of this session.

Therefore, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. Farrell.

Mr. FARRELL. I would like to ask the Majority Floor Leader if it is intended that there shall be a session of the Legislature on Saturday?

Mr. HEYBURN. Yes, Mr. President, I think that there will be a session on Saturday.

Mr. FARRELL. Then, Mr. President, I have no objection to House Bill No. 408 going over in its order.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 510, entitled:

An Act to amend sections seven hundred thirty-one and seven hundred thirty-three of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" authorizing the courts to issue writs of execution and attachment against the property money and wages of defendants in separation and non-support cases and the attachment of wages in desertion and non-support cases.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 517, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 645), entitled "An act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on or conduct any business under an assumed or fictitious name, style, or designation, unless upon the filing of a certificate to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary; requiring county commissioners at the expense of the county to provide books for the entry of such certificates; fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary; and providing penalties," by requiring notice of intention to file such certificates to be given by limiting the assumed or fictitious names which may be adopted and by advertisement and the filing of proofs of such publication

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HEYBURN offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 3, by striking out lines 10 to 28 inclusive; Amend page 4, by striking out lines 1 to 29 inclusive; Amend page 5, by striking out lines 1 to 19 inclusive; Amend page 5, line 20, by striking out at the beginning, all thereof preceding the word "Before" as follows: "[(c)] (d)"; Insert in lieu thereof the following: "(c)".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WOODRING. There have been some rather extensive amendments offered here, Mr. President, and frankly I can not comprehend them in the form in which they now are. I think I would have no objection, but I would like the bill to go over in its order and it could then be called up tomorrow on second reading and pass third reading and final passage, on Saturday, if there is no objection.

Mr. HEYBURN. I have no objection to that, Mr. President. However, what has happened is that the bill is being put back in its original form. As I understand it, this bill has been amended to such an extent that corporations doing business under fictitious names have been terribly hamstrung and this bill merely puts all fictitious names corporations under the same provisions.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Amend title, page 1, line 14, by striking out after the word "by" the balance of the line as follows: "[Limiting the]"; Amend title, line 15, by striking out the entire line as follows: "[assumed or fictitious names which may be adopted]"; Amend title, page 2, line 1, by striking out the first two words thereof as follows: "[and by]"

They were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 710, on second reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the equalization of salaries for tipstaves in the courts of common pleas, oyer and terminer and general jail delivery, quarter sessions of the peace, county court of Allegheny County and orphans courts, in counties of the second class.

be recommitted to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Will the gentleman from Delaware tell me the reason for House Bill No. 710 being recommitted to the Committee on County Government?

Mr. HEYBURN. By reason of caucus action, Mr. President. I happened to be out of the caucus at the time, but I assume the reason is that this is a salary raiser and the Republican Party is pledged to a program of no salary raises.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, this bill would have the effect of equalizing salaries of tipstaves in the County Court of Allegheny county with the salaries of tipstaves in all other courts, that is, Common Pleas Courts and Orphan's Court in the same county. They do the same work and they should receive the same pay.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEYBURN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Can the gentleman from Delaware, by referring to page 28 of today's Calendar, tell me what the caucus action was on House Bill No. 944?

Mr. HEYBURN. We have not as yet reached page 28 of the Calendar.

Mr. BARR. I submit, Mr. President, that is a salary raiser. I just wonder whether Philadelphia county is different from Allegheny county?

Mr. HEYBURN. I suggest, Mr. President, that the gentleman from Allegheny wait until we reach page 28 of the Calendar and at that time I will be glad to advise him as to what the caucus action was on the bill to which he refers. I do not have this Calendar before me marked.

Mr. BARR. I would like the Senate to be at ease for a moment. Perhaps the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, could tell me who conducts the Republican Caucus?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I am being questioned on a bill not before the Senate, which is something rather new to me; I have never seen that attempted before.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. In the opinion of the Chair the interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny is out of order.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, there seems to be so much confusion among the representatives from Allegheny County that I withdraw my motion that House Bill No. 710 be recommitted to the Committee on County Government.

Mr. THOMAS. I withdraw my seconding of the motion, Mr. President.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 710, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 720, entitled:

An Act requiring certain taxes of the political subdivisions in Counties of the First Class to be stricken from the records; prohibiting such taxes from being included in the computation of the solvent debts of such political subdivisions; providing for the collection thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 722, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and section one of the act, approved the eighth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 782), entitled "An act providing that clerks assisting the register of wills in the collection of inheritance taxes, in counties having a population of less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants, shall be appointed and their compensation fixed by the Auditor General; and prescribing the method of their payment and that of other expenses incident to the collection of said taxes," by providing that the Secretary of Revenue shall appoint and fix the compensation of clerks or other persons assisting the register of wills in the collection of inheritance taxes in all counties and requiring the approval of the Secretary of Revenue to pay the compensation from such taxes go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection?
The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 759, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, (P. L. 944), entitled "An act relating to salaries, compensation, bonds, offices, and supplies of certain county officers, their deputies and clerks, in counties of the sixth class," by fixing the salary of the treasurer.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we are agreeable to it, but I would like to call to the attention of the majority side that this is another salary raiser.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, this is not a salary raiser. The salary now is $4,000 and this bill simply provides that the salary shall not be less than $4,000.

Mr. DENT. It just happened to come to my mind, Mr. President, that House Bill No. 133, known as the Jones bill in the Senate, which the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, wanted to have dropped from the Calendar, and on which the Chair reserved decision—since the policy of your party is not to be in favor of salary raisers, I want to remind you that is very definitely a salary raiser.

Mr. HEYBURN. As I understand that bill, Mr. President, apparently the gentleman from Westmoreland is rather unfamiliar with it. That bill provides, as I understand it, that a judge may make an appointment and the salary be fixed by the County Salary Board. We believe in home rule over here and we have no objection to a county fixing salaries one way or another but a Legislature has no right to raise salaries of local officers.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 768, on second reading, entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, there was some discussion on this bill when it was on second reading, and when certain amendments were rejected. The proposed amendments of course were in the interests of consistency in legislation and consistency in practice. The provisions of the amendments offered, which would have included the State Workmen's Insurance Fund as an agency of the government to be audited were not agreed to, and I find now that since the Auditor General under this bill is to be audited by an independent group of auditors, that the last citadel of bad government practice remains in the State Workmen's Compensation Fund. Mr. Speaker, there is no objection on this side of the House to the bill, except we thought there could have been more kindness in the expression of the bill and the words "affairs" could have been deleted because there is nothing in the administrative code which exactly matches the language of this bill.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I believe in the debate that took place on this bill on second reading at which time amendments were offered on matters of phraseology, that that was the language relative to the other departments as far as the Auditor General is concerned in auditing the affairs of the other departments of the Commonwealth. I just want to make that explanation again, and I, therefore, ask the Members on both sides of the House to vote in favor of the bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 236, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 335) entitled "An act creating a temporary commission to examine report upon and recommend measures to improve the economic cultural health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the State and making an appropriation of the expenses of such commission" by extending the term of such commission until the next regular session of the General Assembly and making an appropriation

Section 1 The existence of the temporary State commission created under the provisions of the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 335) entitled "An act creating a temporary commission to examine report upon and recommend measures to improve the economic cultural health and living conditions of the urban colored population of the State and making an appropriation of the expenses of such commission" and the powers and duties granted such commission which were extended by the act approved the sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (P. L. 860) are hereby further extended until the next regular session of the General Assembly

Section 2 The sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated from any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated payable on requisition of the chairman of such commission on the warrant and audit of the Auditor General

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the Democratic members of the House are of course wholeheartedly in favor of the enactment of this bill, and we hope it will be speedily signed by the Governor so that the Commission can continue with its fine work.

The only comment, gentlemen, that I would like to make at this time is that it is a pity that the work this Commission has been doing, and the fine reports it has been making, no Legislature since its inception has seen fit to enact into law any of the recommendations or findings of this Commission.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 613, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 452), entitled as amended "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, improve, equip, furnish, and operate projects, and to lease the same, and to fix and collect fees, rentals, and charges for the use thereof; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority, and providing for the payment of such bonds, and the rights of the holders thereof; and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency; and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant, assign, convey, or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein, and to acquire lands therefor; granting the right of eminent domain; and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act," empowering the General State Authority to lease any project constructed by it to any person, copartnership, association or corporation, for certain uses.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the majority floor leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, turning to page 5 of the bill, the amendment reads as follows: "and with the approval of the Governor to lease any such project to any person copartnership association or corporation for the use in the manufacture of any war material or any article intended for use by the armed forces of the United States or any of its allied nations."

I presume, Mr. Lichtenwalter, this a duration measure?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Then, Mr. Speaker, may I ask whether or not we might not agree now to withhold action on this bill to insert amendments to say that it is for the duration, because as I interpret the amendment as just read, manufacture of war material or material intended for use by the armed forces, that could of course be true even after the war is over.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I have no objection, but while we are on this bill, I might say that one of the buildings at Huntingdon, that is not in use at the present time because of the labor situation there, I believe it is a type of building that is vital to industry, and they would like to lease it for the duration of the war. We need this legislation in order to carry that out.

Mr. COHEN. May I ask would the gentleman agree to pass the bill over until an amendment can be inserted making it a war measure?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 26, as follows:

An Act providing for the payment of moneys to school districts of the fourth class the taxes of which have been reduced by the acquisition of certain lands and property by the Commonwealth

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In all cases where the Commonwealth has at any time since the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and eight acquired any lands or property within the limits of any school district of the fourth class for use in connection with any educational welfare or penal institution and the amount of property within the school district taxable for school purposes has thereby been reduced and no provision has heretofore been made for reimbursing the school district either in whole or in part for the loss of such revenue the board of school directors of any such school district shall immediately after the effective date of this act certify to the Auditor General and the Department of Public Instruction the assessed valuation of such lands and property at the time of such acquisition

Section 2 After the effective date of this act the board of school directors shall from year to year at the time of its annual levy of taxes for school purpose certify to the Auditor General and Department of Public Instruction the rate of its levy for the next school year Thereupon the Department of Public Instruction shall ascertain the amount of taxes which would have been collected upon the assessed valuation certified as hereinbefore provided at the rate of the levy so certified Upon the ascertainment of such amount the same shall be paid by the Commonwealth from time to time from the general fund

payments by the Commonwealth to school districts in addition to all other payments now provided for by law and shall not be construed to repeal or in anywise effect any other law making such provision

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 524, as follows:

An Act to amend sections four hundred twenty-six and four hundred twenty-seven of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 566) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for occupational disease contracted by an employee arising out of and in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry the Workmen's Compensation Board Workmen's Compensation Referees and deans of medical schools creating a medical board to determine controverted medical issues establishing an Occupational Disease Fund in custody of the State Workmen's Insurance Board imposing upon the Commonwealth a part of the compensation payable for certain occupational diseases making an appropriation and prescribing penalties" conferring exclusive jurisdiction on the county court of Allegheny County in cases of appeals from the Workmen's Compensation Board

Section 1 Sections four hundred twenty-six and four hundred twenty-seven of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 566) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for occupational disease contracted by an employee arising out of and in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry the Workmen's Compensation Board Workmen's Compensation Referees and deans of medical schools creating a medical board to determine controverted medical issues establishing an Occupational Disease Fund in custody of the State Workmen's Insurance Board imposing upon the Commonwealth a part of the compensation payable for certain occupational diseases making an appropriation and prescribing penalties" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 426 The board upon petition of any party and upon cause shown at any time before the court of common pleas of any county of this Commonwealth other than Allegheny County and in Allegheny County before the county court of Allegheny County to which an appeal has been taken under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-seven of this article shall have taken final action thereon may grant a rehearing of any petition upon which the board has made an award or disallowance of compensation or other order or ruling or upon which the board has sustained or reversed any action of a referee but such rehearing shall not be granted more than one year after the board has made such award disallowance or order or ruling or has sustained or reversed any action of the referee If the board shall grant a rehearing of any petition from the board's action on which an appeal has been taken to and is pending in the court of common pleas [of any county of this Commonwealth] or in the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-seven of this article the board shall file in such court a certified copy of its order granting such rehearing and it shall thereupon be the duty of such court to cause the record of the case to be remitted to the board Provided however That nothing contained in this section shall limit or restrict the right of the board or a referee designated by the board to review modify set aside reinstate suspend or terminate an original or supplemental agreement or an award in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred thirteen of this article

Section 427 Any party may appeal from any action of the board on matters of law to the court of common pleas of the county in which the employee was last employed prior to his disability or death or of the county in which the adverse party resides or has a permanent place of business or by agreement of the parties to the court of common pleas of any other county of this Commonwealth Provided That no such appeal shall be taken to the court of common pleas of Allegheny County but in Allegheny County all such appeals shall be taken to the county court of Allegheny County which shall have exclusive jurisdiction of such appeals Such appeal must in all cases be brought within twenty days after notice of the action of the board has been served upon such party unless any court of common pleas or the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be to which an appeal lies shall upon cause shown extend the time herein provided for taking the appeal The party taking the appeal shall at the time of taking the appeal serve upon the adverse party a written notice thereof setting forth the date of the appeal and the court in which the same is filed and shall file either with his notice of appeal or within thirty days thereafter such exceptions to the action of the board as he may desire to take and shall specify the findings of fact if any of the board or of the referee sustained by the board which he alleges to be unsupported by sufficient competent evidence

Upon filing of the notice of an appeal the prothonotary of the court of common pleas or the clerk of the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be to which the appeal has been taken shall issue a writ of certiorari directed to the board commanding it within ten days after service thereof to certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken. The writ so issued shall be mailed by the prothonotary or the clerk of the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be to the department at Harrisburg together with a copy of the exceptions. The board shall within ten days after such service certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken including the notes of testimony.

Any court before which an appeal is pending from any action of the board may remit the record to the board for more specific findings of fact if the findings of the board or referee or of the medical board are not in its opinion sufficient to enable it to decide the question of law raised by the appeal.

If the court of common pleas [of any county of this Commonwealth] or the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be shall affirm an award or order of the board or of a referee sustained by the board fixing the compensation payable under this act the court shall enter judgment for the total amount stated by the award or order to be payable whether then due and accrued or payable in future instalments if such court shall sustain the appellant's exceptions to a finding or findings of fact and reverse the action of the board founded thereon the court shall remit the record to the board for further hearing and determination in which the procedure shall be the same as that hereinbefore provided in this article in the case of a petition presented to the board except that the testimony taken in the original proceedings shall be considered as though taken in such further hearing.

The prothonotary of any court of common pleas or the clerk of the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be to which an appeal has been taken from the board shall send to the board a certificate of the judgment of the court as soon as rendered with a copy of any opinion which may be filed in the case and within five days shall give notice of such judgment and the date thereof by registered mail to each attorney at law appearing in the case at the address given by the attorney in the pleadings and if no attorney at law has appeared by registered mail to the party or parties not represented by counsel. At the end of the period hereinafter allowed for an appeal from the judgment of the court the record of the board shall be remitted to it by the prothonotary or the clerk of the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be unless an appeal shall have been taken to the Superior Court as hereinafter provided. If such appeal shall be taken the record shall be remitted to the board by the prothonotary or the clerk of the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be on its return from the appellate court.

Any party may appeal to the Superior Court from the judgment of the court of common pleas or the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be within thirty days after entry of said judgment irrespective of the amount involved. Such appeal shall be taken and prosecuted in the same manner and form and with the same effect as is provided in other cases of appeal to the Superior Court and the record so certified shall contain all that was before the court of common pleas or the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be. Any appeal from the action of the board to a court of common pleas or the county court of Allegheny County as the case may be and from it to the Superior Court shall take precedence over all other civil actions. The judgment of the Superior Court shall be final unless an appeal therefrom is allowed as in the case of other judgments of that court.

Upon the rendition of any judgment in the county court of Allegheny County hereunder the party to whom such judgment is awarded shall be entitled to file in the office of the prothonotary of Allegheny County a transcript from the docket of the county court showing the judgment so rendered which judgment shall be entered upon the judgment index of such county in the same manner and with like effect as in the case of other judgments rendered by the county court of Allegheny County.

It is the intention of this act that all appeals from the Workmen's Compensation Board heretofore triable in the court of common pleas of Allegheny County shall hereafter be exclusively triable in the county court of Allegheny County regardless of the amount of money involved in the appeal.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have somebody explain Senate Bill No. 524, Printer's No. 294.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there a Member in the House who can explain Senate Bill No. 524, Printer's No. 294?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, we recently passed four bills in the House and sent them to the Senate for concurrence, which would transfer from the Common Pleas Court in Allegheny County to the County Court of Allegheny County the right to hear appeals on Liquor Control cases and Workmen's Compensation cases. Those bills were jointly sponsored by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mihm, and myself. We had neglected, however, to put in a companion bill to permit the County Court to hear appeals on occupational disease cases. As the deadline for introducing bills is March 15, the bill could not be introduced in the House and we had gone over to the Senate and have Senator Walker introduce a bill in the Senate, which the Senate passed unanimously, and it is now before the House. It only provides that the County Court of Allegheny County can hear appeals in Workmen's Compensation cases involving occupational diseases. I believe that is correct.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny is correct, and I would ask the Members on this side of the House to vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1112, Printer's No. 727, was passed over at the request of Mr. CHUDOFF.

An Act to amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. a motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer operated for the carriage of passengers for hire a load of twenty-five (25) per centum in excess of the registered seating capacity or for any person to cause or permit any such operation. Provided however That a child under the age of six years shall not be counted as a person when computing load on any such vehicle. And provided further That nothing contained in this subsection shall make unlawful the transportation of a load of more than twenty-five (25%) per centum in excess of the registered seating capacity when such load is carried by a vehicle for not more than ten consecutive miles.

The provisions of this subsection are suspended and rendered ineffective for the duration of the war and a period of six (6) months thereafter.

Section 2 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been kicking around on the calendar for several weeks, and I think it ought to be kicked off. I cannot feel the least bit of charity towards a bill of this sort, because it is dealing with the safety of passengers and travellers in motor vehicles operated for hire on the highways of Pennsylvania, and the bill is being introduced for the purpose of increasing the profits of bus companies under the guise of being a war measure.

Several weeks ago we acted on a bill to help the transportation companies with respect to vehicles on the highways, and if it is a question of getting more vehicles out, then I suppose we ought to go along, but what this bill seeks to do is to suspend certain safety provisions of the law with respect to the overloading of motor vehicles or buses. I cannot believe that any member of the House, even under the plea that this is a war measure in order to get more workers transported to war industries by overloading buses using the highways can justify a vote in favor of the bill. It can be very well said that having a twenty-five per cent overload it may be just as safe as fifty per cent, but, Mr. Speaker, there seems to be no limit to overloading of buses. I suggest that possibly during the summer when the roads are all right and the day is right that possibly the accident rate may be low, but in wintertime when the roads are slippery and driving is hazardous we are going to permit people to be packed in like sardines, and in case of accident there will be great loss of life among persons using these vehicles. I think we should be very careful and hold a red light against all bills of this sort which would tend to eliminate the protection of people using these buses, and which would tend toward the indiscriminate use of overloaded buses for the transportation of the very people whom it is supposed to help. I would ask all Members of the House to vote this bill down in the interests of those persons who must be protected against those who care for nothing but the profit they can make out of their transportation.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, after all what we are trying to do is to speed the war effort.

Mr. COHEN. We all ought to do that.

Mr. TROUT. One thing more is that we want to make provision to take our people to the defense plants.

Mr. COHEN. I agree with the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TROUT. The owners of the bus are responsible for any accident, damage or loss of life.

Mr. COHEN. I agree with the gentleman, because I think they carry adequate insurance, but, Mr. Speaker, in further answer may I say that war industries want men that can work and not men in bed counting the damages they can collect from the insurance companies.

Mr. TROUT. I wonder, Mr. Speaker, how the gentleman can differentiate between the effort to bring the war to a close and bringing people to their places of employment and then hesitate on the question of loading passengers where the operator is solely responsible.

Mr. COHEN. I tried, Mr. Speaker, to give an answer to that. We both agree that we want to speed the war effort, but the gentleman will have to agree that if we are to speed the war effort we should get our workers transported to the plants safely.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, what method he suggests we are the use to take war workers to their plants.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I would say that if the facilities for taking the war workers to the defense plants requires that nonessential civilian transportation be curtailed, then I am in favor of curtailing nonessential civilian transportation and the marshaling of all this transportation for war workers in the defense plants.

Mr. TROUT. The gentleman from Philadelphia knows that additional transportation facilities are not available.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that of course I do not know. But I do know this, that there is talk generally that the office of defense transportation has in mind the rationing of all types of travel in order to insure to the armed forces a sufficient supply of materials, to expedite the transportation of men and goods in the war effort, and I presume that includes war workers.

Mr. TROUT. I do not believe that is available at this time, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. I do not know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TROUT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I do not think any of these bus companies are particularly anxious to incur additional hazards. They realize that they have a function to perform. People want to get to their work and under the present law the bus companies are limited in what they can transport. The gentleman knows it is for the duration, and I think as a war measure we should give them the opportunity of carrying a reasonable number of people to their work. I ask the House to vote for this bill.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, I believe that you Members are aware that the folks back home would like to get up at a half decent time and not an hour or two ahead of time to get to work. I hope you will think this bill over, because if it goes into effect they can gang in any way they want to. I believe Ma Perkins, Secretary of Labor, said just a short time ago a lot of absenteeism is caused due to lack of transportation, the length of time the buses are required to take them back and forth to work. Just as soon as the buses are capable of jamming them in there you will find that your "A" certificates will go down less than one and a half because you don't need them. They will feel that the transportation may be able to take care of that job of getting them back and forth, and that is what is holding up the transportation and war effort now. I believe by voting against this particular bill you are going to save the "A" tickets and you are going to get people to the plants. You are going to get them there in better shape, you are going to let them lie in bed a half hour later in the morning and you'll get them to the work in the style that they want to get there. I ask you to vote against this bill.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 85, entitled:

A Joint Resolution making application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting the imposition of conditions upon grants of moneys and the invasion of the states rights

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I do not arise in total opposition to the bill, but I do request some information concerning the bill we are now about to pass. I should like to interrogate someone here in the House who would be willing to offer his services to explain some provisions of this bill.

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, it will be a pleasure to offer what limited service I have to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I then interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, reading the title of this joint resolution it says:

"Making application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting the imposition of conditions upon grants of money and the invasion of the states rights."

I take it, therefore, that the purpose of this joint resolution is to protect the invasion of states rights, is that correct?

Mr. HARE. That is one of the provisions of the bill, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. On page 2, beginning with the word "Congress" section 1, line 11, the bill reads:

". . . Congress shall not pass any law conditioning any grant of public money upon the passage of state laws."

Does not that provision of the bill distinctly contradict the title of the bill, in that the title of the bill prevents the invasion of states rights, and yet the body of the bill asks Congress to pass an amendment which would prevent the state from passing laws? It is hard for me to reconcile this inconsistency.

Mr. HARE. Is the gentleman asking me whether I think so, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. BROWN. I am asking whether the gentleman can reconcile that inconsistency.

Mr. HARE. Yes, I have reconciled that inconsistency, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I should be very happy to hear the gentleman's explanation on that particular point only, and the reason I ask is that I believe this bill should be amended, and there are things that I think should be stricken from it. The only question I ask the gentleman is, if the purpose of this resolution is to prevent the invasion of states rights how then in the body of the bill can you carry a paragraph which asks Congress to pass a Constitutional amendment preventing the state from passing laws?

Mr. HARE. That is the very purpose of passing the joint resolution, Mr. Speaker, to prevent the imposition of conditions as to the purpose for which the grants of money will be used.

Mr. BROWN. Doesn't the bill also say, Mr. Speaker,—and I am reading it as I understand it:

".....Congress shall not pass any law conditioning any grant of public money upon the passage of state laws."

In other words if we pass laws those laws would be absolutely null and void because we have a Constitutional amendment prohibiting us to pass such laws.

Mr. HARE. That depends on the construction you put on it. To my mind this is saying that the Federal government shall not pass laws and then come in here and say to the state "you cannot participate unless you too pass a bill which we ask you now to pass, which may or may not be vital to your best interests."

Mr. BROWN. Does not the amendment then, Mr. Speaker, prevent the state from passing those laws also?

Mr. HARE. Not in my opinion. Of course I am not a constitutional authority.

Mr. BROWN. Then maybe I should ask the gentleman to yield to somebody who is an authority, because this resolution says:

".....Congress shall not pass any law conditioning any grant of public money upon the passage of state laws."

In other words our state laws are rendered, under this amendment, absolutely ineffective, and therefore, we are asking the Congress to call a Constitutional Convention to keep us from passing laws. It seems to me that this title should be amended.

As I understand it, this is a pretty long question, but it is the only way I can ask it, and the gentleman will please excuse me if it is too long. As I understand, we have acts in Pennsylvania now creating the Turnpike Commission, creating the General State Authority, creating the National Guards, creating the Unemployment Compensation Commission, creating the aid to dependent children, regulating the use of Federal funds for highways, allowing people of political subdivisions to take advantage of the housing fund and also laws wherein we can get contributions with the help of the United States government. As I understand this amendment, we would be prevented from passing these laws, as all laws are conditioned upon receiving grants of money, and as I understand the state cannot receive any money until it passes laws by which that money can be received. Now, wouldn't this amendment prevent us from passing these laws if these laws had anything to do with the receipt of money from the Federal government?

Mr. HARE. Not in my opinion, Mr. Speaker. If the Federal Government makes outright grants to the state we are asking under the interpretation of this act that they make that grant without so-called Federal strings attached to it.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am in accord with that, but I do not think we ought to have in this amendment anything that has to do with the passage of laws by the state of Pennsylvania. Doesn't the gentleman feel that an amendment to this joint resolution to clear it up would be preferable?

Mr. HARE. Possibly the gentleman will notice that they have deleted that section "matching such grants or parts thereof" from this bill, and this bill of course calls for a convention proposing an amendment. That is why they used the general term "state laws" rather than the "Commonwealth."

Mr. BROWN. Another question, where in the Constitution is there any provision for Congress to invade the rights of states? Where in the Constitution is there any provision for Congress to pass a law that is an invasion of states' rights or that might invade the rights of the states?

Mr. HARE. That is our contention. According to our contention they have been doing it unconstitutionally through bureaucratic control.

Mr. BROWN. The gentleman says they have been doing it unconstitutionally. Does the gentleman have any opinion of any appellate court which says that Congress does that?

Mr. HARE. I said in our opinion, Mr. Speaker. As we see it, this is a matter of the peoples' voice. In other words popular opinion asking for it.

Mr. BROWN. I am not against the gentleman in his opinion, Mr. Speaker, and I think he is entitled to his opinion, and I will fight for his opinion, but I think the title of the act is wholly misleading. Congress has no powers now except those powers expressly given to it under the Constitution, and there is no reason for us to pass an act which will make us a laughing stock in that we are asking for a Constitutional Convention to propose an amendment that will keep Congress from invading the rights of the state.

Would the gentleman agree to pass this bill over until we can talk with the sponsor? I feel the language is ambiguous and we should clear the matter up.

Mr. HARE. I will agree to passing it over, Mr. Speaker, temporarily, possibly for the next forty-five minutes.

Mr. BROWN. I do not object to the time limit, Mr. Speaker. If we can see the sponsor I will be glad to go now. I am through with my interrogation, Mr. Speaker.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HARE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JAMES asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, sometime between sun-up yesterday morning and sun-up this morning, there was perpetrated upon this House a violation of what I believe to be our legislative prerogative. There was an unwarranted interference with the proper deliberation of a committee of this House which amounted to a travesty, in my opinion, upon the alleged independence of one of the three great divisions of our state constitutional government.

I refer to Senate Bill No. 473 and the manner in which it was brought into this House and hustled out of here without opportunity for proper study. I do not intend to debate the bill at this time. I will only say that it was one of the most complicated bills that we have had before us: a bill with far-reaching implications. I find this morning, Mr. Speaker, that somebody, somewhere this day or yesterday, within the massive walls of this Capitol; somebody won a great victory over this bill. I find a headline in a Philadelphia newspaper this morning which says "Martin battles McClure's gang and whips them."

I don't want to believe that the Governor of this Commonwealth set out with a weapon known as Senate Bill No. 473 to do battle with some people who might be called McClure's gang, and if there is such an organization or body of warriors that can be dubbed McClure's gang, I feel certain that they did not make Senate Bill No. 473 a battleground. This article in this Philadelphia paper seems to reflect all that happened here yesterday with respect to this particular piece of legislation with uncanny accuracy. I am going to read it because I think it is the type of thing that we should have out in the open, and not under the table. This is date-lined Harrisburg and it reads as follows:

Governor Martin tonight at long last cracked the whip over the Legislature.

Asserting his leadership for the first time, he fought and licked the John J. McClure gang.

Forces Revival

Martin forced the House Committee on Public Utilities to revive the Becker-Dent municipal authority regulatory bill after a unanimous vote against it earlier in the day.

The bill, designed to prevent repetitions of the notorious Delaware County water scandal, provides that the Public Utility Commission must approve the purchasing price of water companies and other utilities acquired by municipal authorities.

Although approved by the Senate, the bill met vigorous House opposition.

Turner Lobbies

Principal lobbyist against it was former Speaker Ellwood Jackson Turner, a McClure henchman. The committee to which it was referred is headed by Representative Thomas Stockham, lieutenant of former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy and a close friend of Turner. The bill was then referred to a sub-committee headed by Representative Benjamin F. James, another McClure follower.

Just to take no chances, some Democratic members of the committee were lined up by the opposition.

The committee met to consider the bill. Not a vote was cast in favor of it.

Things Happen

Then things happened.

1. The Governor sent for House leaders, members of the committee and also leaders of the GOP high command. It is reported he threatened to blast all concerned if the bill was not reconsidered.

2. House Democrats planned to keep their party's skirts clean by repudiating the committee's action.

But the Governor got in the first punch.

Members Sheepish

When the House reconvened, it was announced there would be a meeting of the Committee on Public Utilities.

Sheepishly, members paraded to a conference room in the rear. They were there for about 15 minutes.

The bill was reported out, 14 to 8, on motion of Representative Anthony J. Petrosky, Westmoreland Democrat.

Now, gentlemen, I say that this legislative branch of our constitutional government has indeed come to a sorry pass when things can happen in either of its two divisions; that can bring forth before the public an item headed "Martin battles McClure's gang and whips them."

I have had the privilege of knowing former Senator McClure for upwards of thirty years. It has never been my privilege to know him well as knowledge of acquaintances go in this busy world. I have seen him at intervals of perhaps six months, and there have been intervals when I haven't seen him for six years. I suppose that I have been against former Senator McClure, politically, perhaps as often as I have been with him. However, I am not here on this floor to say that the so-called McClure gang, or former Senator McClure, has an unholy interest in this or any other bill. I am here to say to you that I do not believe that up to this day and hour John J. McClure knows that there is such a bill as Senate Bill No. 473, and if he does know it, I don't believe he cares anything about what is in it.

I need not say to you that I have heard, in times past, the name of John J. McClure, along with the names of other men, dragged across the floor of this House in what was designed to be some form of shame, but I will say to you that there is one thing that I do know about former Senator McClure, and that is, he never practices self-evasion of mind. If he were to make an agreement to hold a committee meeting, for example, or not to hold a meeting, that agreement would be kept. You can depend on his word; that is not only my statement, but the opinion of those who know him.

So far as Governor Martin is concerned, I hold him in sufficiently high respect to publicly express my belief that he did not make Senate Bill No. 473 a weapon of war on something that has been called the McClure gang. I believe this bill was put before the Senate for what its sponsors believed was an honest purpose.

I believe that they designed it in a way that they believed would correct certain evils that have come upon the people of several communities in this State in the past, but I sincerely believe that they were mistaken in the way that they attempted, under this bill, to provide for the correction of those evils. It was with the idea of seriously and honestly and studiously analyzing Senate Bill 473 that it was placed in sub-committee of which I happened to be the permanent Chairman.

I got that bill at eleven o'clock on one morning, as the Chairman of the sub-committee, and I went into session in this House and I worked in this House—if you call it work here—until past one o'clock the following morning. I took the bill down to my hotel and worked on it until I couldn't hold my eyes open any further in a real endeavor to bring a report to the committee which would be an honest report, and one we in turn could uphold in debate on the floor of this House.

I am not going any further with a discussion as to why or how or for what purpose, but the bill was finally railroaded out of Committee and onto the floor of this House over my protests. All that is history now and everybody knows what has happened. I am going to skip from the time the bill appeared here to the point where I objected to its being given first reading immediately by unanimous consent.

I am going to justify honesty. My objection was not made in spite; it was not made in hate; it was made because I believe that if this bill is read for the first time today, in order, some of us who are interested in those municipal authorities in our counties—which are set up and operated by the duly elected representatives of the people from among their friends and neighbors—can have the time between the first and second reading to provide amendments to this bill, amendments which in our judgment will protect the public as effectively as the Public Utility Commission would do it, but through the principle of local government and through the offices of the local courts. We want to have such amendments considered by this House. We have gained a day by my objection, although that is very very little time to continue study of the bill and to prepare amendments. We hope that by the time the bill comes on the calendar for second reading we can accomplish the work. When our amendments are offered, so far as I am concerned, they will be offered in the name of over 250,000 decent people who live in Delaware County and who elected me to this body to represent them; who expect me to understand such bills as come before this body that may affect their interests, before I vote on them.

In stopping immediate consideration of newly introduced bills this morning, my purpose was to bring to a head a situation that has existed here for twenty-four hours and which should be stopped. It has been monkey business. I am not a monkey and I don't want to play with monkeys. I will object to no further procedures which will facilitate the quick adjournment of this House. But my people want—and I intend—that the things I do here and the things that I say here shall have meaning.

Mr. COHEN. Did I understand, Mr. Speaker, that the Chair announced that this bill has been read three times? My calendar says, "Bills on Second Reading."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That error was corrected earlier in the day. It is a printer's error.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, much was said on the floor a short time ago about certain information reaching certain persons, and that oftentimes such information is misconstrued to a great extent. In this instance, Mr. Speaker, I hold no brief for the battle of the McClure gang. I only wish to clarify the record in regard to certain articles which appeared in the newspaper.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SARGE. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. SARGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, if he will yield half a minute.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking on the question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield on his question of personal privilege?

Mr. PETROSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET
DURING SESSION

Mr. SARGE asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. PETROSKY. To resume, Mr. Speaker, may I say that there certainly was no whip cracked over my head. This statement goes on to say that the Members of the Committee were called into the Governor's office, I venture to say, for myself that I was not called into the Governor's office and to the best of my knowledge no other Member on the Democratic side of the House who was a member of this committee was called into the Governor's office on this matter.

I further wish to say, that references were made relative to the meeting earlier in the day yesterday, and certain statements about information being divulged out of committee regarding a vote not being cast against the measure. I must say that possibly I was lax in my duties in not attending that committee meeting, but due to certain circumstances I was unable to be there.

I further say that when the articles go on to state that "sheepishly the members of the committee paraded to the conference room," I certainly did not observe that feeling amongst the membership of the committee. I feel that the membership of the committee went into their business and acted in accord with their conscience, and certainly did their job as it should have been done. I see no reason for any statement being made that we on this side of the House wanted to keep our skirts clean in regard to Senate Bill No. 473.

In upholding the merits of the legislation I say that it has far reaching effect; it is not too complicated and it has at stake the survival of the interests of the rate payers of the Commonwealth under our municipal authorities.

I further wish to state, Mr. Speaker, that certainly some day some person is going to get a bum steer on what went on in the committee and it is going to stand to reason that they are going to be wrong entirely in making certain statements to the public. I certainly don't know from what source the party received information in making certain statements in the newspaper. These statements were made; perhaps they are wrong, perhaps they are right, but the selfishness of those who have received these statements marks well the category in which they belong, in receiving information that should not be divulged from committee.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 554, as follows:
